STRIKERS QUIET IN COPPER ZONE WITH SOLDIERS ON DUTY

Federation sent a request to all companies that within a week they would set a date for a conference. One company refused to acknowledge that such a letter had been received. The others merely placed them on file, but vouchsafed no reply. There was nothing for the men to do except strike, and I believe the companies were considerably surprised by the extent of the movement. A union's strength is not always measured by the number of its active members.

At the Baltic location a body of strikers clashed with deputies, removing their signs and ordering them away. The mine management considered calling for troops when one of the officers was beaten, but the disturbance ended quickly and the union men marched away to other mines on the south range.

Two thousand strikers of the Keeweenaw mines adjacent to the Calumet district are marching to Calumet. They are G. Ahmed, Alouk, Wolverine and Centennial mines. They don't appear to be in any real mood.

of the day before, contending themselves with compelling nonunion workers to quit and tearing the badges off of some deputy sheriffs. The troops that arrived today were stationed about the shops and shafts of the Calumet and Hecla company in this city and several streets were roped off with wire cables and sentries with fixed bayonets paced back of those obstructions. It was indicated that no attempt would be made to break up the organized demonstrations of the miners until after a sufficient force was at hand to protect the entire district. An illustration of the difficulties of the situation was found in the fact that today's outbreak on the south range was approximately thirty miles from the Calumet armory.

C. E. Mahoney, vice president of the Western Federation of Miners, arrived today and inspected the entire district. He held a meeting this afternoon with J. C. Lowrey, Yameo Terlich and Guy E. Miller, members of the executive board of the federation. Mahoney came from the Atlantic City conference of the American Federation of Labor, and it was reported he brought assurance of support from the national organization.

HENRY LANE WILSON WOULD RECOGNIZE THE HUERTA REGIME

who would be interested in American control of Mexico," was his comment. "Mr. Wilson said he expected to go back to Mexico as American ambassador. "I have received no intimation from Washington that I am to be dismissed," he declared. "I expect to be retained, as I see no reason why I should not. I stand pat today on everything I have done."

Although a regular cabinet meeting was scheduled for today, none was held because most of the cabinet members are out of the city. Those who have remained called on the president individually. Later, after his second and longer conference with President Wilson, Secretary Bryan announced that he hoped to confer prior to another conference with the senate foreign relations committee. Mr. Bryan said it had not been determined whether the president would confer with the ambassador tomorrow or Monday.

PROMINENT MEN ARE WORRIED Thousands Travel to Pella to Enjoy Good Roads Picnic—Speaking and Athletic Events Are on the Day's Program.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, July 25.—(Special Telegram.)—After two days of sensational evidence Police Judge Utterback today fined Mrs. Maurice Lynch $100 on conviction for running a disorderly house. The case was one of more than usual importance because of the certainty that prominent men of the city and state will be brought into the state case, which yet remains to be tried against her.

Good Roads Picnic

The largest picnic gathering of years in the interest of roads was held today at Pella. One hundred automobiles left Des Moines early today to attend the meeting and there were delegations from along the White Way as far as Atlantic and east to Oskaloosa. Hundreds of auto enthusiasts participated and boosted for improvement of the road between the two rivers. There was a short program of speaking and some athletic events.

Change in Revenue Offices

All Iowa is much interested in the report from Washington that the two Iowa revenue districts have been consolidated and that one district will do the work. The office will probably be located in Des Moines. The two offices have been in Burlington and Dubuque, located there years ago by reason of the influence of the senators who live in these cities. The new office will collect about a million and a quarter of revenue a year. President Wilson had named Louis Murphy of Dubuque to be collector, but had been in a great quandary as to who to name for the other district, and this consolidation relieves him of great embarrassment.

What is a Village?

The executive council will be called on to decide what is a village in Iowa. The Boone Suburban Railway company, which runs out into the country to some mining camps, has been assessed as an interurban, but claims this is not right because it does not run to any city, town or village, which makes the distinction between an interurban and a city street railway. The claim is made that none of the places to which the Boone line runs rises to the dignity of being a village. The value has been locally assessed as it is claimed.

Attorneys Think They Won

Attorneys for the state in the state fair reduced rate case returned from Council Bluffs much pleased with the turn of the case and feel that they have won their contention. The railroad attorneys rested the case solely on the alleged discrimination in the rates proposed and that the state having fixed maximum rates could not amend the law to make exceptions to those rates. The fact that the federal court took the matter under advisement is taken to indicate that the seriousness and importance of the case is fully recognized.

Bankers' Boycott Pleas

Bankers in one county of Iowa tried to put a crimp in the new law requiring payment of interest on school money by all mutually agreeing they would not pay the interest. Frank D. Joseph, deputy state superintendent, was appealed to by school officers of the county and he promptly made arrangements with a county officials a detailed report on the financial expenditures of the county superintendent's office under Mrs. Jennie Steele Huegel, former superintendent. The report completely exonerates her and finds that she is not indebted to the county in any amount, despite that the county has brought suit to collect a large sum from her.

He had been deputy under Clerk John Crockett and when he resigned became clerk, but later was beaten for the nomination. Colonel Bouquet was a native of Amsterdam, 73 years old, was a soldier in the Thirty-third Iowa and lived in Pella. He was clerk of courts in Marion county at one time and had been a prosperous merchant.
