by the Huerta government. Charge Algora of the embassy here so informed Secretary Bryan today. It was said Mr. Bryan expressed gratification at the prompt action the Huerta government had given to American representations in the case as well as that of Dixon, the immigration inspector, shot at Juarez. McDonald is an Englishman. Bissell's chauffeur, an American, has also been captured by General Orozco while attempting to take American refugees out of Parral.

E. C. Bryan on Way to Chihuahua.
EL PASO, Tex., July 29.—Edwin C. Bryan, a secret agent of the United States government, left El Paso today for Chihuahua City, Mex., bearing code messages for United States Consul Marion Letcher at Chihuahua. He also carried some private mail for Mr. Letcher and some communications from Consul T. D. Edwards in Juarez. The trip by automobile is expected to require two days. The code messages for Consul Letcher are supposed to refer to Bissell and McDonald, Americans held in prison by the Mexican generals in Chihuahua.

Move Toward Juarez Not Confirmed.
Fort Bliss officials had received up to noon no confirmation of the report that Francisco Villa has broken camp at Ascension and begun to move his rebel army in closer to Juarez. This report reached here last night.

General Francisco Castro, commanding the Juarez garrison, received an official report from Chihuahua this morning that Pascual Orozco, with federal irregular troops, had been started west from Chihuahua repairing the Mexican Northwestern railroad to Madera so that the Americans in the lumber town can be taken to the state capital.

Yankton License Case in Court.
YANKTON, S. D., July 29.—(Special.)—The case of Robert J. Gordon, for the dry element, against the city of Yankton, defendant in a saloon election contest, was before Judge R. B. Tripp on Monday for argument and is now under advisement, with an opinion expected in a day or two that will either make the town dry or permit six saloons, now running, to continue in business.

KAHN ROASTS M'REYNOLDS

Republicans Win Fight for Discussion of Caminetti Case.

WILSON APPLIES WHITEWASH

Telegram Shows that Attorney General Ordered the Case Held Up Before Secretary Wilson Made Request.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The republican filibuster, after paralyzing business in the house more than a week, accomplished its purpose today when the democrats decided to allow five hours' discussion of the Diggs-Caminetti-McNab-McReynolds embroglio.

The democrats brought in a report from the judiciary committee on resolutions by Representative Kahn of California calling for a telegram from the attorney general May 16, directing McNab to take no affirmative action in the Diggs-Caminetti white slave cases until after receiving further advice from the attorney general.

The committee report set forth that the attorney general had supplied a telegram which read as follows: McNab, United States District Attorney, San Francisco, Cal: Please write me fully concerning charges against Caminetti and Diggs and take no affirmative action in response of same until you receive advice from me. Answer. (Signed) McREYNOLDS, Attorney General.

Accompanying the telegram was a memorandum showing it was sent by the attorney general personally on the evening of May 16.

Five Hours' Debate.

Presenting the papers the judiciary committee recommended that the Kahn resolution be tabled since its purpose had been accomplished. On that report Chairman Clayton arranged for five hours' debate to allow Representative Kahn and other time to discuss all circumstances of the Caminetti case.

Representative Kahn pointed out that a telegram holding up the trials was sent more than a month before Secretary Wilson asked the attorney general for delay. "Why was this telegram sent from his hotel?" he demanded. "Did someone watch the attorney general at his home and try to exert insidious political pull in having the cases postponed?"

Wilson Applies White Wash.
"It was evidently necessary to white wash the action of the attorney general," said Kahn, discussing President Wilson's action in the case. "Why the president saw fit to censure McNab and at the same time adopt his policy of proceeding promptly with the cases passes all comprehension. If McNab did right in insisting on the early trial of these cases, and both the president and the attorney general now adopt his views and insist that the cases must be tried promptly and at an early date—why should McNab have been censured? If insidious political pull was being successfully used to cause the attorney general to order a postponement of the cases, why should the censure not have fallen on the shoulders of the attorney general?"

"Instead of having been blamed and condemned, McNab should have been commended by the president of the United States. If the president had called on him to withdraw his resignation and proceed with the trial of these cases, he would have made himself infinitely stronger with his countrymen." "It has long been believed by the masses that there is one kind of law for the rich and the politically powerful in this country, and another kind of law for the poor and weak. The action of the department in the Diggs-Caminetti cases and the Western Fuel company cases would seem to stamp these charges as true."

McNab Does Real Service.
"McNab did the country a signal service when he refused to be a party to a program that would have given verbi-mitage to the statement that Diggs, Caminetti and the Western Fuel company directors, being rich or politically powerful could secure delay and thus possibly defeat justice."

