

REJECT IOWA FAIR RATES

Three Federal Judges Hold Cent and Half Charge Wrong.

HELD TO BE CLASS LEGISLATION

Question of Reasonableness Not Entered Into, but Declaration Made Law Acted for Benefit of One City.

In a decision Saturday afternoon at Council Bluffs, three federal judges, Judge Walter I. Smith of the United States circuit court of appeals, Judge Smith McPherson of the United States district court for the southern district of Iowa and Judge C. R. Van Valkenburg of the Missouri federal court, upheld the contentions of the Iowa railroads that the state legislature had exceeded its constitutional authority in legislating a 1 1/2 cent rate for the benefit of the state fair, and issued an injunction restraining the Iowa railway commissioners from attempting to put the rate into effect. The decision was written by Judge Walter I. Smith and concurred in by the other judges.

The opinion is perhaps one of the most important delivered in recent years by an Iowa or federal court, as it holds that the act of the legislature is a contravention of the constitution of the United States. For the avowed purpose of increasing the attendance at the Iowa state fair this year the legislature enacted a law just before adjournment in April requiring all of the Iowa railroads to make a uniform rate from all parts of the state of 1 1/2 cents per mile to Des Moines.

The railroads were represented by ten lawyers from all parts of the country. The decision is largely based upon the supreme court decision in Michigan, where the legislature enacted a law requiring the railroads to sell mileage books to any person seeking them, each book to be good for two years and to be used at any time by any member of the family of the purchaser. The Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad company fought the law and secured from the Michigan supreme court a permanent restraining order. The court there held that it was a contravention of the rights of property and violation of the federal constitution, declaring that so long as private ownership is recognized unrestricted government control is practically equivalent to government ownership.

The same issues were involved in the Iowa case in an aggravated degree. The opinion cites many other federal and state supreme court decisions, all sustaining the contention of the Iowa railroads in this case.

No question is raised as to the power of the state to fix maximum rates, but it is held that it cannot suspend those rates and make a still lower rate for the exclusive benefit of a class of for a limited period to promote the interests of a number. Instances are cited of the rank injustice to other cities and towns of Iowa for the benefit of the town of Des Moines.

For Benefit of Des Moines. Speaking of this phase of the law, the opinion says: "The fact that the law applies to all persons going to Des Moines either to attend the state fair or otherwise would of itself invalidate it."

The city of Des Moines with its size, wealth and prestige, has no need for discriminating rates from all parts of the state in its favor, and the state cannot exercise the right to reduce maximum rates based on earnings and investment and then insist upon the gratuities voluntarily granted by the carriers when left in the undisturbed control of their incomes.

Mrs. Sumner Dies; Nebraska Pioneer

Mrs. Charles Sumner, Nebraska pioneer and former resident of Omaha, died Saturday morning at Pasadena, Cal., at the age of 71 years. Paralysis, accentuated by old age, was responsible for her death.

Mrs. Sumner was born in Maine, a few miles from Portland, and she came to Nebraska in 1859 with her husband. They settled at Schuyler, where Mr. Sumner organized and occupied the president's chair of the First National bank and was, in addition, connected with the various grain interests of the town. Mr. Sumner died in 1892.

In 1892 Mr. and Mrs. Sumner moved to Omaha. Mrs. Sumner went to Pasadena this spring.

Mrs. Sumner was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and also an ardent worker in the First Congregational church.

She is survived by four children, three sons, George, John and Chester, and one daughter, Mary. George Sumner, treasurer of the First National bank, is a prominent citizen of Omaha.

The funeral will be held Wednesday at Schuyler with services at the Episcopal church, there being no Congregational church in Schuyler.

BUYERS FOR BRANDEIS STORES GO EAST TONIGHT

In a few days this buying party will be reinforced by another group of Brandeis buyers, comprising W. C. McKnight, J. P. Cummings, H. W. Cranmer, W. C. Ballowitz, H. J. McCarthy, Miss E. Burmaster and Miss T. Cohen, while the remaining half of the buying force will follow into New York about the middle of August.

REVIEW OF STOCK MARKET

Utterances of Secretary of Treasury Cause Some Disquiet.

FEAR OF MONEY TRUST CHASE

Rapidity with Which Country's Wheat is Being Marketed is Reassuring Factor—Corn Damage in Effect.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The dropping tendency of stocks, which showed almost from the outset of the week, after an opening at vigorous advance, over last week did not look for explanation to news of a positively unfavorable character. Indeed, it was in the receipt of news altogether favorable that the disposition to realize profits was most clearly shown. Such market action registers the conviction of the participants that the rise has fairly measured the improvement that has taken place in conditions. That improvement continued very manifest in the money market, where rates for time loans for the shorter periods declined further and where a demand for mercantile paper sprang up from sources not having retained from the campaign for many weeks past.

The promise of the secretary of the treasury to deposit government funds with national banks to further the movement of the crops carried definite assurance of a help that had been tacitly assumed in the financial world. In that, as in other utterances from the treasury department, however, that world found a divergence from the point of view upon which it has come to rely that occasioned some disquiet. Such divergence was felt in the accusation of a concerted purpose among a few New York banks to depress the price of United States 3 per cent bonds with the object of defeating the currency bill. A diversion of congressional attention to such a matter, if money trust was treated as a consequence.

