SOX NO. 2 BLANK ROURKES

Faber Allows But Three Hits and Visitors Make Three Runs.

TWO ARE HURT IN COLLISION
Fournier Jumps Into Plate When Blocked by Shestak and Lands on Top of Omaha Catcher—Swallows His Chew.

Mr. Red Faber, late of Des Moines and still celebrating his return from the trip around the world, with the capable assistance of a flock of White Sox seconds walked all over Omaha Friday, shutting the Rourke out while his team mates pounded in seven runs. Mr. Faber's spitter was working nicely and Omaha could make but three hits. Also, Faber fanned nine of the Omaha batters.

In the first inning Shestak and Fournier collided, with the result that both were injured and from then on the game lost life. After Ormsby had walked Gleason and Blackburn, Fournier slammed out a corking two-bagger. Mayer, who followed hit a single and Fournier attempted to come home. Bell shot the ball to Clancy who threw to Shestak in time to catch the home outfielder. But Fournier jumped into the plate and when Shestak blocked him landed square on top of the Omaha catcher. Fournier twisted his ankle badly and swallowed his chew of tobacco which in itself is enough to make a man sick.

Fournier landed on Shestak with his spikes and George received a deep cut on the top of his foot. His hurt will also keep him out of the game for some time. Fournier's bride attended the game and witnessed the accident.

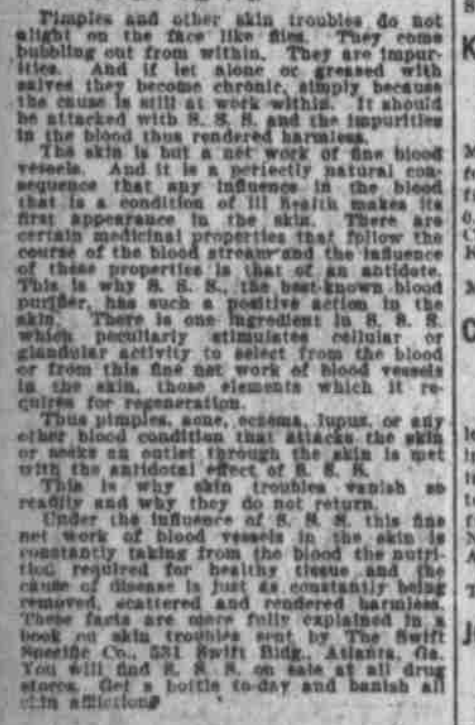

Wolfang took Fournier's place in right field and Crosby went behind the bat for Omaha.

Rourke's Play Well.
Red Ormsby hit very best game for Omaha and went the route. Two hits in the first, coupled with passes, netted two runs and three hits in the eighth, accompanied by an error, netted three more. Outside of those innings he did splendidly.

Crosby caught a beautiful game behind the bat and showed that he can hold up his end of the catching department without trouble. He fielded nicely and made a two bagger in the ninth inning.

Skin Health Comes From the Blood

Even Slight Eruptions Such As Acne Should Be Treated.

Pimples and other skin troubles do not spring on the face like flies. They come bubbling out from within. They are impurities. And if let alone or treated with salves they become chronic, stubborn, because the cause is still at work within. It should be attacked with S. S. S. as the impurities in the blood thus rendered harmless.

The skin is but a net work of fine blood vessels. And it is a perfectly natural consequence that any impurities in the blood, that is a condition of ill health makes its first appearance in the skin. There are certain medicinal properties that follow the course of the blood stream and the influence of these properties is that of an antidote. This is why S. S. S. is the best blood purifier, has such a positive action in the skin. There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates either the glandular activity to select from the blood or from this fine net work of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration.

This purifier, sore, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeps an outlet through the skin is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S. This is why S. S. S. is the best known blood purifier and why they do not return.

Under the influence of S. S. S. this fine net work of blood vessels in the skin is constantly taking from the blood the nutriment required for healthy tissue and the cause of disease is just as constantly being removed, scattered and rendered harmless.

These facts are more fully explained in a book of skin troubles sent by The S. S. S. Co., 351 Fifth Ave., Atlanta, Ga. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. Get bottles today and banish all skin afflictions.

FEDS LOSE KILLIFER CASE

Outlaws Are Denied an Injunction Against Catcher.

RESERVE CLAUSE IS INVALID
Decision of Judge Sessions Holds that Options on Services of the Player Beyond Contract Period is Void.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 10.—Judge Clarence W. Sessions in the United States district court today denied the application of the Chicago Federal league club for an injunction enjoining catcher William Killifer, Jr., from playing with the Philadelphia National league club.

The judge denied the application on the ground that the Chicago Federal league club did not come into court "with clean hands." The decision also holds the reserve clause is not valid.

The decision holds that the contract of January 8, 1914, by which Killifer agreed to play with the Chicago Federal league club and the contract of January 20, which he made on jumping back to the Philadelphia National league club, are "in form, valid and binding on the parties thereto."

