

SCHOOL GROUNDS FOR PLAY
Plan to Convert Them to Use as Neighborhood Playgrounds.

BOARD COMMITTEE IN FAVOR
Monmouth Park Club is to Be the
First to Try Out the Scheme—
Experts to Be Put in Charge.

The conversion of public school grounds to the purpose of neighborhood playgrounds for public use during evenings is a question now before the building and grounds committee of the Board of Education and will probably be decided at today's meeting of that committee. Application has been made by the Monmouth Park Improvement club for permission to use the Monmouth Park grounds during the evenings as a public playground, the club offering to improve the grounds and provide a supervisor.

Our committee will undoubtedly favor such a plan, under proper supervision, said Chairman E. J. Straits of the building and grounds committee of the School Board. The scheme will furnish a fine playground for all children of the neighborhood and will keep boys and girls off the streets and away from bad influences.

State Engineer Price
Seeking Delegation to National Meeting

Donald D. Price of Lincoln, state engineer and member of the national executive committee for Nebraska, has been appointed a special committee of one to secure a strong delegation from this state to the fourth annual meeting of the National Drainage congress, which will be held at Savannah, Ga., April 22-25, inclusive.

Mr. Price has been interested in the drainage congress since a short time after its organization in Chicago in December, 1911, at the time of the meeting of the Nineteenth National Irrigation congress, when it was decided that the two problems of irrigation and drainage were too widespread to be adequately taken care of by a single organization.

Will Ask that the Indictments Against
Matters Be Quashed

Counsel for T. H. Matters, prominent Omaha attorney and real estate broker, who was indicted in connection with the failure of the First National bank of St. Louis, will file a motion to quash the indictments against Mr. Matters. Judge Thomas C. Munker will hear the argument on the motion to quash at 10 o'clock on April 5, the date set for the hearing and take such further action in the case as may be occasioned at the time. The date of the trial in the United States district court has not been fixed and unless attorneys for the defense succeed in their attempt to have the trial removed from the Hastings division of the United States district court, it is likely that the trial of the case will be at Hastings.

Dietz May Sue to Test Validity of the Water District Law

If the Water board carries out its plan to have six acres of the Gould Dietz farm, Forty-second and Grove streets, condemned for a reservoir site a suit to test the metropolitan water district law will be instituted by Dietz. Dietz refused to sell the land for a reservoir site for less than $1,500 an acre. Fire insurance inspectors urged the construction of a reservoir in the southwestern part of the city and the Dietz land was chosen as a proper place.

Although Dietz is now in Australia he has given the Water board to understand that as soon as condemnation proceedings are started he will bring suit to test the law under which the Water board operates.

SHIPPERS UP AGAINST IT
Omaha Apple Dealers Must Pay License to Sell in North Dakota.

TARIFF WALL HINDERS THEM
Nebraska and Others Obligated to Pay Twenty-Five Dollars Per Car Importation When They Cross Into Sister State.

Is a protective tariff possible between states of the United States? The constitution of the United States says no. That same constitution said nothing against interstate protective tariffs that might be by the name of "licenses." The result is that when Omaha dealers and many farmers from the apple growing section of the state tried to ship apples to North Dakota, where the price was better than at home, they were confronted by a wall—no, not a tariff wall—a "license" wall. When they crossed the North Dakota line with a carload of apples they were compelled by the government of North Dakota to pay a license of $25 per car to sell apples in that state.

They protested that interstate tariff charges are prohibited by the federal constitution. They were told that this was not a tariff, but a license charge. They scratched their heads long and hard to determine whether there is really any difference so far as the net result is concerned, whether the tariff is called a tariff or a license. Inquiry brought out the facts that the retail grocers and other dealers in North Dakota had railroaded this license bill through the North Dakota legislature, so that they might have no outside competition in the sale of apples to the people of that state.

The situation then is that an inhabitant of North Dakota, a state that can scarcely raise a single apple even under the most careful cultivation, cannot get apples from states where they are raised unless he gets them through his local apple dealer. Nebraskaans immediately talked of going into the courts to determine the constitutionality of the act. They learned that some one had preceded them and that the case is pending in the courts. In the meantime some of them paid the license charges and got over the line.

Others more staid, stopped their car of apples just this side of the North Dakota line and had the customers come over to buy.

OMAHA'S MARKED PROGRESS

"To say that I am delighted with the marked progress of Omaha since my last visit here some years ago is a mild way of expressing it," remarked Dr. Wise of New York City while renewing acquaintances at the Nebraska Clothing store yesterday. "I am particularly pleased with the many improvements. Your new buildings are a credit to the city."

BOOTBLACK PARLORS TO CLOSE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

In the interest of the bootblacks of the city Mayor Dahlman introduced an ordinance at a meeting of the city commission which prohibits shoe shining on Sunday afternoons and evenings. The ordinance orders the shine shops to close at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and not to open again that day. Several bootblacks and managers of shoe shining parlors conferred with the mayor and said the ordinance would meet with approval.

OMAHA MARKET IS GROWING
Big Increase Shown Both in Receipts and Shipments of Grain.

BIG GAIN OVER LAST YEAR
Corn Shows the Best Figures, with 3,753 Carload Receipts, as Against 1,081 for March of Last Year.

Omaha grain receipts and shipments show a wonderful increase during March as compared with the corresponding month of one year ago. The greatest increase in receipts was in corn. In this cereal the receipts during March of this year were 3,753 carloads, against 1,081 during the same month of one year ago. The following table shows the receipts and shipments of all grain during March, this year. Everything is on a carlot basis:

	In.	Out.
Wheat	631	903
Corn	3,753	4,029
Oats	1,047	1,259
Rye	4	6
Barley	15	0
Totals	5,450	6,207

This is a gain of 3,132 carloads in receipts and 3,099 in shipments, the largest gain during any one corresponding month in the history of the market.

Eastern Railroads
Will Close Branch
Offices as Economy

Railroad men hear that the next move of the eastern lines in the matter of retrenchment will be to do away with branch offices and branch agencies that are scattered throughout the country, principally in the large cities. Nearly all the eastern lines, both weak and strong, maintain offices here, some of them having general agents, traveling agents, clerks and stenographers, their expenses running from $200 to $1,000 per month. For years it has been the custom to maintain such offices, and in this connection, railroad men assert that as a rule the offices do not bring as much new business as their maintenance costs. They contend that as a rule, that if the business was unsolicited, it would take practically the same routing as it does now. Some of the railroad men go even farther than this and assert that some of the roads maintaining offices in Omaha and other cities of a similar class, pay more than $1 for every dollar's worth of business secured by the agencies.
