M'ADOO TURNS OMAHA DOWN

Secretary Maintains Lordly Attitude to Objecting Delegation.

HITCHCOCK'S COMPLIMENT LOST

Tells Nebraskans There is No Desire to Change Current of Trade by Locating Regional Bank Center at Kansas City.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, May 5.—(Special Telegram.)—With every member of the Nebraska delegation present this morning, with the lone exception of Representative Maguire, who has shown no interest whatsoever in having a reconsideration of the regional reserve bank location in the Tenth regional district, and with the representatives in congress from Wyoming upon the scene, Secretary McAdoo met for the first time these congressional delegations from the states named in opposition in the location of Kansas City as the capital of the Tenth regional district.

In addition to the representatives from Nebraska and Wyoming there were present Luther Drake, president of the Merchants National bank and G. W. Wattles, president of the United States National bank and also president of the street railway company of Omaha. The two named states were invited to participate in the meeting in the office of the secretary of the treasury by reason of their large experience in the banking world in the west.

Secretary McAdoo showed that his mind had been fully made up with relation to the choice of the twelve regional bank locations, and that he, for one, would not be a party to any reconsideration tending to change the work of the organization committee of the federal reserve board.

His manner at times, as noticed by those present, was courteous itself, and he insisted upon breaking into the statements made by the representatives of Nebraska and Wyoming in a most unseemly manner to say the least. One of the mildest mannered men in congress remarked after the hearing: "If Secretary McAdoo does not allow his wife-tactics to be any better chance to present her views upon household matters than he gave the Nebraska delegations he had better not get married."

Senator Hitchcock, as senior of the delegation, introduced the matter of the call by stating that he recognized that the board composed of Messrs. McAdoo, Houston and John Skelton Williams, had not the right of review, but he intimated to Secretary McAdoo that the right of review would rest with the board as finally made up. He paid a compliment to Mr. McAdoo by stating that he had been the power undoubtedly in the selection of regional cities and that he would probably be the "governor general" of the federal reserve board when finally named by the president.

At the time this statement was made Senator Hitchcock was not advised that Richard Olney, former secretary of state in President Cleveland's cabinet, had been tendered the position of governor of the board and that his acceptance was likely.

Asks for Nebraska's Kick.

Secretary McAdoo abruptly pushed aside the compliment given him by Senator Hitchcock by saying that he would not be the head of the federal reserve board and then he got right down to "brass tacks" by wanting to know what the Nebraskans "had to kick on, anyhow," or words to that effect.

Senator Hitchcock voiced the objection of Nebraska as well as that of Wyoming when he said the banking interests of the states named protesting against being put into the Kansas City district; that their business relations were with Chicago as against Kansas City and that any other arrangement except an arrangement whereby Omaha would have been made a regional bank center would be wholly unsatisfactory and unpalatable to the community's requirements.

The views of the senior senator were strengthened with variations as applicable to the case of particular localities by Congressman Lobeck, Stephens, Sloan, Kinkaid, Senator Norris and by Luther Drake on behalf of the banking interests of Nebraska and Wyoming, backed up by the entire Wyoming delegation consisting of Senators Warren and Clark and Congressman Frank W. Mondell.

Throughout the hearing Secretary McAdoo failed notably to display any greatness of mind of person, but, on the contrary, seemed peeved, and as one congressman expressed it, took a "mighty-fighty, high and mighty" position highly justified by the character of the men composing the delegations or of the serious importance of the subject at hand.

No Chance for Change.

The secretary, however, intimated that there was no disposition to change the current of trade from east and west to north and south, as has been predicted would be done in the selection of Kansas City as the capital of the Tenth reserve district. He said, in substance, that he did not see how the whole thing could have been done differently from what it was and attempted to assure the delegations that the arrangement would not hurt anybody. For, he said, it made no difference where the reserve was kept, as that city would only be a discount bank for the territory interested. However, he assured them a respectful hearing before the Federal Reserve board, when completed, if they desired to present their objections to that body.

Annuities for Santees.

Representative Dan V. Stephens was greatly elated today over the passage of his bill in the house granting the restoration of annuities for the Santee Sioux Indians in Knox county, Nebraska, and giving them the right to go to the court of claims. For sixteen years or more a bill of this character has been pending in one or other house of congress until it had almost become moth eaten.

A long time ago the late Congressman Latta, who represented the Third district of Nebraska, succeeded in getting a bill of similar character passed in both houses of congress, but it failed in conference because of the inability of attorneys to agree upon the fees that should be paid in the settlement of the claims.