Court Roasts Killifer.
Killifer is scored for making the contracts, the decision reading:

"This record shows that the defendant, Killifer, is a base ball player of unique, exceptional and extraordinary skill and experience. Unfortunately the record also shows that he is a person on whose pledged word little or no reliance can be placed and who for gain to himself, neither scruples nor hesitates to disregard and violate his express engagements and agreements."

After conceding the validity of the two 1914 contracts the decision says:

"The questions here presented and requiring consideration are these:

"First—Are the provisions of the 1913 contract between the defendant relative to the reservation of the player for the succeeding season valid and enforceable?"

"Second—Are the plaintiffs by their own conduct barred from seeking relief in a court of equity?"

"The leading authorities, with possibly one exception, are agreed that executory contracts of this nature can neither be enforced in equity nor form the basis of an action at law to recover damages for their breach. The reasons for the decisions are that such contracts are lacking in the necessary qualities of definiteness, certainty and mutuality.

Reserve Clause Void.
The 1913 contract between these defendants, relative to the reservation of the defendant, Killifer, for the season of 1914 is lacking in all of these essential elements. It is wholly uncertain and indefinite with respect to salary and also with respect to terms and conditions of the proposed employment. It is nothing more than a contract to enter into a contract in the future, if the parties can then agree to contract. Although it is founded on sufficient consideration, it lacks the mutuality because the Philadelphia club may terminate it at any time on ten days' notice, while the other party has no such option and is bound during the entire contract period. A contract exists, but, if broken by either party, the other is remediless because the courts are helpless either to enforce its performance or to award damages for its breach.

The principle embodied in the maxim, 'he who comes into equity must come with clean hands,' is a cardinal one lying at the foundation of equity jurisprudence. The principle thus broadly enunciated is peculiarly appropriate and applicable to cases like the present one, where relief will not be granted as a matter of strict right, but must result from the exercise of a sound judicial discretion. Measuring and testing their conduct by this rule are the plaintiffs in court with clean hands? Knowing that the defendant, Killifer, was under a moral, if not a legal, obligation to furnish his services to the Pennsylvania club for the season of 1914 they sent for him and by offering him a longer term of employment and much larger compensation induced him to repudiate his obligation to his employer. In so doing a willful wrong was done to the Pennsylvania club, which is none the less grievous and harmful because the injured party could not obtain legal redress in and through the courts of the land. Can it be doubted that if the plaintiffs had not interfered Mr. Killifer would have carried out his agreement with the Philadelphia club in honesty and good faith?

Killifer expected to derive a benefit and profit from their contract and both knew that such contract if performed would work a serious injury to the Philadelphia club. The conduct of both is not only open to criticism and censure, but is tainted with unfairness and injustice, if not with actionable fraud. To drive a shrewd bargain is one thing and to resort to unfair and unjust practices and methods in order to obtain an advantage over a business rival or competitor is another. Courts of equity may protect and enforce the former, but will not sanction nor lend their aid to the latter. While it is true that the plaintiffs and Mr.

Creighton Dents Pull Ball Teeth of Medics

Two Freshman Classes from the Creighton Medical and the Creighton Dental schools mixed on the base ball diamond at Creighton field yesterday morning, with the result that the Dents pulled the teeth of their rivals to the tune of 11 to 2.

After the first inning the Medics were helpless before Ryan and Schaefer, while the Dents slammed the ball all over the lot.

Walters and Soblik led the onslaught for the Dents and hammered out hit after hit. Walters knocked one home run. Coady played a nice fielding game for the Medics. Ryan allowed no hits during his term in the box and Schaefer only allowed one.

Walters, Ryan and Schaefer did the twirling for the Dents and Hagerty was behind the bat. Pitts and Young were batteries for the Medics.

MESSERLY, EX-ROURKE MAN, DIES IN DENVER SANITARIUM

Jack Messerly, first baseman on Pa. Rourke's nine in the early '90s, is dead at Denver after a prolonged illness. He was well known among western fans, played with Denver for a while and was once manager of the Sioux City team. After leaving the west he went east and played with the major leagues, later becoming a member of the Chicago police force.

It was while he was so occupied that he

FEDERALS NEED MINOR LEAGUE

Two Circuits Said to Be Negotiating for Alliance.

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—Two minor leagues are negotiating for an alliance with the Federal league, said Otto Sifel, the heaviest stockholder in the St. Louis Federals, today.

"We will have our own minor leagues next season. The indications are that we can have as many as we want. The minor leagues with which we are dealing are of high classification. They are almost ready to jump now."

"We must acquire minor leagues to farm our players. Every man who signed our contract this year, at a time when we did not have much proof of our ability, will be taken care of. Their salary is assured for life. We have their names enrolled and will always look after them."
