There is still a big open interest in the corn market at Chicago, and those on the bear side, and who have losses staring them in the face, claim that the success. The start is the face, claim that the success. The start is the face, claim that the success. The start is the face, claim that the success. The start is the face, claim that the success. The start is the success. The start Many believe that the run at the leading western points will show a further failing off, as with the ground dry and farm work again in order, farmers will give little attention to hauling bogs to the railway stations for shipment to Chicago r elsewhere. The situation in oats is believed to be

The situation in cats is believed to be bearish by many of the trade. The cash business is not in evidence and the of-ferings are liberal. The claim of late seeding in some sections is overbalanced by the possibilities of more Canadian cats being brought here, which come di-rect in contact with cats raised here. Those who are long on cats are disposing of their lines in the belief that corn-will sell lower and that cats will act in sympathy.