Now, after a number of years, Mr. Stephens sees light ahead, as he expects Senator Clapp, a member of the Indian affairs committee, and also Senator Hitchcock, to take a lively interest in getting his bill through the senate, the understanding to be that there is no restriction whatsoever on the attorneys' fee in the bill which passed today, all parties in interest agreeing absolutely in the terms of the measure.

Should the court of claims decide in favor of these Indians they will receive about $150,000.

A motion by attorneys of the Board of Supervisors of Dakota county to dismiss an injunction suit against them, filed by farmers who wish to prevent ditches and drainage district No. 3 from being constructed across their land, was denied by Chief Justice White of the supreme court today.

H. W. O'Neill and Cornelius K. Hofferman are seeking the injunction on the ground that the proposed ditches will injure their lands and cause part of them to be overflowed by the proposed diversion of the water of Elk creek into Jackson lake. The district court and later the Nebraska supreme court dismissed the temporary injunction. Under the order of Chief Justice White today the case will be tried on its merits in the supreme court, which will probably be reached in a year.

Income Tax Penalties.

Congressman Lobeck today had another conference with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo on the subject of the penalties imposed upon those who failed to file their reports under the new income tax law within the time specified. Mr. Lobeck pointed out that $50 penalty upon corporations and $10 upon individuals, none of them profiting in any way by failure to file within time limit, seemed onerous and unfair, and called attention to the fact that two years ago the assessment in default of filing in time was, where no profit had accrued to either corporations or individuals, but $10. Thereupon Secretary McAdoo requested Mr. Lobeck to submit an argument of the case to the first assistant of the treasury, Mr. Hamlin, stating the facts mentioned.

Mr. Lobeck promptly did later in the day. It is understood a decision will be made by the department at an early date.

Visitors in Washington.

F. B. Knapp, vice president of the First National bank of Fremont, and Mrs. Knapp arrived in Washington today and are the house guests of Representative and Mrs. Dan Stephens. They will remain several days, and then go to New York and other eastern cities continuing their short vacation before returning home.

ner in which you have excited internal troubles and then called on all Mexicans to help fight the external troubles, is not at all the word.

Didn't Show Wisdom.

"General Huerta you did not show much wisdom when you were converted into instruments of the Cientificos and brought about the assassination of President Madero, Vice President Pino Suarez and some other liberal democrats because you did not realize that the blood of the heroes who started the democratic movement in 1912 would cause a civil war which would lead to your ruin.

"Now you desire to provoke a foreign war to save yourselves from the disaster coming from the civil conflict. You show even less wisdom when you pile up mountains of machinations and lies which will crumble about your ears.

"You have sought to make this union between yourselves and the constitutionalists, who are under arms, and with the pretext of a foreign war you seek to arm many Mexicans whose sympathies are not with you, but whose patriotism exacts that you save yourselves from the disaster which is about to arm a people who in justice would chastise your crime. These same people, when they discover you are an assassin of democracy, you seek to win over by starting a war against a foreign nation to serve your personal interest and those of your party.

A Stupid Assertion.

"It will soon be proved that the satanic declarations which you traitors to the fatherland have made in stating that we have formed a union with the North Americans is a stupid assertion which will cost you your existence and bring to your families an eternal shame.

"The constitutionalists have the desire to do all possible compatible with the national dignity to avoid a foreign war, but if we are not able to avoid it, we will face two enemies, the powerful stranger and the depraved compatriots.

error of Puebla requesting their release. Pining continues daily at Tampico between constitutionalists and federal forces, according to a report transmitted from Admiral Mayo by Admiral Badger today. Heavy guns were heard yesterday morning.

Admiral Badger also reports that he is forming a special service squadron under Admiral Winslow. He did not indicate what ships would be employed for this purpose. The Tacoma and the Dea Moines, it was stated, would remain under Admiral Mayo at Tampico for the present.

More Troops Embark.

GALVESTON, Tex., May 5.—The Galveston water front is humming with preparations to embark more troops for Mexico. Just when the order will come is not known at headquarters, but instructions have been given to the quartermaster's department to have the transports loaded with supplies and ready for sailing by Friday.

General Davis, in command of the Second division of the army at Texas City, has two brigades—the Fourth and Sixth—ready at the bugle call to break camp and sail for Vera Cruz. Secretary Garrison has not designated which of these infantry organizations will be sent to reinforce Brigadier General Funston.

The four transports, the Meade, Sumner, McClellan and Kilpatrick, scarcely had swung alongside their pier after their trip from Vera Cruz when scores of cleaners were put to work, putting them in condition to take on more troops.

