ROURKES HIT BY A HOODOO

Last Game of Series Goes to St. Joe by a Score of Eight to Four.

LUCK IS WITH THE VISITORS

Stage of the Playing, Thus Putting Out an Ensy

The ladies' day hoodoo, a regular attendant at Rourke park last season, advanced to the front for the first time this over and Omaha was licked, $ to 4, as a

While they played mediocre ball and were inferior in hitting, they were easy inners. Every time an Omaha man aked the ball in a pinch some Josie thicke was right at the propitious, spot. Half a dozen times ripping line drives dropped fair into the hands of an in-

Howard House, late of Kewanes, III., and the Chicago White Sox, was the initial victim of the hoodoo, Mr. House couldn't make the ball behave. It just ouldn't no over the pan and as a reault Mr. House found bimself confronted with difficult situations. So difficult did come that Harry Hicks was hurto the rescue. Harry put the finx he hooden for two rounds, but he on't keep it up. Harry fanaed two da't keep it up. Harry fanaed two es with the hases choked. This is e feat and Harry thought he had the soing his way. But in the next inman on third romped home. Again the luck. If Tommle could have kept his feet all would have been well. But it was not to be such and Harry gave in before the powerful wave lines of the before the powerful wave lines of the St. Joseph hammered the ball

The game started with the two teams that the game started with the two teams that the game started with the two teams that the game started with the end of the sight the score was tied, but after that it sight the score was tied, but after that it was all off. A little better base running was all off. A little better base running was all off. Crosby waited to see if Warson should catch the fly and only made third base on a per- ANTELOPES TRIM fectly good double. In the fourth House walked and when June doubled against left field fence he tried to score. He tore around third like Bitten Benz and, diaregarding Conding's halt signals, tore up the ground around the plate while Schang caught

Several times Omaha players got caught stealing, even though Schang's throws ture far from the mark.

Chase's hit. R. Watson's error Thomason's grounder and Congalton drive brought the first run in the first Crosby's double, House's doub nd Clancy's energies fly brought as other in the second. Chase's double at Thomason's single brought a third in the fourth, after House was nailed plate. Then for four incluse Omal falled to score.

In the ninth Joe Bell, batting bilchs, tried to start something. opened with a single, was forced at so and by Clancy, but Chase uncorked third hit, another double. Thomason we safe on an infield hit and Clancy score on Krug's sacrifice fly. Ward was se in to but for Consulton, but was calle out on strikes, thus ending the spurt. Today Des Moines opens here and it probable that Lester Stevenson will wor for the local team. Yesterday's score

PAT CONNORS TAKES PLACE OF PARDELLO SATURDA

Due to an injury to his leg receiv Thursday night in Chleago in his bo with Jean Massau, Leo Pardello, the redoubtable Italian comedian and exponent of the rough-house game, will be inable to meet Joe Stecher, the Nebrasks wonder, at the Krug theater Saturday night. But Manager Franke has substituted Patrick Conners, the Irish champion, who is one of the best of the present galaxy of wrestlers in Chicago. While it will probably be minus the graband-bite feature Pardello would propogate, the match should be an even and interesting one.

He is a natural trader and in his transactions is loud and angry in manner and rather likes opposition. When excited he falls into the uncouth Yorkshire dialect. When no appeat is made to his Yorkshire instincts he relapses into a mournful silence, his conversation being generally the word "Ay!" varied with "Well, now!" and "Y-a-s!" He owns miles of pictures and tapeatry and tons of statuary, according to English newspaper reports, over which he merely yawns. He reads little. His speeches, which he makes only in Yorkshire, consist generally of "Ay, my friends, but I am gis-a-d to see ye!" Whether in town or country he lives in surroundings the luxury of which is almost beyond description. He has armies of attendants. Liveried lackeys stand at his doorways like statues. The calves of his mute footmen are awathed in silk and Sheir alippers are rubbered to insure o the abcalute slience which he requires. He spent $10,000,000 in his Mexican oil fight. His shooting box in Aberdenshire cost a million. His town house could be 0-8 gold for $3,000,000.
