FUNERALS OF NAVAL HEROES

Bodies of Men Slain at Vera Cruz Are Sent to Relatives.

TWO BURIED IN BROOKLYN

Body of Francis P. De Lowrey is Lying in State in Soldiers Memorial Hall in City of Pittsburgh.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The great public tribute at an end, the relatives of three of the seventeen sailors and marines killed at Vera Cruz claimed their bodies and took them to their homes in this city. The bodies of the others were sent to their various destinations.

The coffin containing the body of Dennis J. Lane, accompanied by the father, John P. Lane, arrived at the Lane home, in East Forty-fifth street, from the navy yard last night.

In the house Mrs. Catherine Lane, the mother, waited. She was overcome when told that the coffin could not be opened. Later those in the street were allowed to enter and hundreds passed the flag-draped coffin. The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning in St. Agnes' Catholic church. Cadets of St. Francis Xavier's school will escort the body to the church, where the children of the school and St. Agnes' school will meet the cortege.

John L. Schumaker's body was removed to the home of his mother, Mrs. Isabella Mackay, in Brooklyn. When the body arrived there the crowd was so great police reserves had to be called out. The funeral was held today.

The body of Albin E. Stream was taken to the home of his father, Eric P. Stream, in Brooklyn. Services were held in the Dean Street Baptist church today.

De Lowrey's Body Lies in State. PITTSBURGH, May 12.—(Special.)—The body of Francis P. De Lowrey, Pittsburgh, began to do honor to its son who died with sixteen others in the fighting incident to the American occupation of Vera Cruz.

Tomorrow morning, which will be a public holiday by proclamation of Mayor Armstrong, the public funeral will be held in St. Paul's cathedral. The escort will be composed of military and veteran organizations, the mayor and city council.

The body lay in state today in Soldiers Memorial hall, guarded by a detail from the Eighteenth Infantry, National Guard.

CHEAPER FARES BLOCKED

(Continued from Page One.) dence to the contrary and no affidavit filed to the contrary, and I don't suppose one could be filed—one in which a hearing only can admit of an adequate solution with reference to—and that is the question of adequate compensation for the company's services to meet its different obligations. It is entitled to proper compensation; it is entitled to compensation that will admit of its paying its employees, of paying its legal charges and admitting of legal dividends.

"Now the petition states a statement of the cost of carrying passengers in this territory. The cost of carrying passengers is such that in some places it is more than 5 cents. It is so high that the only conclusion that can be reached from reading the petition is that the company could not stand seven fares for a quarter. I have no question about that. There could be an argument raised that six fares for a quarter might not work possibly any loss of net income, but whether the extra use of cars or the loss of them or anything could admit any argument, taking those figures as true.

"The fact of anything but serious net loss if these rates were put in force is a question that can only be determined by investigation, so I have concluded to grant this injunction."

With regard to the question of adequacy of the initiative petitions the judge said that while the law apparently leaned toward the construction that the city clerk in checking the list of signatures should consult only the registration lists, on the other hand, the legislature nowhere has provided that only registered voters shall sign petitions and until the legislature does so provide the courts will not make such a requirement, but will hold signatures of qualified voters to be sufficient.

Right to Fix Rates. In expressing his opinion that the railroad commission, the legislature and the city all have power to regulate the street railway company's rates the judge declined to say what he thought would happen if the three powers should fix opposing rates. He hinted, however, that the legislature probably would be considered supreme.

The street railway company in its petition alleged that the average cost of transportation per passenger during the year ending June 30, 1913, was 2.5 cents. The following figures as to cost also were provided in the company's petition: Florence to end of park line, 87 cents; Benson to end of South Omaha line, 12.5 cents; end of the terminals to center of Omaha, about 5 cents; park line to north-

DICTATOR PROMISES PROMPT RELEASE OF CONSUL SILLIMAN

The recent charge by General Blanquet that the Americans were breaking the armistice caused General Funston to confer with his legal adviser, Colonel Porter. They agreed that while actually no armistice exists, there is a tacit understanding that neither side will inaugurate hostilities. The interpretation placed on the agreement by General Funston and Colonel Porter would permit of unlimited strengthening of both the Mexican and American forces so long as no advance was made.

Several schools re-opened today in addition to those which were re-established yesterday and the department of public health and police continued their work of restoring the city to normal conditions.

"Whois Who" at the NEW Drug Store?

The moment the "Prescripto" introduced itself, almost every Omahan said to himself: "It seems to start up like a live place; I wonder who is back of it?"

The directorate of the "Prescripto" is made up as follows:

PRESIDENT—E. W. Getten; known over four states as representative of the Rothenberg & Schloss Cigar Co., of Kansas City.

VICE PRESIDENT—D. J. Killen. Mr. Killen is absolute head of the "Prescripto" prescription dept., and he would not be President of the State Board of Pharmacy if he were not posted in this direction.

SECRETARY AND TREASURER—A. S. Gillette; formerly traveling salesman for a huge drug sundry house; he knows the small goods end of a drug store from start to finish.

DIRECTORS—Paul J. Wickham of the popular Getten & Wickham Cigar Stores of Omaha, and John D. Weir of the law firm of Piatt & Weir of this city, a firm exceedingly well thought of among the legal fraternity.

Now then, don't you think that the "Prescripto" is in competent hands?

IS YOUR BACK LAME?

A Glass of Rheumalins Will Fix You Up. If your back aches—look out! It may mean kidney trouble which if left to develop, leads to such fatal diseases as dropsy and Bright's disease. A lame back generally means that your kidneys are clogged with impurities—they are sluggish in their work of filtering the blood. Most rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness and bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys. You can help the weakened kidneys and put them in good working order again by taking Rheumalins in a glass of water before breakfast for a few mornings.

TRAMP FINDS DOLLAR NOTE ISSUED BY CITY OF OMAHA

YORK, Neb., May 12.—(Special.)—A few days ago a stranger approached Mike Gold, owner of the billiard hall, and wanted to sell him a $1 note issued by the city of Omaha, due and payable in one year and drawing 10 per cent interest. It was issued in the days of "wild-cat" currency and is one of the few notes extant. It is dated August 30, 1877, numbered 18, and signed by Jesse Lowe as mayor.

According to the story of the man who sold it, who was a tramp, he found it northeast of Omaha in a book, and with it were several other souvenirs. He kept the note and disposed of it in this city. What its value is no one seems to know, but it would be a good relic for the State Historical society.

PASCUAL OROZCO FLEES FROM LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 12.—Pascual Orozco, the Mexican federal volunteer leader, who escaped from Ojinaga when Villa drove the Huertista army into United States, was a fugitive today from Los Angeles, with United States secret service men in pursuit.

Orozco, it was learned, had been in this city for some time in hiding. He attempted to recruit a band of federal sympathizers and when American government agents sought to arrest him, he fled southward Sunday night with a few followers toward the international line. Orozco's family has been in Los Angeles since the Madern revolt and it is learned the general joined them immediately after the Ojinaga battle.
