READY FOR THE CARNIVAL
Electric Features Promise to Excel All Displays.
ELABORATE AUTO DECORATIONS
Those Who Have Entered Cars Are Using Every Possible Means to Make Fine Showings in the Parade.

Delay in completing the wiring for the installation of the thousands of incandescent lamps, for which the electricians in charge were not to blame, prevented the "jules" being turned on last night to the great disappointment of the Saturday night throngs on the streets. It was the occasion of considerable disappointment, too, to the Commercial club and the carnival managers. The lighting system is the most extensive that has yet been installed for a local carnival, and will present a most brilliant spectacle when the current is turned on.

It is quite probable there will be some slight fractures of Sabatarius laws some time today by some of the more or more contestants who have entered their cars to win the prizes in the flower parade. Upon a number of the cars, especially those where the decorations have been entrusted to ambitious women who are resourceful and artistic, the bills for decorations and flowers have already exceeded the $500 stage and may go to $1000. It is assured that the cars, adorned with all of the beauty that beautiful flowers and real artists can bestow upon them, will present the most beautiful sight that the streets of Council Bluffs have seen.

Route of Parade.
Final arrangements for the parade, including the time in charge and the line of march, were made yesterday afternoon following a meeting of the carnival committee at noon. George F. Hamilton, chairman of the committee, will have general charge and W. A. Williamson will be grand marshal.

The parade will form at Fourth and Story streets at 1:30 and any contestant not ready to go at that hour will be disqualified. The flower-clad cars will be spaced, as nearly as possible 150 feet apart and those who willfully or negligently violate this rule will be disqualified as contestants for the prizes. The judges are to be five women, part of whom will be from out of town. Their identities have been carefully guarded and may not be disclosed at all. The assurance is given, however, that they will be more competent and impartial judges, basing their decisions upon real merit. They will make a general survey of the cars at Fourth and Story streets before the start and they will then view them at various points and several times along the route to be traversed. The purpose of having the judges to have ample opportunity to fully note the details as well as the general scheme of the decorations of each. Their decisions will be final.

Two Divisions.
The route of the parade will be west on Story street to Main, north on Main to First avenue, west on First avenue to Eighth street, north on Eighth to Broadway, east on Broadway to First street and then countermarch on Broadway to North Main and disband. The formation of the parade will include two general divisions. The first division will be led by the grand marshal, a platoon of police and Arthur E. Smith's band, followed by the flower-covered autos. The second division will be led by the Patterson show band, and will comprise the Patterson shows and the industrial section made up of floats and automobiles representing the various industrial enterprises of the city and the fire department. The carnival will open after the parade with a number of free acts in the forum between the grand arch and Broadway.

Two additional spectacular features have been decided upon during the week. On Tuesday and Friday nights the fire department will make "fire runs," with each piece of the apparatus enveloped in red and other colored fires. The runs will take place at 7:30 o'clock and will start at Eighth avenue and South Main street. The fiery dash will be up Main street and First avenue, where they will begin to slow down. Large quantities of red fire and other pyrotechnics ordered by the Commercial club arrived yesterday. It will be bestowed lavishly for the firemen to use in accordance with their own ideas of embellishment. In addition the firemen and their friends are arranging for extra supplies. Both fire runs will be under the direct supervision of Frank Egan, fire commissioner. Those who recall the brilliant spectacle presented last year by the fire runs will know what to expect this time.

Electric Fountains Will Be Beautiful
The electric fountains for the carnival grounds were completed and tested yesterday afternoon and proved more beautiful than was anticipated. There were installed in the lagoon, one east of the Bryant street bridge and the others above and below the North Main street bridge. They are fed by two-inch pipes carrying a water pressure of ninety pounds. The wiring for the electric illumination was not completed in time for testing last night, but when the water was turned on during the afternoon the sun painted brilliant rainbows on the billowy mist that arose. The spectacle was very pretty. It was not anticipated, but will add considerably to the attractiveness of the fountains as daylight features. At night they should present really impressive scenes.

Many Law Suits Filed in Court

The last filings for the September term of the district court were made in the office of Clerk Harry Brown at the close of the day yesterday. There were 129 new equity and 114 new law cases filed, awaiting the bar docket for the term to a total of 243. The docket was also increased by the addition of thirty-one new criminal cases.

