"WATER Your Horses Here" is a welcome sign to many a teamster driving hot, tired horses during the recent warm weather.

Hooray! Blood Free of Impurities

Eczema Gone! Acne, Tetters, Rash, Pimples, Carbuncles, Boils—Banished!

The under layer of skin is a fine network of tiny blood vessels in which the famous blood remedy S. S. works with remarkable activity. This is why S. S. is the best known blood purifier, has such a positive action in the skin. There is one ingredient in S. S. which peculiarly stimulates cellular or glandular activity to select from the blood in the skin those elements which require regeneration.

Under the influence of S. S. S. this fine network of blood vessels in the skin is constantly taking from the blood the nutrition required for healthy tissue and the cause of disease is just as constantly becoming removed, scattered and rendered harmless. These facts are more fully explained in a book on skin troubles sent by The S. S. S. Co., 195 Swift Bldg., Atlantic City. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. Get a bottle to-day and banish all skin afflictions.

WOMAN SEEKS PROTECTION

Rifka Taub, Who Married Turk, Applies to the Police.

Because Rifka Taub, a Russian Jewess who came to this country recently, married Hallim Omar, a Turk, her relatives, who are also new arrivals in this country, she says, have not only accomplished her estrangement from him, but are attempting to get revenge in a manner that is bringing about her financial ruin.

Mrs. Taub is 35 years old and came to this country with her three children, the eldest of whom is 16, when her husband died. She started a tiny grocery store at 142 North Nineteenth street, and managed to support herself and children. Her husband was always a worker at the Russian Jewish church she belonged to, and was held in high esteem by her countrymen who thickly populate the neighborhood.

A year and a half ago she met Hallim Omar, who was then working in the Union Pacific shops. He courted her ardently and had obtained her promise of marriage when he received a call from his native land to return and join the Turkish army against the warring Balkan countries.

He went, and served ten months, returning a month ago.

Last Saturday a local justice of the peace performed the marriage ceremony and the couple went to live in the small rooms in the rear of the grocery store.

When Mrs. Taub-Omar's relatives heard of the marriage, she was immediately shunned by her former friends, and Sunday night she received threatening messages.

The same night a crowd of men and women came to the store and broke windows and destroyed much of her slender grocery stock. Her relatives told her, she said to the police, that they would kill her Mohammedan husband, and her too.

Monday night some one entered the vacant store next door and attempted to fire the building so that it would destroy the grocery store, she said.

It was then that she sent her husband a day away to his former rooms. She called the police and an investigation was made, but nothing came of it then.

Last night the little store was again surrounded by a crowd of excited people and threats were made. Police Sergeant Cook, Samuelson and Vanous tried to arrest some of the trouble makers, but the latter were too fleet of foot.

Mrs. Taub-Omar has been forced to lock up her store for the last two days, and what customers have not already been driven away by her tormentors, could not come inside to buy. As a result, the woman is in serious financial difficulties.

Her children have been taken away from her by her relatives, Mrs. Taub-Omar says, and their young minds are being poisoned against her. "They're teaching the little ones to call me a 'meshumed' and 'a bad woman,'" she sobbed to a policeman. "Can't some one help me I thought this was a free country."

The police assured her that she would be protected, and detectives were detailed to stay in the neighborhood to learn the identity of some of her tormentors.

Mrs. Taub has filed complaints of disturbing the peace against Mrs. and Miss Hollander, Eighteenth and Nicholas streets, and Mrs. A. Cohn and Mrs. S. Greenburg, Eighteenth and Charles streets.

Mrs. Taub asserts the whole trouble was instigated by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Vine, who live next to the Hollander family. Mrs. Taub will attempt to persuade two of her three children, Bessie, aged 15 years, and Jake, aged 12 years, to leave their grandparents whom they have been visiting, and come and live with her.

Music.

Dr. Freeman's Farewell.

Dr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Freeman have a farewell song recital at the Happy Hollow club Tuesday evening. A large number of their friends and the music lovers of Omaha were present and by their appreciative applause showed their approval of the music. Dr. Freeman was in fine voice and gave the program with the same artistic finish and mastery of detail that is always apparent in his singing, and have won him a high rank as a vocalist. Although the program was an original one, consisting of songs of the lighter sort, some of them required much skill in the interpretation. "The Three Comrades" in the second group deserves special mention. Dr. Freeman was very generous and responded to each group with an encore. "Love is a Bubble," "Allison," "If All the Young Maidens," "Lohr," and the old Irish "Molly Malone" being the numbers.

Mrs. Freeman contributed a large share to the evening's enjoyment with her sympathetic accompaniments. Dr. and Mrs. Freeman leave very soon to make their home in Minneapolis.

Following is the program:

PART I. "If I Were a Rose".....Liddle "Phyllis Has Such Charming Braces".....DeArne "Candy in the Garden of Love".....Singer "Sigmund's".....Liedel.....Wagner

PART II. "My Heaven".....Russell "Remembered".....Russell "Lohr".....Russell "A Spirit Flower".....Campbell-Tipton "The Comrades".....Hermann

PART III. "To Mary".....White "A New Star".....Clutson "A Birthday".....Cowan "La Donna Mobile".....Verdi

New Fat Reducer Found In Tasty Candy Drops

(From Popular Medicine.) It is now known for a certainty that those tasty little beranum jubes do act as an absorbent and stimulant of fatty acids and cause the elimination of fat to be long sought obesity remedy, for they are effective without being injurious, and their use involves no special dieting, exercising, bathing or anything burdensome. Their medical constituents have long enjoyed a reputation for their value in corpulent conditions, but it remained for a German chemist to combine them in palatable candy form. Their success is attested by the growing demand for them at the drug stores of this country. One bottle of jubes after each meal and one upon retiring is the prescribed dosage.—Advertisement.

MILITIA MANEUVERS ENDED

State Troops Break Camp and Leave for Their Homes.

OFFICERS COMPLIMENT THE MEN

Few Cases of Sickness Appear and When the Camp Breaks but One Man is Found in the Hospital.

Twelve hundred state militiamen broke camp at Waterloo yesterday after three days of heavy drilling and practice. Adjutant General Phil L. Hall and staff saw the young guardsmen aboard their trains for home. Six special trains carried the militiamen away. The camp broke at 6 o'clock in the morning, after the guardsmen had eaten a 5 o'clock breakfast.

With the breaking of camp the maneuvers of the state troops ended. These maneuvers, including ninety miles of marching, three days of hard drilling and a sham battle, were performed to the entire satisfaction of commanding officers, who commended the men on the manner in which they entered into the spirit of the work.

"The guardsmen have done well," said Brigadier General Joseph A. Storch. "Considering the conditions under which they worked, the result of the maneuvers has been gratifying." General Storch also commended the officers in direct command of the camp for the sanitary conditions maintained.

Few cases of sickness appeared among the guardsmen, either on the march or while at camp. Major C. W. Walker of the hospital corps said he had never seen such good health among so large a body of citizen soldiers. Major J. M. Spearman, in charge of the field hospital, had several cases of heat prostration to treat, but these recovered almost immediately, and when camp broke there was only one man in the hospital.
