

BABY SHOW IN FULL SWING

Last Item of Child's Welfare Exhibit is Completed.

BERNARD TOMBRINK NOW LEADS

Yonster from South Omaha Heads the List of Entries So Far Registered—Totals Are Having Great Time.

"If the war scare continues," said Mr. Buckley, manager of the Low-Cost-of-Living show, "we will have to arrange to receive bullpens from The Bee and flash them on a screen here."

The baby contest is in full swing, the last item, the child welfare exhibit, being completed yesterday. It is an ideal nursery, fully equipped with all things good for baby's development and to make him happy. The room is light and airy and is furnished in green and white. A new bassinet, known as a cariole, is the latest thing in screened beds for babies. Then there is a layette of sensible and proper clothing for the infant.

The little ones are not taking any kinder to the various operations of the doctors, nurses and attendants than they did on the opening day, the walls and sofas having increased in crescendo since yesterday, if that were possible. The plaintive expression of their faces as they are weighed, measured, thumped and examined is most pitiful to behold.

Highest Record So Far.
Bernard Tombrink, 7 months old, of 1421 North Twenty-third street, South Omaha, is the highest recorded baby so far. He lacks 15 pounds of being a perfect baby, being slightly deficient only in the weight and measure tests. Richard Chestnut, also 7 months, has perfect mouth and teeth structure. No babies are permitted to enter the contest who have the slightest temperature, two having been denied entrance for this reason.

According to Mrs. Mary Watts, national president, who is assisting Mrs. F. J. Biras and her committee in this work, the majority of entries are made by young mothers, of their first babies. "There are fewer entries by the fathers than we are accustomed to have," she said. Mrs. Watts was highly pleased with the fact that of all the babies there but one of them had been provided with a pacifier. "These are highly injurious to babies," said Mrs. Watts, "and when we explained it to the mother she promptly discarded it."

One little tot of 3 1/2 years strayed away from her mother and cried bitterly until her mother was located.

A note of sadness was sounded when an attendant approached a haggard and somewhat disheveled man and asked "Have you a baby here?" "No, my baby is at an undertaker's," he answered sadly and turned away. He was Ralph Sigler and referred to his wife, a two-weeks bride who died just a few days ago.

Is a Big Night.
Last night was society, base ball, suffrage and retail grocers' night. A special musical program was given and the wedding was a big event. The contracting parties were Walter C. Beal and Miss Hazel Genevieve Anderson of Walnut, Ia. The ceremony was performed by Rev. O. D. Bailly of Kountze Memorial church, following which the young couple left for Chicago on a brief trip. The bride has promised to submit to the Retail Grocers' association a monthly budget which will be used as proof that this is really an economic wedding. A special car brought forty people from Walnut, Ia., for this event.

Speeches on Suffrage.
Suffrage speeches were on the program and lectures were given by Dr. S. L. Liepener of Kansas City of the bureau of foods and drugs of the Department of Agriculture. Dr. Liepener will also speak tonight, when a number of the Lincoln Commercial club members, headed by President W. C. Beachey and representatives from a number of commercial clubs all over the state will be in attendance.

Mrs. B. C. Strehlow, president of the Concordia Singing societies, has arranged for a musical program promptly at 10 o'clock this evening. Over twenty-five voices are in the choir and will sing a special German program. In addition the Ladies Concordia Singing society, the Lyra society and others will be on hand and will all give special music.

The bureau of household efficiency, maintained by the Omaha Woman's club, is interesting the women by its fireless cookers, sanitary refrigerators, newest things in utensils, coffee roasters, etc. A number pause, too, to admire the immense animal carving in butter. It is reminiscent of the story of a great sculptor, whose talent was discovered when as a child he displayed his art by modeling a figure from the pat of butter sent for his master's plate.

Columbus Bids for Reformatory
In a bid for the new state reformatory, Columbus citizens are sending out an attractive little booklet telling about the advantages of that locality for the institution. The plan was written by a committee with H. M. Chambers as chairman. The salient arguments are that Columbus is in the center of the state in behalf of population; that the site is offering is priced reasonably; that the crops in that locality are normally certain, and that the transportation facilities are unsurpassed.

As a town Columbus is making good end, the citizens there agree to fulfill in detail all the promises they are making to the members of the state board which is handling the location of the new reformatory. Practically all of the requirements voiced by the board have been met by Columbus citizens so far.

MUST MAKE RESERVATIONS FOR "SUFF" DINNER EARLY
Mrs. Frank Crawford of the Vassar club and Mrs. W. C. Sunderland of the suffrage committee, who are in charge of the luncheon to be tendered Dr. Katherine Bement Davis at the Home hotel next Tuesday, announce that no reservations will be made later than Monday noon. Tickets are now on sale at suffrage headquarters, 419 Brandeis theater building.

Misses May L. Copeland, Hilda Hamner and Margaret Bruce are also members of the Vassar club's committee for the luncheon. Dr. Davis is a Vassar graduate of the class of 1892.

