CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS Prices on Board of Trade.

Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, March 28.—Good rains throughout the west, especially in Kansas, sent wheat today down in price. The market, although steady at the close, was the to the under last night. Cornfinished 1-16c off to the up, oats unchanged to a shade lower and provisions with a gain of 5c to 125c.

Selling pressure on wheat developed chiefly in the new crop months. The weather map showed that Nebrasia and Okiahoma as well as eastern and central Kansas had been favored with timely moisture. In this connection it was said on high authority that only two or three more bountiful rains after April 15 would be needed to make certain the largest winter crop ever known.

Outlook for a decrease in the visible supply total, Monday, acted as a steadying influence on wheat after the market, had suffered a moderate sag. Notice was also taken of the fact that western Kansas continued to remain dry and that world shipments next week promised to be light, failing off a round million bushels.

Bhort sellers of corn proved timid today

Short sellers of corn proved timid today

Bhort sellers of corn proved timid today in view of the unexpected upward whirl encountered in the previous session. Wet weather in the harvest district of Argentino was against the bears carly, but subsequent reports told of the skies having cleared. Cash demand was disappointing to holders both here and at the Missouri river. There were offers to deliver Argentine corn in Chicago at 71%c, during the first hair of April. Trade in oats consisted wholly of changing from May to the more deferred futures.

Provisions ascended with hogs. Packers took to the buying side, supposedly covering recent free sales short of the market.

CATTLE—Receipts of cattle have been very light all this week not only here, but at all other market points as well-in spite of that fact the trade has been very light all this week not only here, but at all other market points as well in spite of that fact the trade has been slow and dull, with the tendency on most kinds lower from start to finish.
Good to choice light yearling cattle, have been in good demand during the week and they have sold a little stronger. The best here bringing $9.25, the high price of the year. Best heavy beeves have also been in fair demand and they have continued steady, the top on that kind being $8.55 for the week. The great built of the cattle coming to market have consisted of common to pretty good beef steers and such grades are ligible lower than the close of last week, having been slow sellers throughout.

Good light heiters have been in good demand and they are steady with a week ago and in spits possibly stronger. Light cows on the heiter order are about steady with last week's close, but heavy cows are weak to like lower. Heavy builts have been extremely hard to sell and they are safely 500 or more lower than two weeks ago. Light builts have not shown so much decline.

Stockers and feeders of all kinds have been slow sellers throughout the week and they are lightly lower than last and they are lightly lightly lightly lightly lightly lightly lightly lightly lightly and as the demand was very stack towards the last, the closing sales were in no case better than steady with yesterday and were, if anything, weak at the carly prices.

For the week values are generally 15c lower. Lights show the smaller decline, the general run of prices not being ever logible below last Saturday's figures, while heavise and the weigniter butchers look to be as much as 15g20c below the cost of last week, Extremely light recepts on the first two days of the week allowed prices to make a small advance, but starting with Wednesday the runs became very liberal, and since that time the trend of the market has been sharply lower, prices showing a decline of close to a dime on each of the three succeeding days. Very light receipts at all points today permitted values to take a slight upturn, but as was stated before the week's trade still shows a net decline of fully 15c, and today's top is a flat 20c lower than the high price last Saturday. During the week values reached the high time of the year, a top of $8.75 being paid on Tuesday. The average on that day was a shade better than $8.62.
