By MELLIFICIA. Thursday, March 12, 1914.

ALL psychologists assert the inherent tendency of the human race is to imitate others, this is the reason for unity of actions. Otherwise this world would be a peculiar place to exist. And that law of the human mind is responsible for a very humorous excursion made by three Columbian school girls, all daughters of prominent business men of this city, into the downtown district.

These little ladies, upon dismissal from school, instantly went downtown, and when they arrived in the congested district walked importantly into the first jewelry store they came across. Marching up to the counter, they inquired of the beaming and polite clerk who advanced to ask their wishes for some pearl rings. The clerk was a bit surprised that these girls, all apparently under 12 years of age, should be interested in pearl jewelry. So he asked why they wished to see pearls. The answer came in a second, "We want to buy one." The clerk then placed a tray of pearls on view and watched with smiling eyes the eagerness displayed by the lassies as they examined carefully each pearl. After they had seen them all they informed the clerk that his stock was very incomplete and majestically walked out.

Another clerk standing by the doorway watched the girls leave the store and he stepped outside as they stopped in front of the doorway. "We had better start to walk home," spoke up one young lady and, as the others assented, the trio commenced the journey westward for home.

Subsequent investigation on the part of the proprietor of the store uncovered the information that not one of the girls had a cent on her person, and the reason for the excursion was the mother of one of them. Mother was accustomed to make shopping tours, and one time her daughter accompanied her when she failed to make a single purchase. Daughter figured that she could follow mother's example because the psychological law of imitation provides that whatever mother does daughter may do.

FRECKLES

February and March Worst Months For This Trouble—How to Remove Easily

There's a reason why nearly everybody has freckles in February and March, but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled. Simply get an ounce of oblique, double strength, from Beaton & Laier Co. and apply a little of it night and morning, and in a few days you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed now they may stay all summer, and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money's worth if you take this advertisement.

WOMAN TO RUN A POOL HALL

City Commissioners Grant License to Mrs. Anna H. Sauer.

WOMEN MAY BETTER BUSINESS

That is Attitude of Council, Though Withnell Insists that Business is Not Fit for a Woman to Conduct.

Should a woman be granted permission to run a pool hall?

"No, sir," says City Commissioner C. H. Withnell, with considerable emphasis.

"Certainly," asserts City Commissioner Dan R. Butler. "We ought to have more women pool hall proprietors. They would improve the business."

Taking Butler's point of view, the city commission granted Mrs. Anna H. Sauer a permit to run a pool hall at 25 South Thirtieth street. This is the first woman granted a license to operate a pool hall in the city.

"It isn't a woman's business," said Commissioner Withnell, who cast the only negative vote on the application for a license.

Mayor Dahman suggested that Withnell visit the pool hall, "get into the game" and see if everything was run properly. It was the mayor's opinion that if a man started something in a woman's pool hall he would "soon find out who was boss."

Kelley's Army Made Up of Young Men

B. H. Cramer was an east-bound passenger on Union Pacific No. 4 yesterday morning, coming from Sacramento, Cal., where he resides, speaking of Kelley's army there, he said:

"This army, or rather body of men who hate work like the devil hates holy water, is made up of some 1,000 young fellows who went to the Pacific coast looking for easy jobs and soft snaps. Most of them could get work if they would try, but of the majority of them should meet jobs as they walk along the streets, they would turn and run the other way. There are some honorable laboring men among them, but the proportion is very small."

"As a body, I don't think the men will ever get this far east. When I left home the so-called army was breaking up into small squads and scattering in all directions. Very few of them have money and unless they can steal rides on trains, which will be difficult to do, I don't see how they are going to get very far east. It looks as though we would have to keep most of them in California. If they stay, though, they will have to go to work, as the towns and counties will not feed them a great while."

Mrs. Paul Given Release on Bond

Mrs. Nellie Halsey Paul, indicted for blackmail by the grand jury Tuesday, appeared before Judge English on Wednesday evening, and filed a bond of $500 for appearance in district court. The surety bond is signed by Clyde M. Drew and was approved by the court.

A search for Mrs. Paul on Wednesday by officers failed to disclose her whereabouts. Through her attorney she offered to come in and give bond, and the amount was agreed upon before she appeared in court.

Clarence Raley, Mrs. Paul's son, and four other young men indicted on charges of immoral practices, were brought into court by the sheriff and gave surety bonds of $500 each to secure their release.

In the future, as in the past, the immigration, or homecoming bureau, will be under the direction of the passenger department and will work in conjunction with the same.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. H. H. Morehouse, has returned from St. Paul, Minn., where she was called by the illness and death of her mother, Mrs. Lorenza Roth.

