

Our window display is a revelation to Omaha, the color effects were selected from the newest Parisian shades—an exhibition, well worth coming miles to see.

BURGESS-NASH CO.

"EVERYBODY'S STORE"

The decorations throughout the store are suggestive of springtime, the flowers and trailing vines giving a most beautiful and pleasing effect.

INITIAL SPRING EXPOSITION

MONDAY, MARCH THIRTIETH

And Continuing Through Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday

A style pageant of surprising brilliancy introducing the authentic fashions in the new

Evening Gowns, Costumes, Wraps, Tailored Suits, Street Dresses, Millinery, Infant's and Children's Apparel, Waists, Fabrics and the Accessories of Dress

THIS exposition is of particular service to the entire community in revealing the most becoming fashions receiving their inspiration from the French Revolution, Directoire, Second Empire and Early Victorian periods as interpreted by the leading Paris, Vienna and New York creators of fashion. Bringing into relief the most salient and distinguished features of the style trend so that to see is to know and understand.

FROM another view point the exposition is a declaration of readiness with new lines of merchandise. AN ASSURANCE that stocks throughout the store are complete and at their best—and furthermore, it demonstrates anew the Burgess-Nash Company low price supremacy on the finest goods made as well as the less costly and medium priced merchandise.

Tailored Suits, Dresses, Costumes and Wraps

Of Distinguished Elegance, Individuality and Complete Selection

THE one word—MAGNIFICENT—classifies the entire collection. By all odds the largest and most complete showing ever gathered into an Omaha store. Styles for the older woman, for the young girl, for the debutante, the young woman, and with a price range to fit every woman's needs. Designs that have set the vogue for Spring 1914 apparel, others that have developed under the inspiration of a close study of French types; still others copied from foreign models, with variations to fit them for the role of accepted styles. Never was there a more beautiful collection of new models shown in Omaha. Come during the opening days—you'll find it a scene to admire and remember.

Many Aspire to Be Candidates to Fill Place of Cardinal

BERLIN, March 28.—Candidates for cardinals to fill the two vacancies left in the sacred college by the deaths of Cardinals Kopp and Fisher are being discussed. At least two German prelates are expected to receive the red hat at the consistory this spring. The apostolic nuncio at Munich, Mgr. Dr. A. Fruehwirth, is prominently mentioned.

of the king of Saxony and now a professor in the Catholic theological seminary at Cologne, was at first picked as a probability. But some have eliminated him, recalling that he incurred the displeasure of the pope several years ago by his views on the Greek Orthodox church, expressed in a published book. One of the most likely candidates, ac-ording to reports from Rome, is Bishop Kurum of Treves. His name, however, has been unfavorably received in government circles with which he has been in conflict often. The selection of the right man is believed to be a real problem at the vatican. The pope, it is said, desires to appoint men who have not been identified with recent political struggles and who are on good terms with the government. The death of Cardinal Kopp deprives the Catholic church at once of its highest functionary and its strongest personality in Germany. Kopp played an important part in restoring amicable relations between the vatican and Prussia after Bismarck's campaign against the Catholic church. In later years the emperor recognized his efforts to promote good relations between Rome and Berlin by calling him to the Prussian peerage and conferring upon him the order of the Black Eagle, the highest Prussian order. It carries with it a patent of nobility and the right to use the coveted "von" before the holder's name, of which, however, the cardinal never made use. The emperor further made him a member of the commission to reform the Prussian school laws and entrusted him with other important missions. Persistent Advertising is the Road to Big Returns.
