By MELLIFICIA. Monday, March 23, 1914.

DO YOU think that people you know will really wear the new colored wigs? is a question that is asked frequently since the new fad started a few weeks ago, first in London and then in New York. That this unusual fad has been taken up by London and New York is enough to give the novelty a partial welcome. The opening of the Country club will probably be the first really smart affair, where the colored wigs will be worn. A beautiful young woman, who has been crowned queen of Ak-Sar-Ben, is seriously thinking of wearing one to the club opening, for she told me so. "But I do not think I will ever really adopt that fad, but it would be fun to wear to the club," she said to me.

There was quite a little excitement down here the other afternoon, but, alas, I am not at the office afterwards. "I saw an attractive young woman on Sixteenth street, and she had a carrot-colored wig," announced the new reporter.

"Write it," said the city editor. So the new reporter telephoned a well known hairdresser and asked if he had sold the vivid wig.

"No," said the hairdresser, and broke into laughter, "but I just dyed a pretty young woman's hair that color," so the first wig was not a wig.

Miss Lulu Grace Johnson of 115 North Forty-third street entertained informally at her home last Friday evening and wore her new wig of vivid green. This is the first one to be purchased in Omaha, excepting for the stage.

A bright green wig and tango red wig were sold by another shop this morning to two attractive young women, but the saleswoman did not know their names.

Tornado Anniversary Dinner.

Many Omaha people whose lives were miraculously saved will celebrate this evening by having some of their most intimate friends with them—friends who more than proved their thoughtfulness and generosity last year by taking care of them.

Mrs. L. J. Blake and Miss Jennie Blake, whose home was demolished by the tornado, feel that they were most fortunate in being at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garrison and Mrs. Garrison's father, Mr. Hunt, last year. The Garrison home was badly damaged, but not demolished, as was the home of Mrs. Blake, which has now been restored.

This evening Mrs. Blake and Miss Blake will have as their guests at dinner Mr. and Mrs. Garrison and Mr. Hunt.

Luncheon at Loyal.

Mrs. F. J. Taggart entertained informally at luncheon today at the Hotel Loyal in honor of her guests, Mrs. William T. Wilder of Fort Leavenworth, Hyacinths formed the decoration and covers were placed for ten guests, all of whom are former friends of Mrs. Wilder, who resided here before going to Fort Leavenworth.

Informal Musicals.

Mrs. Latham Davis and Mrs. John Macfarland, who are giving musicals each Sunday afternoon at the Davis garage studio, had an interesting program this week, although there was a disappointment for the hostess. They had expected to have the Potter Mandolin club, but Mr. Potter was ill. However a delightful afternoon was enjoyed by the guests and the program was given by Miss Hortense Spielberger, who sang, and Miss Marie Spielberger, who played piano numbers, Miss Nora Predmetzky gave piano numbers and Miss Joy Higgins, several readings.

Orpheum Parties.

Mrs. Bruce Moffatt entertained five guests at luncheon at the Commercial club today in honor of Miss Lewis, guest of Mrs. John Battin. After luncheon they attended the Orpheum matinee.

Complimentary to Mrs. William T. Wilder of Fort Leavenworth, guest of Mrs. F. J. Taggart, a small dinner, followed by an Orpheum party, will be given. Six guests will be present.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Zachary will entertain at a dinner and Orpheum party this evening, when those present will be: Mrs. Mulcahy of Colfax Springs, R. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Silver, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Pulver, Mrs. Elliott, H. E. Zachary, Mr. E. H. Benson.

For Sunday School Class.

In and out of the Bee Hive.

Mrs. Katherine Van Lom of David City, Neb., is visiting relatives in this city. Miss Nell Donahue spent the week end in Chicago with Mr. and Mrs. Morris enroute to New York.

Miss Katherine Barrett of Kansas City, Mo., who had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O'Connor and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carroll, has returned to her home. Miss Frank Morehead of Cedar Rapids, Ia., is the guest of her cousin, Miss Blanche Springer, 101 Binney street.

Mrs. Thomas Amrine of East Orange, N. J., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Marshall. She was formerly Miss Ella Marshall. Miss Lola Howell, who is a student at the Western College for Women at Oxford, O., will spend her spring vacation with friends in Detroit, Mich.

Fashion Hint

By LA RACONTEUSE.

The long mantle here shown is expressly designed for the woman to whom the three-quarter length coat is a bit unbecoming. This garment is fashioned of "Rube's" silk plush. The fullness in the front is obtained by gathering the garment up on each side at the neck with three silk braids. The trimming on the shoulder is a broad collar of grey fox. The kimono sleeves are very loose and are edged with the same fur. A huge ornament of silk braid fastens the wrap in front at the waist line.

cousin Mrs. George A. Sheller, have returned to his home in Sioux City. Mrs. J. L. Welsh is visiting friends in Lincoln and was honor guest at one of the club meetings last week.

State Association of Correction and Charities in April

Whether Dr. G. Alexander Young of Omaha will "start something" in his discussion of mental hygiene when he appears before the State Association of Correction and Charities in Omaha April 23 is a question that many of the delegates are now discussing. Dr. Young's paper is one of the many interesting papers that are to be read before the association at that time. The subject of Dr. Young's paper, however, has led to some speculation as to whether it will favor of eugenics, or whether it will take a different turn. Dr. Young is remaining silent on the matter.

Jacob Billkopf of Kansas City is to be here also and is to enter into the various discussions of the sessions. He is a member of the board of public welfare, which has attracted considerable attention in the last few years. Dr. Richard Cabot of Boston and Dr. Jostias Strong of New York also have been invited to appear on the program.

