Friday, March 20, 1914.

HE was a beautifully-gowned woman and walked with the air of one who knew she had one of the first spring hats, as well as one of the most attractive ones. She entered one of the larger banks about noon, when there were quite a number of customers. For reason nearly everyone watches a society woman when she enters any place of business, for it is the only time the loses her poise and door not know exactly what to do.

Evidently she was looking around to see which "cage" in the bank to which to go, when suddenly she dropped her beautifully jeweleg rold mesh bag onto the tile floor. There was a decided crash. At first this was supposed to be the breaking of the tiny mirror in the bag, but not at all; the precious object in the bag which had broken was a large fresh org

She was not feeling well and had not caten any luncheon and was enroute to a bridge party, so as a precaution against faintness and fatigue she decided to take a fresh egg, and take it just before starting the game Some of the people in the bank wondered if she were going to place it in the safety vault as the cartoonists have been advising.

Complimentary to Mrs. Thomas Alien. Mrs. Jack Beaton entertained informally Gould, William Vaughn; Misses Ruth Slabaugh, Alice Troxell, Gertrude Branch.

GATE CITY A TYPICAL EXAMPLE

Anthor's Idea for Solution of Evils of Tension of City Life is Movement of Population to Undeveloped West.

Panoramic views of Omaha, together with special views of its high school and other prominent buildings, are to be in cluded in a sweeping pictoral view of the great we t and its opportunities, to be shown as a part of a play being written by David B, Gally and Benjamin Chapin, both of New York City. Gally is in Omaha taking his pictures. He took his ramers on the roof of the Wodmen of the World building, where he obtained some of the panorama views. He is gathering pictures of the principal buildings

The play is entitled "Slaves of Today and What Would Lincoln Do," Gally is the author and Chapin is to play the leading part. Mr. Gally says the play probably will be ready for production in two months and, may be staged in Omaba shortly after that

Mr. Gally goes from here to Akron, Colo. He expects to spend a few weeks more taking pictures throughout the west with a view to showing the possibilities of the west and the promise they hold out to the multitudes of unemployed in the

The play, as Mr. Gally describes it, deals with slavery of today as he conceives it-the slavery of men to their pas sions and vices. He hopes to picture the unemployed of the congested cities of the east, the vices into which these have fallen, the liquor craze and the tango fad that have fastened themselves upon all classes in the high tension life of the ongested cities. The plot of the play begins with the civil war and Abraham Lincoln. The principal character is a discharged soldier of the civil war, who later becomes a noted public man and discovers the solution to social problems This simple school frock is made of black serge or broadcloth. ## for Wrecked Church

Saturday, March 28, carnations will be old on the streets and delivered in homes for the benefit of Plymouth Congregational church. This congregation lost its building at Twentieth and Spencer streets in the tornado of last Easter Sunday and has been working ever since to secure funds for rebuilding. It is expected that "Carnation day" will give such a boost to the reconstruction fund that building operations can begin at once.

Mrs. J. C. Burkhart, who made such a success of carnation day last year, is in charge of this campaign, She says, "I consider the rebuilding of this church that suffered the heaviest damage in the tornado to be the best work that the city can do in completing its task of reconstruction

Mrs. Burkhart has ordered 12,000 carnucall for next Saturday, It is expected that 500 dozen will be ordered for delivery in the homes, Mrs. A. C. Malum, 2301 Pratt streets, secretary of Yomarco guild, is receiving telephone orders.

MAGAZINE SOLICITOR TRIMS OVER 2,000 VICTIMS

A letter from the Periodical Circulating company of Minneapolis to County Commissioner Best explains why many Omahans who assisted a young man who called himself R. A. Ford to secure a college education by paying 50 cents for magazine subscriptions failed to receive any return for their money. Ford has been convicted in Chicago of fraudulently pretending to be the agent of the subscription company and more than 2,000 persons were defrauded by him in cities in the middle west. Ford "worked" the court house and the business and residence sections of tions and has additional supplies within Omaha and secured many victims here. If a prospective customer declined to pay 50 cents for one magazine he added others until the bargain became irreestible. He represented himself to be a tudent working his way through college

ANEIGHBORLYVISIT

We were very glad to receive a visit from the Royal Neighborsfitting name for a lot of intelligent and kindly women. Among them were many of our old friends and regular patrons, and it was a genuine pleasure for us to hear: "You never have to APOLOGIZE for being seen in KILPATRICK'S."

A nice compliment, for we ourselves have heard people apologize and make all kind of excuses for being seen in certain establishments. COME AGAIN, LADIES! You have doubtless noticed recently a number of very tall statements anent "Wonderful Purchases!" "Remarkable Values!" "Unmatchable Opportunities!" "Never Before-Never Again!" etc. How long! Oh, how long! will intelligent people be attracted by such rot?