Representative McKellar of Tennessee, one of the democrats who steadfastly opposed discussion of the case, characterized Representative Kahn's speech as a "political harangue" and declared that "every member is disappointed by the failure of the gentleman from California to produce that exposure which we all expected." The house was wasting time spending five hours discussing an "inconsequential" matter of petty politics," he declared.

Representative Dies of Texas called Representative Kahn to account for engaging in a "small, infinitesimal piece of muckraking."

"It is bad enough," said he, "when we open our committee rooms to a cheap skates like Mulhall, but now the gentleman from California wants to turn over the halls of congress and the columns of the daily press to a little scandal war out in California."

Progressive Leader Murdock, assailed the conduct of Attorney General McReynolds in the Western Fuel company case, as did Representative Kelly of Pennsylvania.

Denial by McReynolds.
Attorney General McReynolds today issued a denial of published reports that he has construed the Mann white slave act in such manner that the Diggs-Caminetti cases might not be brought to trial or that he had instructed United States attorneys to confine the enforcement of the law to cases of commercialized vice.

"These statements are wholly incorrect," said the attorney general. He had, he said, placed no construction on the law which would interfere with prosecution of the Diggs-Caminetti cases get for trial August 5.

Bryan's Carriage is Nearly Run Down by Street Car and Bus

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Secretary Bryan today faced a problem even more complicated and subtle than the Japanese and Mexican questions when he discovered the quarry sought by accident insurance solicitors as the result of two narrow escapes from disaster yesterday. Driving to the Department of State the secretary's carriage was narrowly missed by a street car and a moment later a heavy electric bus came close to ramming it amidship. In both cases the escape was narrow.

The carriage was turning into Pennsylvania avenue when the car, rounding a corner, started full speed ahead. A crossing policeman saw the danger of a collision.

"Hey, you," he called to the motorman. "Stop that car, quick." The motorman clapped on the air brakes, halting the car within a few inches of the hind wheels of the vehicle. Mr. Bryan's driver whipped up the horses only to get directly in the path of an electric bus, which also stopped so suddenly that the passengers were tossed about.

Throughout the experience the secretary's well known smile did not fall him. His placidity was in striking contrast to the agitation of the driver and the nervous prostration from which the policeman, motorman and bus driver seemed to be suffering.

House Refuses to Look Into Charge Made by McAdoo

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Investigation of Secretary McAdoo's charges that New York bankers have organized a campaign to depress the price of government 3 percent bonds demanded in a statement issued today by Representative Henry, aide to the so-called insurgent democrats on the house banking committee.

Chairman Glass, however, declared the committee had its hands full considering the administration currency bill and did not propose to be diverted. He and other members of the committee, however, made it plain that they shared the secretary's opinion as to the reason for the depression.

"The secretary of the treasury should be summoned before the committee on banking and currency and reveal the facts to the American people as their agent," said Henry's statement, "and the head of every great bank in New York should be sent for at the earliest possible moment, placed on the stand before the committee and grilled most thoroughly in order that the American people may know the exact facts about this controversy."

The secretary can and doubtless will demonstrate exactly how these gentlemen manipulate the market, put up and down prices of United States bonds and control the financial destinies of the American people.

ALLEGED HORSE THIEF CAPTURED AT VICTOR

GRINNEL, Ia., July 29.—Special Telegram.—A man, known here as Pickerson, alleged to be one of the gang of horse thieves arrested at Victor this morning and brought here. He put up a stiff fight and was somewhat bruised before he was subdued. Three hundred dollars was sewed into his clothing.

Eleven Suits Over School Office.
IOWA CITY, Ia., July 29.—(Special.)—What will probably prove a basis for the twelfth suit over the directorship of school district No. 4, West Lucas township, Johnson county, took place yesterday morning when Louis Ruppenkamp forced his way into the schoolhouse and started a term of school. Nine pupils were in attendance. B. F. Cheney, a rival claimant of the office of sub-director, has the keys and says he will prosecute Ruppenkamp for breaking and entering. A neighborhood feud has existed for years, and the strife over the office of sub-director of the school has already caused eleven suits. One of these is now pending in the district court here.

Baby Crushed to Death.
POLLOCK, R. D., July 29.—(Special.)—When a buggy in which Mrs. Willis Cranston of Pollock and her infant child were seated turned a sharp corner, it was overturned, throwing Mrs. Cranston and the baby to the ground. The child's head struck a sharp rock, crushing its skull and causing instant death.

VIII. Our Home Rule Charter—Sinking Fund

What is in it—what is not in it—what it means.

One of the weak spots in Omaha's city government up to this time has been the lack of a sinking fund, the fund going by that name being really an interest fund, and never in recent years, at least, adequate to current interest demands sure to be made upon it.

