NO REPUBLICANS IN THE LIST

What Purported to Be Branch of Progressive Party Made Up of Outsiders, Democrats and Prohibitionists.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, April 1.—(Special.)—Former republicans who have gone over to the third party, were elected yesterday when the reports reached Lincoln that F. P. Corrick, chief engineer of the bull moose party, had succeeded in organizing a third party movement in Custer county.

The so-called progressive organization, according to Custer county people, who live in Lincoln, is officered by men who have not been republicans. James Steckham, the chairman of the county organization has always been a democrat and E. J. Johnson, the secretary is prohibitionist. M. Sullivan, mentioned as the probable candidate of the third party for congress was elected in 1893 as district judge on the democratic ticket, and has been a democrat ever since.

INDIAN DEPOT BACK IN BILL

Senate Committee Reinstates It After a Long Hearing.

ABBOTT TELLS OF THE NEEDS

Far Better for Service to Have Experienced Employees in Permanent Station Inspect What Government Buys.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, April 1.—(Special Telegram.)—The Omaha Indian supply depot will be retained, if the senate committee on Indian affairs has its way for that committee today decided to restore to the Indian appropriation bill the provision striking out of the house committee providing a continuance of Indian supply depots at present points.

The vote was taken by the committee late in the afternoon after a long hearing in the course of which arguments in favor of retaining the Indian warehouse at Omaha were presented by Senator Hitchcock and Congressman Lobeck. F. H. Abbot, former acting commissioner of Indian affairs, and now secretary of the Board of Indian Commissioners, was also heard at some length on the subject. He showed the satisfaction of the committee, that it is more profitable to the government to have a permanent warehouse at Omaha than to have a temporary storehouse, for under the former system the inspection is more rigid through having experienced men acquainted with local conditions to handle affairs.

Officials in the department also showed the committee where it is profitable in many instances to continue the warehouses. The committee was much interested, members asking many questions, and finally voting unanimously in favor of the retention of the warehouses. It is believed when the bill finally goes into conference the cities that now have Indian warehouses will be retained just as they were last year.

Notes' Tolls Amendment

Senator Norris today offered a solution of the Panama canal tolls question when he introduced an amendment adding another and last section to the Panama act of August 1913 providing in effect that the passage of the act "shall not be construed as a surrender of rights claimed by the United States to regulate traffic through the canal by giving vessels engaged in the coastwise trade of the United States either partial or total exemption from tolls."

Senator Norris' amendment also provides that the protest of Great Britain against such a construction of the treaty is recognized as presenting a suitable international question for arbitration, and authorizes the president to begin negotiations with England for the determination of the question through arbitration. The amendment was referred to the committee on interoceanic canals.

Lobeck Interested

Congressman Lobeck has been asked to use his good offices in another human interest immigration case, that of Esther Rusinsky and her child Ethel, who were excluded from entering this country by immigration authorities at Galveston because of the alleged feeble-mindedness of the daughter. The Associated Jewish Charities of Omaha requested Mr. Lobeck to have the case appealed to Washington for a decision, they guaranteeing that Ethel will not become a public charge, and stating that it would be very cruel not to permit the mother and child to join the head of the family, who lives in Omaha.

The congressman has telegraphed the inspector at Galveston requesting him to refer the case to Washington for final decision, and has wired the Omaha association of his action.

Militants Anxious to Die for the Cause

NEW YORK, April 1.—"All the women are willing to die. We are fighting with our lives."

These statements characterized the defense of militant suffrage methods in England by Miss Dorothy Pethick, sister of Mrs. Pethick-Lawrence, and follower of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, at a meeting yesterday of the Equal Franchise society. In answer to a question as to what the British government could do to the women whom they imprisoned, Miss Pethick replied: "Let them die." Then she added that she was never so happy in her life as when she thought she had been so reduced by forcible feeding that the end appeared near. Continuing Miss Pethick told of the first woman who underwent a hunger strike and related until the doctor said that he would not be responsible an hour longer for her life, and told of her own hunger strike.

Miss Margaret Hodge, who is with Miss Pethick, also made an address. The women are going to oppose Mr. Asquith in his coming fight for election, she said.

Attempt to Poison Entire Family of Oregon Minister

RICHLAND, Ore., April 1.—Efforts to poison the entire family of the Rev. Frank Hopkins, pastor of the Methodist church, south, became known today.

Authorities who have been investigating an illness of Mrs. Hopkins last week said the baking powder, milk and salt of the family larder were well-seasoned with a deadly poison. Samples have been sent to the state bacteriologist at Portland. Tuesday morning Mrs. Hopkins in preparing breakfast placed some of the salt on the potatoes, which were frying. Eventually she threw out the potatoes, but not until the fumes from them had made her sick. The baking powder showed signs of a foreign substance also.

There are four little children in the family. Mr. Hopkins was the object of another sort of attack early this year. He had delivered a sermon on bootlegging, and Walter Jones took offense at the remarks, which he believed were addressed toward his father. After the service he followed Mr. Hopkins to a country road, where he threatened him, according to his own story. He was indicted.

TEETH AND STOMACH TROUBLE

THE DOCTORS MAYO BROTHERS OF ROCHESTER, MINN., REPORT that 86% of the patients who come to them for stomach trouble have mouth infections. The records of the dental clinic show that 10% of the people suffering from neglected teeth are more or less in serious danger of blood poisoning and other trouble which can be traced directly to the harmful microbes of the mouth.

All these facts show why we should be thankful after having our teeth put in a sanitary condition. If the teeth were not looked after properly, germs collect about them and cause disordered condition in other parts of the system. A hint to the wise is sufficient.