THOMAS KILPATRICK & COMPANY have now a very complete stock of well selected merchandise. Catering to a discriminating trade and enjoying a very satisfactory business places us in a position to get as good merchandise as is made. Our trade connections are of long standing, and with the best and most honorable manufacturers. Past Performance is the best guarantee of Future Promise. Read the list of Saturday Specials:

IMPORTANT SALE OF HAND. KERCHIEFS-Window has been filled with samples of a happy purchase made from two or three prominent importers recently. About 900 dozens, all told. All linen, hand embroidered initialsfancy embroidered. Hand and machine made, in all linen and Shamrock. 15c each, and not one of this lot worth less than 25 cents.

Of equal importance in point of and loss of spirit-it is regrettable value-a lot of all linen and Shamrock, with fancy embroidery-Handkerchiefs worth, every one of them, 15 cents each; yours on Saturday at 9c each.

We would prefer not to sell more than one dozen of each kind to a customer.

Last Saturday's performance at the Glove Counter repeated on this Saturday. No, this is neither vaudeville nor tango. Ours is a business establishment, for business only: This reference is to a Glove sale, similar to what we placed on sale one week ago. Most colors, all sizes. 69c per pair instead of $1.00 per pair. Pardon us if we say there should be No Hesitation.

SECOND FLOOR. "STYLE ALL THE WHILE"

SUIT SALE-Starts 8 a. m.

Assorted materials-Gabardines, Granite Crepe, Serge, etc. All popular shades. Jacket made with kimona sleeve; half belt effect, moire collar and cuffs. Lined with fine Peau de Cygne. Silk in fiber as well as name; tunic skirt. Yes, they are real beauties and wonderful values at $19.50.

Story of last week repeated on coats-the balance of our good sized purchase has arrived, and so, once more on Saturday, another lot of nobby coats in the new colors, at $17.50 each.

You will remember our previous reference to a delightful conversation with a real Corset Expert. Here is a statement made by her which society women will appreciate-we quote "Society women know full well that to lace tightly before a large dinner means eating with pain | retail at $2.50, on sale at $1.48 that the theater discomfort which holds its victims frequently for hours is due entirely to eating when laced too tightly. That corset which envelopes the hips thoroughly and works in connection with a bust, confiner of proper make, is usually ideal from the point of hygiene and beauty." Sounds as if she knew, don't it!

Telephone Miss Coleman, Douglas 51, arrange for fitting, then buy your suit or gown.

New models in Madame Irene, La Camille and Modart Lace Fronts. Modart, all makes, confined to our store. Elastic, Tricot and Silk Batiste and many other soft fabrics adapted to present modes.

Saturday we'll sell silk Jersey Skirts with messaline flounce. Exceedingly serviceable. Special at $2.95.

We make skirts and one and twopiece dresses. This we have done to the satisfaction of hundreds for some time. After careful experimenting we can guarantee satisfaction, also, in the making of cotton and summer fabrics of certain kinds. If in need of a dress or skirt, place orders now for prompt delivery. No fit, no take! Broad guarantee, is

We never displayed a better assorted stock of dress goods and you get the benefit of tariff reduction.

Children's and Juniors' Section

Nowadays the wash goods are made up in such quantities and all waste is so thoroughly eliminated that the made up garment costs but little more than the material alone. Let us show you Saturday a special lot of practical garments made to each. And as we are on the dress subject ask if you please to see "Mildred Louise," which is the name for an attractive dress for wee bairnies of 2 years up to 6 years. Children will be pleased with cardboard dolls given to those who will ask for them. The mother touch is in our coats and suits. When looking ask to see Balmacaans.

Hats, useful and attractive and seasonable, 50c, 75c and $1.

It is conceded, and a matter of general comment, that when it comes to women's underwear, We Have the Goods. And, of equal importance, with expert selection is expert service. With some pride we refer to the fact that scarcely a week passes but some maker asks us to push his makesrecognition of the value of KILPATRICK'S NAME. Our judgment endorses Carter, Stratton, Sterling, Kayser, Globe and Richelleu, and we push these because WE KNOW their merit.

In Hosiery Saturday we'll offer "Honor" brand. All black stockings. The name indicates their qualifications, and they are well named. S in a box for $1.00.

MEN'S WEAR SECTION-Ours is getting to be a real Men's Store, showing that the men know a good thing as well as the women, and that they are equally willing to spread the Glad Tidings.

Men like to have something new for Easter as well as the other sex. New Neckwear usually appeals, and our 50 cent line will impress both with variety and value.

Saturday we'll offer Men's Union Suits, medium weight cotton --- early season weight-a: $1.15 instead of $1.50 just as a drawing card

We said something about making Cotton Dresses, but we failed to mention the charming array of novelties on display in west aisle, main floor. Cotton and silk, and silk and cotton, for summer wear, Saturday display of diaphanous fabricssheer, filmy, cobwebby, 59e instead of 75 cents.

BASEMENT-Space to mention one item only-32-inch English Ginghams, 19 cents instead of 25 cents.
