FOR the second time in twenty-three years Miss Anna Cray will postpone her Easter egg hunt. The spacious grounds of Miss Cray's home at Twenty-second street and St. Mary's avenue make an ideal place for the children to hunt Easter eggs, and usually about thirty-five children attend. Miss Cray decided this morning that the grounds were too cold and damp, and that it would endanger the health of the little ones. After the light fall of snow this morning Miss Cray decided that there could not possibly be enough sunshine tomorrow to make the egg hunt enjoyable on Easter Sunday afternoon.

Last year the egg hunt was postponed because of the tornado. Although so many children will be considerably disappointed, Miss Cray thinks that this will be better than to have a number of them catch cold, and quite a number of the little guests were ill with colds, anyway. A pretty sentiment connected with this annual affair is the fact that a score of years ago the parents of many of the children formerly attended these egg hunts.

For twenty-one years this egg hunt was never postponed, but last year seems to have started a fad for the little ones and for two years in succession they will not have this great pleasure.

Mrs. C. C. George will have a small Easter egg hunt at her home in Dundee for a few children, as will also Mrs. A. I. Root, who will have some of the children in the Hanscom park neighborhood.

LITTLE GIRL TELLS OF ABUSE

Eight Hotel Proprietors and Clerks Are Now Under Arrest.

TAXICAB DRIVERS ARE SOUGHT

Girl Tells Revolting Story of How She Was Kidnaped and Then Abused at Hotels and Roadhouses.

Eight hotel proprietors and clerks are under arrest, and several taxicab drivers are being sought by the police, charged with having contributed to the delinquency of Agnes Zimmerman, a 14-year-old girl from South Omaha. Louis Kaplan of the Albany hotel, Paul Roush, manager of the Carlton hotel, H. E. Moore, clerk of the Carlton; C. W. Belandine, who formerly owned the London hotel; C. W. Bennett, present owner of the London hotel; H. Wymer, proprietor of the Savoy; W. Marcus, clerk at the Savoy; A. Adobb and Red Kalan, owners of a bath house at 197 South Fourteenth street, were arrested and held under bonds of $50 each. Claude B. Thompson, a hotel clerk, is in jail, held under the same charge as the others, but any later charge with a more serious offense.

Tells of the Kidnaping.

Agnes Zimmerman disappeared last week. She was missing three days and nights, and when she returned to her home in South Omaha she told her mother a story of how she was kidnaped and held under surveillance by a taxicab driver and a young woman, and was mistreated and abused at various times before her captors became alarmed and set her free to go home. The girl, who was employed in a 10-cent store, says on Wednesday afternoon of last week she was enticed by a young woman named Anna Smith to meet a taxicab driver, who gave his name as Harry McCloud, at Fourteenth and Douglas streets. After a little talk she was pushed into the taxicab, under pretext of being driven around a block. Instead of driving her around a block, McCloud drove around the city until it was dark and then took the two girls to a roadhouse, where they stayed until early in the morning. From there the Albany hotel was visited, where McCloud and the manager got into a fuss, and the party went to the London. Here they spent the day, McCloud attacking the little girl.

Allowed to Escape.

Thursday night was a repetition of Wednesday night, other so-called hotels being visited and other men being involved. Late Friday night McCloud and the Smith woman, apparently alarmed at suggestions from others, determined to set the girl free, and early Saturday morning gave her 50 cents and turned her loose. She went directly home and told her story to her mother. Then the authorities were notified, and juvenile court officers, the sheriff's force and the city police and detectives got busy on the case. Arrests were made this morning, as noted, and other arrests are expected to follow.

The girl's father is dead. Her mother, Mrs. Agatha Quade, lives at Railroad and Madison street. Alright, she was deserted several years ago by her second husband.

McKinley Makes Trip Over the New Interurban Lines

W. B. McKinley and his party from Illinois made a trip over the line of the Omaha & Lincoln Railway and Light Co. inspecting the lines and considering some plans with regard to future extensions of the railway and the power lines. Arthur English, local representative of the McKinley interests, is taking them on the tour. While Mr. McKinley announced that no extension of the railway lines would be made this year, it is settled that the lines are eventually to be extended to Lincoln, and the party is looking over the ground while President McKinley and Manager H. E. Chubbuck are here, together. The extension work of the power lines is to continue at any rate. The party left for Kansas City last evening. They have some interests in Kansas City to look after. From there they are to go to Topeka to look after some interests there.

Peter Jansen Back from Panama Expo

Peter Jansen is in Omaha on his way home from his visit to San Francisco as a representative of the Temporary Panama-Pacific Exposition commission, in company with Lieutenant Governor McKelvie and Secretary Mellor of the State Board of Agriculture. Mr. Jansen went to California on his own expense two years ago and selected the site for a Nebraska building, but the legislature failed to appropriate funds for the project. About two weeks ago Governor J. H. Morehead appointed a temporary commission, with Mr. Jansen as chairman, to provide a method for a Nebraska exhibit. Mr. Jansen is very enthusiastic about the necessity for Nebraska to participate in the exposition from a patriotic standpoint. As thirty-five states have arranged to take part, including every state touching Nebraska borders, he says the local citizens of Nebraska must come to the rescue. All the main exposition buildings are in an advanced state of preparation, with three fully completed, and some of the state buildings are nearly completed. Iowa made a selection and Edward Clarke dedicated a site for their building while the Nebraska delegation was out there.

More of Kelley's Army is Coming

Union Pacific officials hear that another division of the Kelley army is laying plans to move out of California. Several hundred men are said to be in camp 100 miles or so east of Sacramento, intending to riding freight trains when the opportune time arrives to move. The Southern Pacific has declared that it will carry none of the Kelleyites unless they have money to pay fare and if they attempt to board the trains, force will be employed in ejecting them. The same rule has been adopted by the Western Pacific, the Union Pacific, the Burlington and the Rock Island, so that it is hardly thought likely that any large number of the men will ever get this far east.

SUPPORT OF MOTHER PLEA HELPED MANY PRISONERS

"I'm the sole support of my widowed mother," a half dozen prisoners pleaded in police court when they were arraigned on charge of vagrancy. The plea brought freedom for the first two men. The third did not fare so well, receiving a suspended sentence. The fourth was indeed unfortunate, for the plea had lost its effect and Judge Foster sentenced him to six days in jail. There was a hurried conference among the prisoners and the pleas in defense were immediately changed.

PLENTY OF FLOWERS FOR ALL

No Shortage Exists for the Demand for Easter. EARLY RUSH FOR THE SUPPLY Florists Say That the Prices Are to Be About the Same as Last Year, With No Advance.

Even with the cold and cloudy weather of the last two weeks there is not going to be any general shortage of flowers for Easter. There are roses and lilies in enormous quantities, with a little below the usual quality of carnations. The slight shortage in these flowers is due to a measure to the great number taken by the Plymouth Congregational church, who observed a carnation day a couple of weeks ago. At that time thousands of the flowers were sold on the streets, the proceeds going into the church building fund. The rush to secure flowers set in early in the morning and the florists and merchants selling flowers were kept busy all day waiting on customers and making deliveries. The big business in the flower trade is not expected until today. Prices this year are about the same as formerly, there having been no advance, say the florists.
