Prices on Board of Trade. reserves would be much over the average had a good deal to do today with der ressing the wheat market. The close was at 140 be to be a help to prices. Corn finished 1-166 be and provisions unchanged to 557 be up. Wheat was pressed on the selling side nearly all day by the hear leaders, who were expecting that the federal estimate of farm reserves would exhibit a comforting surplus. It was not until almost the end of the session that evening up for the week-end offset to some extent the heaviness in the pit and made the tone relatively firm.

Cables, however, weather and crops all favored the hears. In addition, the hope of renewed call for truns-Atlantic shipments turned out to have no good busts and there were prediction that the largest acreage in hustory would soon to planted in the northwest. The soil throughout the entire spring wheat region was said to be in the best condition ever known at this time of the year.

In corn, as in wheat, hearish guesses went wrong by overestimates of the government total on farm reserves. Besides, cash buyers were out of the market on account of railroad tracks and elevators here being giutted with corn, as a result of the continued failure of any material improvement in some demands. Reservations of oats turned out to be much heavier than looked for. As was the case in regard to other grain, however, the official figures were not available in time to be an influence. Accordingly, prices for oats were dominated by the action of corn.