Miss Leah Kavle of the Kismet company was the guest of Miss Goldie Alpin, Mr. Joseph Brodkey and Mr. Arthur Rosenblum at dinner at the Royal hotel Tuesday evening. This was followed by a theater party at the Brandeis, additions to the company being Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wolf, Miss Bess Mosky and Mr. Henry Mosky. After the performance the party went to the Henshaw for supper.

Kugel Finds that Several Druggists Hold No Licenses

What can the city commission do with a druggist who sells poisons without a permit?

"Nothing," says Police Commissioner A. C. Kugel.

At the meeting of the city commission Kugel said he had found certain druggists completely ignoring the local liquor traffic regulations and when he attempted to suspend their permits he found they had no permits.

Commissioner Kugel probably will leave the matter to the courts, as prosecutions are brought against the druggists. These druggists have a government license.

Kugel suspended the licenses of six druggists for selling liquor. Under the law these druggists must be given a hearing and the council will call them together Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and hear them explain why the suspensions should not be made permanent.

Seumas MacManus Speaks Here Friday

Seumas MacManus, the noted Irish author and story-teller, will arrive in Omaha this morning to deliver two addresses at the University club. At noon he will address the business men at luncheon. At 4 o'clock he will appear under the auspices of the Omaha Story-Tellers' league and give readings from his poems and tales. As he is the writer whose "Donagals" stories are so popular much local interest is manifest in his coming and the sale of tickets for the afternoon lecture has been large.

WATCHMAN IN POLICE COURT FOR SLEEPING DURING FIRE

Joe Hosen, night watchman in the junk yards at Fourteenth and Clark streets, who was rescued from a fire which broke out there Wednesday evening while he was sleeping off the effects of too much spirits, was discharged when arraigned in police court for being drunk.

The fire was a difficult one for the department to handle, necessitating the laying of several hundred feet of hose across the railroad tracks, and a constant lookout to keep switch engines from running over it. A steamer went into a ditch at Fourteenth and Nicholas streets while hurrying to the blaze, adding to the troubles of the evening.

$10,000 Added to the $20,000 for the New Fine Arts Home

An additional $10,000 to the $20,000 announced Wednesday was pledged for the new art home, at a meeting of the Fine Arts society held yesterday morning at the Young Men's Christian association. Of the entire sum pledged, but $5,000 is conditional on raising the sum of $5,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Crittenden Smith were out in the morning soliciting funds. Mr. Smith being treasurer and Mrs. Smith president of the Fine Arts society. Each member of the organization was asked to make known their subscription without being solicited and various names were assigned to each worker for the solicitation of funds.

A committee was appointed to revise the constitution in accordance with the proposed changes in conditions for membership. Pamphlets stating the purpose and plans for the campaign will be distributed at the First Presbyterian church luncheon Friday noon. A meeting of the campaign committee is called for Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock in room 215 Young Men's Christian association building.

Mary Garden Makes First Appearance After Her Illness

Miss Mary Garden, the prima donna soprano of the Chicago Grand Opera company, made her first appearance, since her illness of the last two weeks, Wednesday at Los Angeles, in "Le Jongleur de Notre Dame." Though the annual season was opened the night before by Titta Rufa in "Rigoletto," the house was as brilliant, enthusiastic and appreciative as any first night audience.

Miss Garden, supported by Hector Dufrance, Edmond Warnery, Gustave Huberdeau and others, will sing in "Thais" at the Auditorium on April 11. This is generally conceded to be the greatest of her many roles. Mr. O. T. Eastman, the treasurer of the local grand opera committee, who is receiving the mail orders for the local engagement, reports that the orders are coming in rapidly and in a very satisfactory manner.

Voted Forty Years, but Not This Time

"No, I didn't vote in the election at all," said Jake Reiner, head of the press room of the World-Record. "You see, I am one of the disfranchised. I have voted here right along for forty years, but under this new-fangled law, I am ruled out because I cannot show my father's naturalization."

NO SUCCESSOR TO BE NAMED TO D. CLEM DEEVER

The announcement is made by the Burlington that the position of immigration agent, held by D. Clem Deever for some eight years and up to the time of his death a few weeks ago, is not to be filled, for the present, at least.

S. B. Howard, who was Mr. Deever's assistant during all of the latter's incumbency, it is announced, will be continued and has been given the title of assistant immigration agent, with the right to sign his name as such. S. F. Fee is continued as an agent of the department.

In the future, as in the past, the immigration, or homecoming bureau, will be under the direction of the passenger department and will work in conjunction with the same.
