JOINS NAVY ON FIRST DAY HE IS OLD ENOUGH

When Lieutenant Lorchbrough and the other officers at the naval recruiting station arrived at the federal building yesterday they found Leonard R. Harska, 201 Douglas street, waiting just outside the door.

Leonard Harska, aged 17, just barely 17, wanted to enlist, and after passing the physical examination, he was accepted, and will be sent at once to the training station at Chicago.

It was early in January that the lad, who is an orphan and lived with his sister, Mrs. J. C. Harska, came with her to the recruiting station of the navy and tried to enlist. The youngster looked good to the officers, but when they found he was only 15 years old, they were forced to reject the boy's application for enlistment.

However, the navy still seemed to call Leonard Harska and yesterday the first hour of business at the recruiting office recorded his enlistment.

He was 17 years old yesterday and his first ambition was to join the navy.

PART OF KELLEY'S ARMY LANDS IN COUNCIL BLUFFS

Omaha railroad officials feel that for a time, at least, they are rid of all the detachments of Kelley's army. The remnant of the command that reached Omaha early Wednesday morning, entraining from Lincoln over the Burlington, and out on the morning line from there, dividing into squads of from two to half a dozen.

When the train over the Burlington reached Council Bluffs there were thirty-two men scattered in and upon the freight cars, some twenty having been lost between Lincoln and Omaha.

Word came from the west that somewhere between Ogden and the California line there is another army moving east. There are said to be between 300 and 500 men and they are riding freight trains when circumstances will permit. At other times they are walking.

Three men will accompany it, and it will be ready on the opening day. The Luther Burbank company will also be represented through its sole agents, C. C. Courtney & Co., of this city.

Affairs at South Omaha

Police Seek Alleged Highwaymen as Slayers of Williams.

BOY SEES MOVIES AND DIES

Young Miller's Heart Weak and the Scenes in the Indian Battle Causes it to Stop.

South Omaha police, flushed with their capture of the three alleged highwaymen, Ivory Davis, Tony Cloba and Jose Garcia, who shot Officer Tom Quinn ten days ago after having committed a number of highway robberies in Omaha and South Omaha, are trying to connect the men with the murder of John Williams, a barn man who was killed on the O street viaduct a few weeks ago. Williams had his throat cut from ear to ear. He was dead when found by street car men. The man's money was taken from his pockets.

Tony Cloba, who has stood pat in his denial of wrongdoing, admitted yesterday to Police Judge Callahan that he was guilty of robberies. He told Captain Hank Carey that he would never have confessed to the police if his two pals had not been captured.

Seeing Movies Proves Fatal.

Intense interest in the Indian battles portrayed in the Buffalo Bill moving pictures Tuesday afternoon threw William A. Miller, Jr. into such a nervous condition that his weak heart is said to have given out Tuesday evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Miller, Twenty-sixth and Jefferson streets.

Young Miller had been ill with intestinal trouble and his heart is said to have been overworked. Accompanied by his mother he visited a moving picture theater Tuesday afternoon to see the Buffalo Bill pictures. The show is said to have caused him such excitement that his heart gave out at Twenty-fourth and O streets, where he stopped to have some lunch a few minutes later. Dr. W. J. McCrann was called and the boy was taken home. An operation was deemed necessary and Dr. E. L. DeLaney ordered the boy's removal to a hospital. He died while being taken to the waiting auto. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2:30 from Brass' chapel to Forest Lawn cemetery. Rev. C. W. Savigde of Omaha will officiate at the burial services.

Stock Yards Receipts.

March receipts at the Union stock yards indicate that the sheep run is making a new high record this year. The receipts of all classes of stock are heavier this year than was expected. March shows a gain of 4,500 head of cattle, as compared with March 1913, 16,900 head over the same period last year. The sheep receipts show an increase of 7,000 head over March a year ago.

The sheep receipts for the month just closed exceeded 32,000 head, establishing a new record for March.

Jerry Likes This.

That F. A. Nash, president of the Omaha Electric Light company is trying to follow in the steps of Henry Ford in a moderate way was the expression of Jerry Howard yesterday when the new eight hour schedule was put into effect among the Electric Light company's men. Eight hours and the same pay was the latest order. The change affects the laboring, as well as the office men and the move was accepted as a new interpretation of laborer's rights according to a number of union men yesterday.

Jerry Howard, who has been in the employ of the Electric Light company for some time, said yesterday: "It is a good move and one that should be imitated by a number of other corporations in Omaha and South Omaha. I believe that the labor conveniency, who will meet at South Omaha April 19, may take the matter up in connection with the treatment accorded employes by certain other corporations."

Under the new rule the light men will work from 8 a. m. until noon and from 1 p. m. until 5 p. m.

Bachman Tosses Market.

Jake Bachman of Creston, Ia., was at the stock yards yesterday with a bunch of yearling steers and heifers that topped the market, selling at $5.50. There were twenty-two head in the bunch, averaging 442 pounds. Mr. Bachman bought these cattle about six months ago and fed them corn and alfalfa hay. He is one of the old-time feeders of this section, and has been the patron of the local market for many years. He says the cattle in his vicinity have about all been shipped, and that hogs are very scarce.
