

WALKER SAYS HE'S THE GOAT

President of School Board is Angry at Unknown Member.

FLATLY DENIES INTERVIEW

Says Somebody is Tipping Off Inside News and that Reporters are Hanging Interviews on Him Against Wishes.

In flatly denying an interview in a local paper, President C. T. Walker of the Board of Education declared that an attempt is being made to make him the "goat" for members of the committee on teachers and instruction who have surreptitiously given out information after meetings of the committee.

"Somebody is trying to make me the goat," said President Walker. "The reporter came to me with all the information about a meeting of the teachers' committee and then tried to hang an interview on me. I did not say what he quoted me as saying and have never said that and do not intend to say it."

President Walker was quoted as saying the training school for teachers was not managed right; that one person picked, instructed and graduated the members of the class.

Poster Also Disclaims Interview. Chairman J. J. Foster of the teachers' committee said he had refused to give out information as to what the teachers' committee, which met Thursday night, would recommend. Told that President Walker had implied that he (Dr. Foster) was trying to make "a goat of the president," Dr. Foster denied any such intention.

It is likely that the report of the teachers' committee will participate a row in the Board of Education meeting Monday night, especially if the committee reports in favor of abandoning the summer school, on account of the expense that attaches to it.

President Walker, it is understood, has looked with disfavor on the action of some of the members of the board whom he has supported heretofore. A break is imminent, it is believed, and with it will come a revival of the old wars on the school board.

Expense of Summer School. Dr. E. Holvichner, one of President Walker's supporters now, declared that with proper pruning the expense of a summer school could be so reduced that it would be negligible. He said:

"As I understand one of the reasons why the vacation school is to be abandoned is on account of the finances. The cost last year was only $3,000 and with some restrictions the expense could be cut down in my judgment. It is a poor policy to economize on education of the children. The summer school last year proved a great success. In spite of the terrific heat the children attended regularly and were greatly benefited by it, as the records in Superintendent Graff's office will show."

NO BANK CHANGES EXPECTED

Eastern Financial Men Believe Federal Centers Permanent.

KOUNTZE SEES A GOOD FUTURE

Brother of Local Bankers Declares that the Country is on the Eve of Great Commercial Stimulation.

"Eastern bankers do not expect any changes to be made by the federal board in the locations or districts of the regional reserve banks, in response to protests from disappointed cities," says Herman D. Kountze of New York, brother of Charles T. and Luther L. Kountze of the First National bank of Omaha, now in the city.

"There was surprise in the east at the decision of the committee in choosing certain cities for regional banks. It is quite natural that the idea should prevail that politics may have had something to do with it. But since the committee has done its work, it is quite unlikely that the board will make any changes."

The country is on the eve of great stimulation in financial and business matters, according to Mr. Kountze, who says that eastern conditions already point to decided betterment along those lines. He is here with other officers of Kountze banks at New York and Denver, to confer with officials of the First National in regard to the recent acquisition of a fourth bank by the Kountze interests. It is the Merchants' Exchange National of New York, of which Herman D. Kountze is now vice president. Others in the Kountze chain are Kountze Bros., bankers, of New York, the Colorado National of Denver, and the First National of Omaha.

Auto Truck Drivers Not Blamed for the Death of Mrs. Barr

A coroner's jury returned a verdict yesterday afternoon exonerating Harry Beal and Jesse Buel, drivers of the Omaha Ice and Cold Storage company auto truck that Thursday noon struck, ran over and killed Mrs. P. J. Barr at Nineteenth and Harney streets.

Testimony at the inquest was that a large touring car followed by an electric fender immediately in front of the truck before the accident, thereby hindering and confusing the drivers of the truck, who did not notice Mrs. Barr until the car was upon her.

Just previous to the accident Beal, standing on the running board, grasped the wheel to direct Buel in his work. He had jammed on the emergency brake just a fraction too late to avoid striking the woman. Both men were released from custody when the verdict was returned.