The deposit of government funds now it was thought might discourage the lending of foreign money in the New York market during July. London also bought stocks here to a substantial amount during the week.

The rapidity with which the country's wheat is being marketed is another reassuring factor. Although this week's movement showed a heavy decline from last week, indicating the passing of the crest of the winter wheat movement. The world's demand for our wheat, however, is expected to continue large, and it must, of course, be paid for. The damage to the corn crop by drought is an offset that must be taken into account. Such a factor, however, will not influence in the week's demand for stocks.

The mixed crop outlook leaves opinion undecided at this time. The price of the brilliant showing of earnings for the last quarter, only once exceeded in a corresponding quarter, and only four times in any quarter. Another advance in price of refined copper also failed to produce interest charges in the light of the general trend of the market. General mercantile activity, however, is reported to be on the increase.

Ak-Sar-Ben Carnival Grounds to Be Well Censored First Day

To make sure that all the concessions on the Ak-Sar-Ben carnival grounds will be clean enough for everybody, Secretary Weaver will invite the ministers, the public social service board, the city officials and newspaper men to go through all the shows the opening day and give their opinions. He and the board of governors want the carnival grounds to be thoroughly clean in every respect, all gambling and suggestive performances being eliminated from the highway.

Secretary Weaver has just signed a contract with the managers of the big Hippodrome show. It will occupy a conspicuous place on the grounds under a tent which will seat 2,500 persons. Four performances will be given each day in the center ring. Secretary Weaver has several concessionaires yet to hear from. He is sending notices to them to come in immediately and sign the contracts.

While the carnival grounds has almost entirely been contracted for, there are a few choice locations for booths left, he says.

Legislators Seared

In another portion of the opinion the judges hit the legislators this vigorous rap: "Without any intention to reflect upon the legislature, its action is an attempt to establish the principle of legislative authority to prescribe mere expiration rates under the form of an exercise of police power."

The illegality and weakness of a legislative enactment that is palpably meant to benefit one city to injury and disparagement of all the others in the state is made sharp and clear throughout the whole opinion and is thus pointed out in the concluding paragraph:

"Our conclusion is that the question of the validity of the act in question and the order of the railroad commission made in pursuance thereof, involves the power of the state and not the reasonableness of rates. So viewed it falls within the inhibition of the constitutional guarantee as construed by the supreme court, and the injunction should be issued as prayed."

To Appeal Fair Rate Case. Decision of the federal court denying the rights of the state to order reduced rates to the state fair will be immediately appealed to a higher court by the state. The secretary of the state fair estimates the decision will greatly reduce the attendance at the fair. The appeal will be taken to establish precedent for the next year.

Costly Treatment

"I was troubled with constipation and indigestion and spent hundreds of dollars for medicine and treatment," writes C. H. Hines of Whitton, Ark. "I went to a St. Louis hospital, also to a hospital in New Orleans, but no cure was effected. On returning home I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets, and worked right along. I used them for some time and am now all right." For sale by all druggists—Advertisement.

MAIL CARRIERS WANT MEET

Local Branch After Convention of National Association.

PLANS ARE VERY WELL LAID

Session of No. 5 Put in Time Going Over Details of Work and Feels Greatly Encouraged for Outcome.

Saturday's meeting of the letter carriers' association, branch No. 5, was the last that will be held before the delegates go to San Francisco to attend the national meeting of the organization. The Omaha men devoted much of the time of their meeting last night to talking of plans and prospects for securing the next national convention, which will be held in 1915, for Omaha. Enthusiasm for the project is high, and the local organization believe the chances are more than favorable for Omaha. Assistance is being given by the Commercial club and other bodies and everything is being done that can be. Literature has been sent to the headquarters of every local branch of the national association, which means to every "free delivery" postoffice in the United States, and the word that comes back from the other towns is very encouraging for Omaha.

Milwaukee is Omaha's chief rival for the honor of entertaining the convention in 1915, and is building its hopes on a sentimental campaign that has just been sprung. It will be the twenty-fifth anniversary of the birth of the organization, and as Milwaukee saw its coming to life, the boosters for Schlitzville are clamoring for the silver jubilee. The convention calls together about 1,500 delegates and many visiting mail carriers, with their wives and sweethearts, and is one of the big prizes in the convention line.

The Omaha delegates to San Francisco are William Maher, president of No. 5, delegate-at-large; M. A. Past, W. C. Bouk, Charles E. A. Johnson, Arthur Asher, Albert Saalfeld and Fred Jorgensen.

Father and Two Girls Turn Into Criminals in Space of a Month

ATCHISON, Kan., Aug. 3.—(Special Telegram.)—Fred Lentz, an accountant, formerly of Omaha, arrested here after confessing to forgeries within the last month amounting to $500, used to cover gambling debts, has been sentenced to four years in prison.

Monday his daughters, Ethel, aged 15, and Mary, aged 14, broke into the Klopff dairy and relieved the cash drawer of $22. They were arrested and confessed, and were bailed out. In the last two days they set fire to their home twice, and were again arrested. Ethel has been sent to prison for five years and Mary to the reform school.

Mrs. Lentz is prostrated. She cannot explain the actions of the three, as the family was not poor, but about six weeks ago Lentz took to drinking and gambling.
