MAY CHANGE OLD GRADE

and the Country Plan on Foot to Leave West Side Lines Where They Now Are.

> Ask that Street Be Cut Down and Unsightly Condition

Be Changed. If the plan introduced in the city council last night by Alderman Boyer and discussed to considerable length brought to successful culmination, it will save a large number of the people of Council Bluffs, according to the Sixth ward alderman's estimate, at least $1,000,000. It contemplates a complete revision of the ordinance passed nearly twenty-five years ago establishing the grade in the whole western part of the city, changing it so that a large portion of the territory, comprising more than half a dozen square miles, will be left substantially as it is now.

The matter was brought up when committee of the whole report was read and approved, wherein a petition from a number of property owners asking to have several feet removed from the top of North Twentieth stree! had been received and placed on file. Alderma: Boyer asked that it be taken from the committee of the whole and referred back to the council.

The grade for the whole western part of the city was established after the disastrous flood of 1881, when the Missourl river went out of its banks and flooded all of the territory west of the Northwestern railroad tracks. The purpose of the grade was to bring the general surface above the possibility of damage from another such flood.

In the boom times, more than twenty ears ago, the council ordered Twentieth street graded to the new level from Broadway north. The work was done at the expense of the property owners, and the street has ever since resembled a railroad grade, reaching as high as seven feet above the general surface at some places. Steps have been made for the sidewalk crossings, and the embankment has been the source of annoyance in many other ways.

Owners Ask Relief.

Property owners, who for more than wenty years have been compelled to endure having sidewalks level with the tops of their windows, asked to have the street cut down, Alderman Boyer pointed out that since the government and the railroads had joined in the work of protecting the river bank, and the proposed park boulevard would provide a dyke that would forever keep out flood waters, there no longer existed the necessity of entailing the heavy cost of raising the level of the large territory. The council took a favorable view of it and acceded to his request, so the matter is again alive and ready for action in the council. It was pointed out that the dirt could be taken out by nearby residents for lot filling purposes without cost to the city. although the city would probably have

Need Garbage Plant.

Chief of Police Froom called attention to the necessity for securing better facilities and some control over disposal of city garbage, explaining that at the present time there was no such thing as city garbage head and the police had no power to require any of the men engaged in the work to answer the constant calls that are being made at the police headquarters and city clerk's office. Alderman Boyer said the disposal of garbage the council annd that its only solution out that the construction of the Dodre park boulevard would prevent next year the use of the dumping grounds now twelve times by his former teammates. leased near the river and that the only plant. The concrete pavement laid by George P Hughes on Clark avenue between Turley and Fifth avenues was ordered as sessed to the property owners. TUXEDO IS A FACTOR IN In Omaha, as in other cities throughout the United States, business men are discovering the helpful inspiration of an occasional pipeful of Tuxedo smoked in the office during the stress of work, This mild, soothing tobacco affords just the necessary relaxation from nervous and mental strain that enables a man to do more work and better work. Well known physicians recognize this helpful influence of Tuxedo. You can join your Omaha friends and neighbors in smoking Tuxedo, no matter how often you have tried to smoke a pipe and failed. Tuxedo is one tobacco that cannot bite or irritate your throat, tongue or nose, however sensitive they may be. The "Tuxedo Process" of treating the mildest, ripest leaves of highest-grade Burley tobacco removes every trace of harshness and insures a deliciously mild, cool, fragrant smoke. The endorsements of prominent Omaha smokers and thousands of famous Americans in every walk of life should convince you that Tuxedo is well worth a trial.

Mr. W. D. Townsend, the well-known Farnam Street gun maker, prominent among the city's business leaders and sportsmen for years, joins with the many other substantial men of Omaha in according Tuxedo first place among pipe tobaccos. Mr. Townsend's comment on Tuxedo will be in the nature of a personal word to a great many Omaha men. Mr. Townsend says:

MR. W. D. TOWNSEND Well-known Farnam Street Gun Maker,

OMAHA. "My idea of concentrated disappointment—until I struck Tuxedo-was a pipe, With Tuxedo it's different. Tuxedo gives fragrance and flavor without aggravating tongue-bite. It has made a pipe my greatest luxury, instead of a bugbear. I never before realized the true inwardness of tobacco comfort."