The new charter not only provides an interest fund equal to requirements, but also creates a new and separate sinking fund to be devoted to the redemption of maturing bonded debt. Omaha in the past has occasionally redeemed and cancelled bonded obligations, but no systematic accumulations have been made to take up her bonds, and the consequence has been serious impairment of the city's credit in the money markets, and loss of thousands upon thousands of dollars in the lower prices received for our bonds, and the higher interest rates paid upon them.

The new sinking fund is to be made up of a tax levy, starting with not to exceed $50,000 a year, into which is also to be covered all the premiums and accrued interest received on bonds sold, interest on sinking fund, investments and on current city deposits, unexpended balances in other funds and all the back tax collections and miscellaneous receipts, except the portion whose use is permitted to make up the shortage of current year tax collections. The fund may be used only for redeeming or buying interest bearing municipal obligations.

It would be rash to venture a prediction as to what amount of bonds would be accumulated in the sinking fund within any period of time, but it is safe to say that the fund could not fall soon to become of substantial dimensions and prove to be an asset of tremendous value to the city.

MULHALL SAYS CLARK, MANN AND GOMPERS WERE OFFERED STORY

"whole cloth—not a word of truth in it," declared Mr. Underwood. "There never was a question but Wilson's selection as head of that committee solely because of his capacity and qualifications. It is clear to me this man was down here writing these things to his people, trying to make out that he was doing great things. He never had any conference with me. That statement in his letter can be disproved by every member of the house ways and means committee. I am sure I never met this man. He has a face I could not forget."

"There is nothing here that reflects on me," continued Mr. Underwood. "But I want it set right before the country."

Mulhall stands fast. Mulhall reiterated he had talked with Underwood briefly in the corridor and had written to his employers "about conditions just as I found them in Washington at that time."

"I have no desire to contradict Mr. Underwood," he said, "but I am convinced that after he has heard my other witness and this examination has been ended, he will take back part of what he has said."

"The statements you made in your letters were not true and can be proved not true by other members of the ways and means committee," retorted Mr. Underwood, "therefore, it was very evident I did not make them to you."

"I will stand as clean before the country as you will," returned Mulhall heatedly.

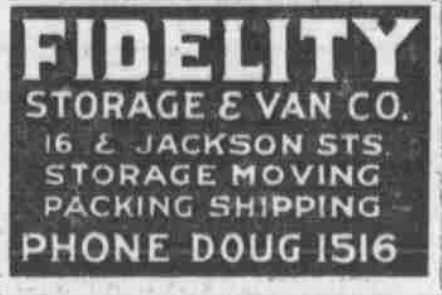

"Oh, I have no question about how we will stand relatively before the public," replied Underwood with a laugh and left the committee room.

The incident created a flurry that had not wholly subsided when the committee settled down to the further identification of letters.

Road Association Meets.
ATLANTIC, Ia., July 29.—(Special.)—The newly organized North Star Road association will meet in this city on Wednesday for the purpose of electing a president of the association to take the place of the late J. A. McWald, whose recent death left the office vacant. They will also attend to some other matters in connection with the association, chief of which will be renaming the highway, which is to run from the Missouri river to the north Iowa lakes.

TUXEDO MAKES WONDERFUL HIT WITH PIPE SMOKERS

Publicly commended by well known Omaha business and professional men, athletes, orators and singers.

In every section of the country and every walk of life, smokers are praising Tuxedo as the most wonderful tobacco ever produced.

It is made of the very highest grade of choice mellow sweet Kentucky Burley leaf—treated by the original "Tuxedo Process," which removes the sting so that it cannot bite your tongue—granulated so that it smokes freely and uniformly—packed 40 pipefuls to the 10c tin.

Nebraska men have been quick to discover the comfort and pleasure in smoking Tuxedo and hundreds have heartily endorsed it, including many of your neighbors in Omaha.

Mr. Fred Brodegaard, Omaha's well known jeweler, member of the Commercial Club, and one of the city's best known business men, shares very strongly the prevailing opinion in Omaha that Tuxedo is by far the most satisfactory pipe tobacco made. The carefully considered endorsement Mr. Brodegaard gives Tuxedo will carry conviction throughout Nebraska.

Mr. Brodegaard says:
"I find Tuxedo and a pipe a distinct aid to thought. There isn't any after effect in the shape of tongue-bite and its mild, pleasant fragrance is beyond question a soothing influence. I regard Tuxedo as part of the office equipment and indispensable in moments of relaxation."

MR. FRED BRODEGAARD,
Prominent Jeweler and Member of the Commercial Club, of OMAHA.