Rolls of mosquito netting also will be taken to Vera Cruz to be used in keeping off the fever breeding mosquitoes after nightfall.

The army aeroplanes have been boxed and will be sent to Vera Cruz on the transports.

O'Shaughnessy's Baggage Stolen.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 5.—Mexicans did not even expect Nelson O'Shaughnessy, former American chargé at Mexico City, in leaving on American property after the fall of Vera Cruz. Nearly all of the baggage of Mr. and Mrs. O'Shaughnessy was stolen from the special train Huerta provided for the charge and his party to transport them to Vera Cruz after he had been handed his passports.

REBS TOLD TO STAY AWAY

South American Diplomats Withdrawn.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—General Carranza and the constitutionalists today were practically eliminated from proceedings of the three South American envoys who have undertaken to solve the Mexican problem by diplomacy.

In a telegram to General Carranza, the mediator announced that in view of his refusal to agree to an armistice with General Huerta, they withdrew their invitation to him to send a personal representative to participate in the mediation negotiations.

The mediators told the constitutionalist that as long as he maintained his present attitude they must decline to treat with him. General Carranza had inquired in a note to the envoys what subjects a special representative might be required to discuss, pointing out that if the general problem of pacifying Mexico were to be approached he could not authorize any one to participate in the negotiations.

His Mediation Limit.

He reiterated that he would consent to mediation only on the incident which had brought about a controversy "between the United States and Mexico," holding that he was the constitutionally chosen leader to whom complaint about the insult at Tampico and other offenses originally should have been made.

In their telegram tonight the mediators quoted Carranza's last note to them, adding that as long as he maintained that attitude they must decline to receive a representative from him as they could not separate the incidents at Tampico and elsewhere, which had brought about friction between Mexico and the United States, from the general subject of pacifying Mexico.

Indiana Miners and Operators Are Near Break

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 5.—The relations between the operators and the miners of District No. 11 were near the breaking point when the joint convention was resumed today to hear the report of the joint scale committee. The afternoon session of the convention was marked by heated debates and warm repartee. Delegate O'Laughlin accused the operators of being a "bunch of rogues" and said: "If you operators want a good old-fashioned strike you can have it."

Secretary Phil Penna of the operators replied: "If you miners are looking for a strike you can have it now. We are ready."

It appeared there would be a break in negotiations soon.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 5.—Coal miners of the Kanawha district of West Virginia were ordered today to return to work and continue the operations of the mines until either a new contract was signed or negotiations with the operators were severed. This action was taken by the international executive board of the United Mine Workers of America, which in its session here, after it had heard from the West Virginia field.

THIS DRUG STORE AN INNOVATION

"Prescripto" Drug Co., Takes Over Old Merchants Drug Co. Establishment.

An Energetic Incorporation of Widely Known and Admittedly Able Business Men.

The Southwest Corner of 16th and Howard Sts. bids fair to be an exceedingly "lively" corner now; a change of administration coming up over night having made it so.

What was formerly known as The Merchants Drug Store has now been taken over by the "Prescripto" Drug Company, an incorporation made up of business men amply prepared to make this newer venture a "go."

E. W. Getten, widely known as Nebraska and Black Hills representative of The Rothenberg & Schloas Cigar Co. of Kansas City, is president of the "Prescripto," while D. J. Killen of Beatrice, president of the State Board of Pharmacy, is elected for vice president. A. S. Gillette, secretary and treasurer, is also popular among the drug fraternity, having served for a number of years as road representative for the Hochschild & Ketter Co. of Chicago, a large drug sundry house.

The "Prescripto," while replete with every modern department demanded by a drug store, will still be a drug store primarily; that is, the foundation of the business must be laid on the sale of drugs and the making of prescriptions.

"Safety First" is the slogan adopted for the "Prescripto." It being intended to impress the public that prescriptions will be filled here exactly as the physician orders them, with correctly adjusted doses and chemicals, yet at a price that must be voted popular.

"SERVICE"—the customer first and always, and a "thank you," whether his purchase amounts to a nickel or a dollar, will be rigidly insisted on here. In fact, the board of directors will hold meetings at intervals to see that this service idea is carried out.

The store will remain closed for the remainder of the week, thus giving the new management ample time to shape store, stock and fixtures to their liking. Numerous newspaper announcements, however, will keep the public in touch with every move made by the "Prescripto."

Remember—it's no longer the Merchants Drug Store, but the "Prescripto"—"Safety First"—a drug store that will be a drug store basically, even though the modern drug establishment must have soda, lunches, cigars, candies and the like.

Watch the "Prescripto."