Funeral services for Mrs. P. J. Barr will be conducted by Rev. Grant Fisher at the Dundee Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial, which will be private, will be at Forest Lawn. Representatives from the various organizations of which Mrs. Barr was a member will be present at the services. The pallbearers will be Ralph W. Barr, Edmond L. Barr, Arthur Edward Barr of Grand Island and Charles Haffke.

Mrs. L. Edmond Barr, who was seriously injured and taken to the Wise Memorial hospital, is resting well.

RALPH MOSS AGAIN IN COURT

Judge English Hears Arguments Over a Jury Trial.

DONAHOE PLEADS FOR THE LAD

Case Comes Up on Motion for Rehearing of Previous Decision that $1,000 Paid to Ralph's Father Was Settlement.

Resting on an appeal by his attorney that little Ralph Moss, with his stump of a leg, twice amputated and still the seat of a running sore which endangers his life, is entitled to tell his story to twelve jurors, who shall say whether the Missouri Pacific railroad should pay for his injury, the case of the 7-year-old cripple was again entrusted to District Judge English yesterday.

Casting aside recriminations and charges made by opposing counsel Attorney T. A. Donahoe made a plea to the court for substantial justice for the child that caused the few spectators who were present to sit motionless for seconds after he had finished. The court took the case under advisement. It came up on a motion for a rehearing of a previous decision that a $1,000 payment to Ralph's father by the railroad would serve to dismiss the lad's suit for $25,000 against the company.

"It is argued that the settlement made in this case was adequate," said Ralph's attorney. "I declare that the question of whether it was sufficient cannot arise before this court unless it was made legally, the money paid into court and then paid to a legally appointed guardian. In this case there was a back stairs settlement. To whom does the money belong? The court has not determined the question. A large part of it has been spent."

No Money for Boy. "How can we say the settlement was adequate? Where can we put our hands on any money belonging to Ralph? No person legally responsible holds it for him. The question of the adequacy of the settlement simply is not before the court."

"Though we are saying that the court made a mistake in deciding that this settlement was adequate in view of these facts we maintain not that it was done intentionally, but that the judge, like every other human being, is liable to err. We believe that this court is magnanimous enough to acknowledge a mistake and grant the boy justice. The granting of a trial by jury will do no injury to the railroad company."

It will not even have any costs to pay unless it should be found liable for Ralph's injury. If it is liable $1,000 is one-tenth of what he should receive. If it is not liable $1,000 is too much. We concede here and now that if a verdict should be secured the $1,000 should be deducted from the amount.

To Go to Higher Court. "On the other hand if the settlement is upheld the case must go to the supreme court. There must be a delay of two years, in which witnesses may be lost or their recollection impaired, the physical facts at the scene of the accident may be changed and Ralph, himself, may not be here to try the case. In the meantime he must suffer from want."

Ralph was represented by Donahoe and Donovan, while J. A. C. Kennedy, who made the settlement, appeared for the railroad. A large part of the hearing was devoted to the merits of counter affidavits filed by attorneys, who differed as to what the court had said in regard to the issues on which the previous motion would be decided.

Generous Rainfall Over State Makes Farmers Rejoice

Morning reports to the railroads indicate that rain Friday night was general all over Nebraska, with the exception of a limited area from Holdrege to McCook, pretty well out in the southwest corner of the state. The precipitation ranged from one-fourth to one and one-quarter inches, and at most of the stations it was still raining when the morning reports came in.

Railroad men say the rain was an all-night pour down throughout the entire Missouri valley, from Rulo on the south to Sioux City on the north. All over the winter wheat belt in the South Platte valley the rain was from a light drizzle to a heavy, but steady downpour, soaking into the ground as fast as it fell.

RIDES FOR ONE CENT EACH

Philanthropist from Kansas City Shows Omaha New Game.

ENDLESS CHAIN OF COUPONS

Modus Operandi Simplicity Itself and the Outcome as Remote as the Boundary of the Universe.

