AN OMAHA young woman, who was at home at the time of the tornado last Easter, recently was in New York, and felt the earthquake there.

"They were vastly different experiences," she says, speaking of the earthquakes of a few weeks ago. "Several of us were sitting in a large living room in the home of the friend I was visiting, when suddenly everything began to rock, but very gently, and not at all startling. First I thought I was dizzy, and then I decided that the great St. Bernard dog lying beside my chair was rubbing against the chair. Finally, I jumped up, and so did everyone else in the room, each saying, 'Did your chair rock?' and then other members of the family came in quite panicky and said there had been an earthquake."

"Look out of the window and see if the houses are down," said the Omaha girl, who had been through a tornado experience. They looked out of the window and everything was as before.

"Well, if that is all an earthquake is, you ought to see a tornado: an earthquake isn't anything at all in comparison."

CONTRACTORS ARE SUED FOR HEAVY DAMAGES.

The Selden-Breck Construction company of St. Louis, which built the Woodmen of the World building and now has the contract for erection of the new Fontenelle hotel, has been made defendant in a damage suit for $25,250 in United States district court. John H. Fricke, a laborer 23 years of age, is plaintiff, and alleges that he was permanently disabled as the result of injuries sustained when a bust on the Woodmen building gave way June 23, 1912. J. C. Kinler, attorney for Fricke, has filed claim of an attorney's lien on one-third of whatever judgment is allowed his client in the case.

SENATOR HITCHCOCK HOME

Says There is No Longer Friction Over Appointments.

BUT ONE RECOMMENDATION

No Other Names Are to Be Presented Before the Nomination of Chris Gruenther Has Been Acted Upon.

Office seekers surrounded Senator G. M. Hitchcock's downtown office yesterday even before the senator came down from his home. He arrived in the city this morning and did not go to the office until about 11 o'clock. There are still a great many in Omaha who are growing more and more restless because the terms of the republican incumbents of a number of federal jobs in Omaha are long expired and democrats have not yet been appointed to fill the berths. They want to know why a democrat is not today holding the jobs of internal revenue collector for Nebraska, United States marshal for Nebraska, United States district attorney for Nebraska and several other places that look good to hungry eyes.

Senator Hitchcock says he has made no recommendations for appointment to the larger federal offices of Nebraska except that of Chris Gruenther of Columbus for collector of internal revenue for Nebraska, and further says that he does not intend to make any further recommendations until the appointment to this collectorship is adjusted.

Asked about the federal patronage situation in Nebraska he said, "I think any differences that have been at Washington have been exaggerated and that all will be adjusted in due time."

"So far as the collectorship is concerned, my recommendation of Mr. Gruenther has been made and it is my impression that the matter is before the president now. How soon he will get to it I cannot say, for he is very much pressed with big affairs."

Concerning his reported "love feast" with Mr. Bryan at Washington, the senator said: "I have always been ready to take Mr. Bryan's wishes into account. We have had several talks over the subject and the matter has been before the president several times. I think it will all come out right."

When asked, however, if he would attend the Bryan birthday dinner at Lincoln this evening, he said: "No, I expect during the little time I am here to be engaged with private business."

Pioneer is Found Dead by His Wife

Frank Wend, a resident of Omaha for more than thirty years, fell out of bed and died at his home at 244 South Twentieth avenue about 5 yesterday morning. His wife, who is nearly 60 years old, was unable to reach him before he died. She is a very feeble and finding herself unable to lift her husband's body from its position on the floor, dressed and went downtown after an undertaker.

Neighbors were suspicious of her departure at that hour of the morning and called the police, who investigated the case. While they were at the home, Mr. Wend returned with Leo Hoffman, undertaker, who took charge of the body. Mr. Wend was 65 years old and had been suffering from dropsy and asthma for the last nine months.

Former Omaha Man Dies in Colorado

Malty J. DeGraf, who resided in Omaha for many years, died at Silt, Colo., on March 16, where he has lived since leaving this city in 1909. Mr. and Mrs. DeGraf were members of St. Mary's Avenue Congregational church and have many friends here. The body will be brought to Omaha for burial and funeral services will be held from Burket & Leslie's chapel Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

PRISONER RUNS AWAY FROM CHANCE TO WORK

H. C. Wead of Buffalo, N. Y., was arrested Wednesday evening, when he rushed into the police station out of breath and hatless and refused to give an account of himself. It seems that Wead had been stopping at the Council Bluffs police headquarters as a lodger and when an order for laborers was sent that station for work on a railroad wreck he left the station on the jump. He wears a Turkish costume and plays the cornet, clarinet, saxophone and Turkish drum. Adjutant H. G.

Indian Policeman Learns How to Box

"Me wanna hit 'um no more with club; me wanna hit 'um with fist, much big punch," says Standing Elk, a Winnebago policeman from Pender, Neb., who is in Omaha for a few days, taking boxing lessons.

He is receiving some glove instruction from Paul Murray, 2921 Parker street, who is himself partly Indian. Standing Elk weighs over 250 pounds, and has the figure of a hog-soup kettle, so he is having no easy time of acquiring the scientific knowledge of how to punch and parry, without getting all out of breath. He says he thinks boxing is a good thing for a reservation policeman to know.

Why?

YOU KNOW the stores named below. You know they are leaders.

You know they have reputations for clean and carefully selected stocks of merchandise.

Why do these leading stores handle Mme. Isebell's toilet preparations? Because chemical analysis and test prove them to be composed of high grade ingredients and to be chemically pure.

Because for nearly half a century these preparations have been used by the most popular stage favorites and by the world's famous beauties everywhere.

Because they give perfect satisfaction, and when once tried are always asked for again and again.

Not "Bleached"!

The Department of Agriculture at Washington has been defeated in its efforts to prevent the bleaching of white flour with chemicals. This is a defeat for the people as well as the Department of Agriculture. The controversy over "bleached flour" does not disturb the household that knows

Shredded Wheat

It contains all the body-building nutriment in the whole wheat grain, is not "bleached," nor "treated," nor "compounded" with anything; contains no yeast, baking powder or chemicals of any kind. Its purity, cleanliness and food value stand unchallenged, being endorsed by the highest health and dietetic authorities.

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with hot milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work. Deliciously nourishing when eaten in combination with baked apples, stewed prunes, sliced bananas or canned or preserved fruits. Try toasted Triacuit, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon with butter, cheese or marmalade.

Made only by The Shredded Wheat Company, Niagara Falls, N. Y.