New York Experts Reduce the Force at Union Pacific

The expert accountants from the New York financial offices of the Union Pacific are still lingering about headquarters here, figuring out how the railroad company can do a little more retrenching in order that the dividends to the stockholders may be a bit greater. During the last week they have lopped off half a dozen $75 to $100 per month clerks, putting the work onto those who remain. In the general manager's offices one clerk who has been in the service ten years has been disposed of. The balance of the axe swingings was in the auditing departments. It is also said that out on the line several clerks and freight handlers who have been receiving salaries of $60 per month have been relieved from duty. There has been no cut in wages, the retrenching having to do only with the reduction of forces.

HURLS BRICKS AT PEOPLE AND GETS TEN DAYS IN JAIL

Fred Lake of Council Bluffs, who several months ago was saved from a watery grave in the Missouri river by the toll collector at the Douglas street bridge, who after a fierce struggle on one of the girders jutting from the span, kept Lake from dragging the two of them down to destruction, was sentenced to ten days in jail by Judge Foster. Lake this time was attempting to annihilate all the pedestrians within the vicinity of Sixteenth and California streets, by hurling hot bricks at their heads. Officer Joe Hill made the arrest and appeared against the fellow in police court.

COMPLAINT FILED FOR BEATING THEIR BOARD BILL

A complaint was filed against Albert Will and Mary Turner in police court for beating a board bill of $6 which they owed to Mrs. T. R. Bowers, aged 80 years, who conducts a rooming house at 1136 North Seventeenth street. The two above mentioned moved from the house with all of their belongings in the dead of night leaving behind but their debt behind. As Mrs. Bowers is an aged woman in meager circumstances, M. D. Suttles, a boarder at her house, took it upon himself to go to court in her defense.

CLEAN UP BOARDING HOUSES

Social Service Board Wants Better Conditions in Omaha.

WELFARE COMMISSION TO AID

Social Service Board Wants Co-Operation in Relief of Acute Conditions in the Congested Quarter.

Better boarding house conditions, cleaner equipment of rooming houses and a general clean-up of the cheap lodging and boarding house districts will be demanded by the social service board of the new city planning commission appointed by Mayor Dahlman and the demand for a plan of improvement will be backed by the several charitable associations of the city.

Heads of all the social betterment associations in the city will meet with the social service board next week and agree upon what they believe is needed and the welfare commission, as the city planning committee is called, will be asked to devote considerable attention to the requests of the social service board, made in the name of all the organizations.

"What we need is co-operation," said Chairman T. F. Sturgeon, of the social service board. "There is no such thing now as far as social betterment associations' work is concerned. Each organization proceeds along its own course, ignoring, usually, all others. We want to remedy this."

Further, the city planning committee will be asked to look to a remedy for conditions in congested districts where children have few or no places to play, and where the needs of the city are more playgrounds, putting this above a fine boulevard system.

S. H. ROSS WILL GO TO WASHINGTON BUREAU

S. H. Ross, chemist in charge of the government food and drug laboratory in the federal building, has received word that he will be attached to the bureau of chemistry at Washington. Packing of the equipment in the local laboratory is nearing completion. The goods will be sent to Chicago. The assignment of other employees here has not yet been learned.

Methodists Boost "Go-to-Church" Day by Wearing Tags

Sunday was "Tag day" at the First Methodist church. Those who attended the morning and evening church services, including Epworth league and Sunday school, were given a neatly printed tag, with the inscription, "I go to First Methodist next Sunday. Better come, too." These are to be worn during the week.

The plan for next Sunday at the First Methodist church is to give the strangers the best seats and a hearty welcome. This was indicated in the "Special Note to Regular Attendants" in the church bulletin, which said: "In view of the large attendance expected next Sunday, the ushers will not attempt to hold the regular seats after 10:30. It will be the privilege of our regular people to play the part of hosts to the many guests whom we hope to have with us on that day." Seats are free in this church, but it is the custom of the ushers to seat regular attendants in the same seats if they are there before the hour for services to begin.

Next Sunday is to be Girls' day in the First Methodist Sunday school. The superintendent and the regular officers are to be sidetracked. A young woman will act as superintendent, with a girl or woman in charge of all the departments.

BOSTON SYMPHONY IS NOT COMING TO OMAHA

The Boston Symphony orchestra will not make a contract for engagement in Omaha at this time. The manager of the concern was in Omaha on his way to Kansas City. He looked over the situation here and said the conditions with regard to the Auditorium precluded all possibility of entering into a contract at present.

RELIEF COMMITTEE AT END

Administration of Big Sum Cost but One and One-Third Per Cent.

TOTAL IS NEARLY HALF MILLION

Committee of Citizens Makes Final Accounting and Trustees Chosen to Take Charge of What Money is Left.

Clerk hire and all expenses of administering the great tornado relief fund of $435,833.54, cost the remarkably low sum of $5,755.40, or not quite 1 1/3 per cent of the entire fund. The rest of the money went to the relief of those stricken by the Easter Sunday tornado a year ago. This point was made public at the closing meeting of the committee of fifty at noon Monday, when the books were audited and the committee was discharged. The report showed that the total receipts were $435,833.54. The emergency relief expenditures amounted to $123,336.04. The expenditure for restoration was $252,000.30. Cash in the bank today amounts to $55,657.07. Of this balance three-fourths has been appropriated, but not yet drawn. This leaves some $2,900 unappropriated. A committee consisting of Father John Williams, C. C. Rosewater and Robert Cowell was delegated as trustees for this money. The executive committee was discharged with a rising vote of thanks. All the records of the work are to be left on file at the Commercial club.
