

No Corns

Next Sunday

In 48 hours your corns will be gone if you use this simple method.

Apply Blue-jay tonight. Tomorrow you will not even think of the corn. Day after tomorrow the corn will be loosened. Simply lift it out.

Some people keep corns year after year, merely paring them once in a while.

Some people use old-time treatments, and think corns can't be ended. They wrong themselves. A famous chemist has solved the whole corn problem. And his invention—

Blue-jay—now removes a million corns a month.

Go try it. Note how the pain stops instantly. Note how gently Blue-jay undermines the corn. Note how soon the whole corn comes out, without any pain or soreness.

Next Sunday you can be as free from corns as a barefoot boy. And, so long as you live, you will never again let corns bother you.

Places Not on the Map

By Thomas L. Masson

GIRLVILLE: A pleasant alluring little hamlet on the road to the table lands of Matrimony, with a branch line that connects with the Old Maid range of foot hills.

At one time this place depended almost entirely upon nature for its appearance. Buoelic colors were predominant and there was a simplicity about it very pleasing and restful to the eye. Of late years, however, the city painters and decorators have come in, and with their colors have given it a smart, artificial appearance, which for many old-fashioned people has largely curtailed its charm. Girlville, indeed, now has a reputation for cheap display which no other place can hope to rival.

Girlville at one time was governed almost entirely by an eminently respectable body called Elders, but it has long since scornfully discarded their help, and governs itself; or at least claims the right to do so.

Its principal industries are Rag Time, Fiction, Silk Stockings, Velvet Shippers, and Red Paint. There is also a large spoon factory on the edge of the town. An appeal to the Legislature to have the name of Girlville changed to Chatterville was refused, on the ground that Chatterville and Girlville are already synonymous.

The inhabitants of Girlville are extremely restless and fickle. Not satisfied with the place, they are constantly attempting to leave it and, after leaving, to get back again.

FAKETOWN: This place lies on the banks of Liberty River, and is one of the most prosperous communities in the world, in spite of the fact that its inhabitants never do any real work. It is but just to say, however, that they are constantly hustling about, and are extremely active in every direction. Among their activities are mentioned Theology, Science, Philosophy, Art, and Literature.

Faketown is also one of the most interesting places in the world, and the curious visitor is constantly entertained by the fascinating performances of its inhabitants. On one corner may be seen a piebald gentleman standing on a four hundred million dollar oil can, taking a 40 per cent quarterly dividend out of a silk hat in front of a large crowd. On the other corner a handsome lady is chopping down a building with an axe, to the intense amusement of an audience composed principally of policemen and other ladies.

Faketown is one of the oldest towns in the world. Yet it is thoroughly up to date, and takes supreme delight in all modern improvements. It is non-supporting, but the rest of the world cheerfully furnishes it free with everything it needs, until it has come to be an axiom that all the world works of Faketown.

TERRORTOWN: This place lies at the base of the mountains of Freedom, the most prominent spur of which is Courage Peak. But although these mountains are quite plainly in sight, no inhabitant of Terrortown ever leaves it for long, or attempts to make the ascent. He is constantly declaring that he will go and climb the mountains of Freedom, but he never does.

Terrortown presents a very regular and not unpleasant appearance, but it is filled with shapes and grim goblins, which grow in number and fierceness the longer one lives there.

Some of the streets are called Fear Lane, Cold Perspiration Alley, Bill Square, Extravagance Boulevard, and Mullgrub Way. The whole place is full of shadows at all hours of the day and night—not the least formidable of which is one's own.

Terrortown is always filled with people. When any one has a desire to cut loose and break away, he consults the local doctor, of which there is a great number. The doctor never lets him go.
