BILLION DOLLARS IN DECADE

Raw Cotton is Greatest Export, with Iron and Steel Second, Breadstuffs Third and Meat Fourth.

WASHINGTON, March 21.-Exports of merchandise from the United States made a greater advance during the last ten years than in the thirty years from 1873 to 1960. In 1873 the total exports were valued at $555,000,000; in 1903, $1,455,000,000, and in 1913, 2,484,000,000, n gain of $917,000,-000 in the thirty years from 1873 to 1903, and of approximately $1,000,000 in the ten years ended with December last.

To this gain of practically $1,000,000,000 in foreign sales of American products during the decade ended with December, raw cotton and miscellaneous manufactures, chiefly of iron and steel, copper, wood and mineral oil, were the largest contributors, the five classes named representing about one-half of the total increase during the period named.

The ten leading classes of articles exported from the United States in 1913, arranged in order of magnitude and stated in millions of dollars, are reported by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, Department of Commerce, as follows. Raw cotton, 575; iron and steel, 294; breadstuffs, 203; meat and dairy products, 161; mineral oils, 149; copper, 145; wood manufactures, 110; coal and coke, 71; leather and leather goods, 60; and tohacco, raw and manufactured, 50. When to this group are added cars and carriages, 58; cotton goods, 56; agricultural ents and machinery, 35; fruits and nuts, 34; electrical machinery and appliances, 25; chemicals, drugs and medi-21: paper and manufactures thereof, 21;

Days in Case of War Rate of Suicide in PARIS, Ma ch 21 .- In case of war the ity of Paris would probably find itself

without bread within four days. This alarm has been sounded by the municipal trying to shake off the unenviable record council after a thorough study of the pos- of having a higher percentage of sulsibilities, and the announcement has re- cides among them than the residents of sulted in a popular demand for measures any other European capital. For the to assure an ample food supply in case of first time in many years there is a dea conflict. The minister of war and the under-secretary of state have decided to take up the whole question with the municipal council for further study, with an endeavor to solve the problem.

Military authorities point out that during the first few weeks of mobilization in case of war, all railroad trains and lines would be reserved exclusively for military trains, and no supplies for the civil population could be transported. It has been proposed among other things to buy 10,000 tons of flour to be kept in a public warehouse and to be used as neceasity arises. It is suggested that the state contributs immediately $90,000 as a first payment toward this, and the unicipality $40,000. While the problem of sufficient supply of flour and wheat is naidered most important, the authorities are also planning to conserve stocks of other necessary things, including wood coal and oll. If, says Commander Dryant, a well known retired army official, "an order of mobilization were given on Thursday, Paris would have neither bread, milk nor meat at the beginning of next week. Another important questions is that of the water supply. I would ask what Parisians ould drink were Parts invested and cut off from its water supply. This is a phase of the problem that the commission which has been studying the subject might consider thoroughly. We have arrived at a time when all the problems of national decines, 27; naval stores, 22; vegetable oils, fense must be considered without delay.

Balfour Will Take Prominent Part in Irish Negotiations

LONDON, March 21.-Arthur Balfour, once prime minister and also formerly unionist leader in the House of Commons, is to take a very prominent part in the negotiations for the settlement of the Irish question. He acquired a very extensive knowledge of the situation during his term as chief secretary for Ireland, and he has had experience in the handling of delicate political problems, not the least of which was that arising over the aplit in the unionist party over tariff re-Tom.

When an agreement on the Irish quastion was first mooted last year Bonar Lass, the present unionist leader, immediately called Mr. Balfour to his assistance. Soon after the opening of Par-Barnent Mr. Balfour had a long audience with the king and has been keeping in close touch with the leaders at Westminster.

The general opinion is that Mr. Balfour shares King George's view that some compromise should be arrived at, and this will go a long way toward the sit is, fully fully the extreme unionists into line. As it is, fully fully in a sit is in the party desire a line in the party desire is a line l settlement, but difficulty has been found in inducing the Ulsterius and the English "die-hards" to come around to the same view. When Mr. Balfour speaks, especially if it is thought that he expresses the wishes of the king, these irreconcillables will follow him. While Mr. Baltour has attacked the home rule hill from every angle and has referred to it as "lopaided federalism," not once has he referred to the Uniter threat of revo-hution or Ulster's general opposition to any form of home rule.