One is born every minute, according to the old gambler's axiom. But the birthrate will have to be multiplied several times in order to keep up with the demand created by T. R. Hawes, late of Kansas City, Mo., who has established the "Hawes One-Cent Street Car Fare Company," with offices in the Brandeis building. They are coming to him so fast that it seems the rate of one a minute has already been exceeded somewhere.

Mr. Hawes' plan is simplicity itself. You hand him a dollar and he gives you 25 cents and a book containing three coupons. These latter you are expected to sell for 25 cents each. Each of the purchasers returns to Mr. Hawes and secures a coupon book on the same terms as you did. When each of these three returns back to Mr. Hawes that he has disposed of the three coupons given him at the regular rate, you can go to Mr. Hawes and secure a book of twenty-five street car tickets for 25 cents.

When the nine have disposed of their coupons and twenty-seven have made their deposits of 75 cents each, and set forth with the coupons for sale, then the three you sold your coupons to can come in and get their street car tickets at the rate of 1 cent each.

You will note how it operates: When Mr. Hawes gives you your book of tickets, he has $75 on deposit for coupons. The cost of your tickets at the street railway company's regular rate of 5 cents per ticket with a net deposit of $5.50 against which he has issued nine coupon books, each calling for 25 cents or a net balance in his favor of $1.35. When he gives out the next three books of tickets, he has received $22.50 additional deposits, a total on hand of $28.75, against which he issues 22.50 of street railway tickets, leaving him a net balance of $25.

You can carry this calculation on for yourself and figure who is going to get stung in the end. Either Mr. Hawes is a millionaire philanthropist or he has solved the question of how to get something for nothing.

At noon he reported having 400 men out hustling to sell coupons. If they have

Switch Tender is Beaten by Thugs

Frank Dickinson, 1904 Clark street, a switch tender for the Union Pacific at Twenty-seventh and S streets, was badly beaten by thugs Friday night when he refused to flag a Missouri Pacific train for half a dozen tramps. He was found in a dazed condition yesterday by a train crew of the Rock Island, who wondered that the switch was not turned for them and investigated the case. Dickinson, about midnight, telephoned the South Omaha police that some tramps were after him. Officers responded to the call, but could not find the tramps or Dickinson. The latter was taken to St. Joseph's hospital and later taken home.

Do You Suspect Your Kidneys?

If So, Warners Should Be Taken at Once

Pains in the back are not the only symptoms of kidney trouble. A much more frequent indication is general weakness—while other common symptoms are furred tongue, distaste for food, headache and general depression of spirits. When the kidneys fail in their work, from inflammation or Bright's disease, the impurities inevitably return to the blood, and that is the beginning of impaired digestion and failing health, with nervous irritability and a dropsical condition. For 27 years Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy has been recommended by physicians in all stages of kidney complaint, and here's another man who appreciates the immense amount of good it has accomplished in his case: "About 7 years ago I was so weak and worn out that I could hardly walk. After trying other things without result, I tried Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy. In a short time the pain left me, my urine cleared up and the rheumatism and dyspepsia vanished. We have used Warner's ever since with great success in our family."—O. F. Reed, Burtonville, Ky. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy is sold every where by druggists in 50c and $1.00 sizes. CLEANUP IN SPITE OF RAIN

Five Hundred Tons of Rubbish is Moved Away Friday.

Commissioner Ryder Personally Superintends the Work of His Teams and Large Force of Laborers.

Five hundred tons of rubbish were hauled away from private residences by Street Commissioner J. J. Ryder's "clean-up" day brigade Friday and in spite of the rain the commissioner's 109 teams were kept busy at work all day today.

The record of the first day of the clean-up campaign amazed even the street commissioner. Nearly 2,000 calls were received at Ryder's office and citizens in all sections of the city to co-operate in the clean-up work.

Fewer calls were received today, but the rain did not prevent the work going on. Commissioner Ryder has been personally directing the work of his teams and a large force of laborers and has expressed his appreciation of the manner in which the people joined in the movement.