A Cure for Sour Stomach.
Mrs. Wm. M. Thompson of Battle Creek, Mich., writes: "I have been troubled with indigestion, sour stomach and bad breath. After taking two bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets I am well. These tablets are splendid—none better. All Dealers—Advertisement."

Electrical Stove Assists in Cooking

The possibilities of the electrical stove as a mean of cooking in the home are unlimited. Today there are several of these ranges on the market, which are proving satisfactory in every respect and are in actual operation in Omaha homes, a source of pleasure and comfort to their owners.

One stove is the nearest approach to the gas range. The burners on top are made of wire imbedded in composition, which, when the switch is turned, becomes red hot in an instant. The ordinary kitchen utensils may then be used, as on other stoves.

The oven and broiler are heated in the same manner, by red hot electric wires, controlled by a switch. No matches are needed.

The cleanliness of the electrical range is a strong recommendation in favor of electric cooking. With this stove there is no soot or dirt and cleanliness is especially desirable in the kitchen above all else. The convenience and safety of electric cooking also play in favor of this modern method of preparing food.

Saving Shown With Electrical Washer
Again we hear from the man with the mathematical brain.

A washerwoman receives one dollar and sixty cents a day and one or two meals say twenty-five cents. This means one hundred dollars a year.

An electric washing machine costs about one cent an hour to operate. Four hours will do the average family washing. This means four cents a day or about two dollars a year.

Therefore, in less than one year the saving will pay for the washing machine. This mathematical sharp, however, did not know that the saving in clothes and linen, due to their not receiving hard rubbing, amounted to a neat little sum. Again electricity does it better and cheaper.

Vacuum Cleaner Saves Landlord Money
The use of a vacuum cleaner now goes as part and parcel of a great many flats. The newer apartment buildings consider the vacuum cleaner right along with heat or the gas stove.

The reason is probably partly a selfish one coupled with a desire to please. The easier it is for the tenants to keep the apartments absolutely clean, the more likely they are to be kept absolutely clean. The cleaner the flat is kept the better for the landlord's pocketbook, so far as repair bills for paint and varnish, etc., go.

Commercial Club Makes Request of Bank Committee
Formal protest has been made by the Omaha Commercial club to the Federal Reserve Bank Organization committee against the placing of Omaha in the Kansas City reserve district. This action followed a series of meetings held jointly by a special committee from the Commercial club and the members of the Omaha Clearing House association. The special committee of the Commercial club consisted of J. A. Sunderland, J. L. McCague, W. S. Wright, J. W. Towle and W. E. Rhoades. The action of the committee was submitted to the executive committee of the Commercial club and approved. Copies will be sent to the senators and representatives of Nebraska and Wyoming as well as to the reserve bank organization committee. The protest asks that if it is finally found impossible to give Omaha one of the banks, that Nebraska and Wyoming be eliminated from the Kansas City district and be placed in the Chicago district.

STEEL ARRIVES FOR THE NEW U. S. BANK BUILDING
The first carload of structural steel for the new building of the United States National bank to be erected at sixteenth and Farnam streets has been shipped from New Bethlehem, Pa., and is coming over the Burlington, this road having secured the contract for moving this class of material to be used in the structure. This shipment is due to arrive next week.

General passenger agent Wakley of the Burlington announces that the company has taken a ten year lease on the ground floor, corner room in the new building, lease dating from January 1, 1915, at which time the building will be ready for occupancy.

FREDRICKSON TALKS ROADS

Returns from Coast Trip and Discusses Lincoln Highway.

HERE TO MEET PARDINGTON

Consul-at-Large Comes to Omaha to Go Over Improvement Plans with Vice President of the Association.

H. E. Fredrickson, consul-at-large for the Lincoln Highway, has returned to Omaha from the coast and will remain here a few days consulting with A. R. Pardington, vice president of the Highway association, who arrives here from the east Thursday. Mr. Fredrickson has just completed a tour from San Francisco to Salt Lake City by auto, and while doing so he laid the route for a large part of the highway in that country.

In Utah and Nevada Mr. Fredrickson settled definitely routes where there was some dispute and he laid out a short cut from Ely, Nev., to Salt Lake City. The distance between those two towns was 23 miles, but Fredrickson made a short cut through the desert regions and has mapped a course just ninety-one miles shorter. Where this desert road is a speedway course can be built for the slight expenditure of $200 or $300 a mile, and it will be done by the association.

Improving Roads.
According to Mr. Fredrickson, in sixty days all the roads in Utah and Nevada will be improved by at least 50 per cent. Next summer a great deal of work is to be done and it is hoped to have the western roads in the best of condition by next fall.

Mr. Fredrickson reports that the enthusiasm in the west is very great, even though the exposition is taking up a large part of their time. When he arrived in the coast country the roads were marked with signs in a remarkably short time.

Mr. Fredrickson will be here several days. Until he confers with Mr. Pardington, he has no plans for future activities.