A number of the actions filed yesterday were divorce suits. One of the suits disclosed a rather peculiar story. The suit was brought by Mildred Ashley against Frederick Fitzsimmons, but the wife says that these were not their true names. She alleges that her real name was Mildred Simmons and that her husband's name is Frederick Simmons. She says they were married at Spirit Lake under wrong names through the operation and threats of the man and that she signed the marriage license register thus because he induced her to do so. She bases her action upon cruelty and habitual use of intoxicants. She asks the court to award her the custody of their 3-year-old child, to a week temporary and $50 a month permanent alimony and $50 attorney's fees. She also asks a court order restraining her husband from interfering with A. C. Ellsworth asks divorce from his wife, Ada, on the grounds of cruelty. They were wedded at Maryville, Mo., on August 25, 1912, and parted on June 25 of this year.

On the plea of desertion, Elmer T. Clayton brings a divorce action against his wife, Jessie B. Clayton. They were married in Council Bluffs on October 18, 1909, and separated on February 15, 1910. Katherine Hitchcock asks a decree of divorce from W. R. Hitchcock, to whom she was married in Omaha on July 23, 1908. She alleges cruelty. She says in her petition that they jointly own the residence at 202 Avenue C, upon which there is a mortgage of $1,200. She asks to be awarded title to the property and to be given $50 a month permanent alimony.

Wife Given Pension Under the New Act

The first application of the new so-called widows' pension law was made in juvenile court yesterday when Mrs. Carlin, wife of James Carlin, was given $1 a week for each of her four children, who were under the age of 14 years. Two weeks ago Carlin was sent to the Knoxvile leprosy hospital by Judge Snyder for the full term of three years unless sooner discharged as cured of the drink habit. He left his wife and five children, residing at 1501 Fourth street, entirely unprovided for and under the section of the law which makes the pension available for the care of dependent and neglected children of any father who is an inmate of any state institution within the care of the Board of Control the children of Carlin became eligible. The application was made through Probation Officer Herber, acting as the executive officer of the juvenile court, and it was upon his report that the action was taken. The investigation disclosed Mrs. Carlin to be a frail little woman, deeply attached to her children, but unable to earn enough property to support them. The fifth child was near the age limit of fourteen years that the court could not conscientiously make the order to include all. The other children range in ages from 12 years to 13 months. The order of the court was made to declare that the children were neglected but the term was not meant to mean that the neglect was due to the mother. Mrs. Carlin will continue to draw not less than $1 a week for each child until the age limit is reached, which will be far toward relieving the necessities of life. It was a happy family that left the court room at the conclusion of the order, the mother carrying an order that brought $4 in cash at the county court house.

HUSBAND SAYS WIFE'S SISTER CAUSE OF TROUBLE

In a cross-petition filed by L. E. Ingraham in the district court yesterday afternoon Mrs. Clara Rider, formerly Miss Clara Bull, is called upon to pay $5,000 for the alleged alienation of the affections of Anna B. Ingraham, wife of L. E. Ingraham. Mrs. Rider is the sister of Mrs. Ingraham, and is now and has been for some time making her home with her sister in this city while discharging the duties of one of the chief operators in the local telephone office, where her brother-in-law, Mr. Rider, also holds one of the important departments. The cross-petition came in a suit filed by Mrs. Rider against Ingraham to recover $225 on a promissory note signed jointly by him and Mrs. Ingraham on December 27, 1910, given to secure the loan of that amount of money by Mrs. Rider to her sister. When suit was brought a few days ago, Ingraham filed an answer denying his financial responsibility, declaring that he had received no part of the money and that it was understood to be for the use of Mrs. Ingraham alone. About the time this suit was filed, Mrs. Ingraham began an action for divorce, but the cross-petition does not refer to that action. The couple were married several years ago and went to live on a farm near Glenwood. Ingraham alleges that Mrs. Rider led her sister to become dissatisfied with life on the farm and finally induced her to leave and come to Council Bluffs, where she secured a position for her in the telephone office, and that the sister alienated the wife's affections for her husband and caused her to leave him, hence the demand for $5,000 damages.

The Eagles announced yesterday that the members and their families will be in the general public throughout carnival week. All women, ready to do the relationship of male relatives to the order, are invited by the Eagles to make free use of the accommodations and luxuries of the building.

Two valuable horses, supposed to have been stolen from the barn of Art. Blackman, 200 East Broadway, on Thursday, were yesterday located by Sheriff Landwehr at Missouri Valley. The animals had got out of the barn and strayed away making the long journey entirely unaided. They were traced by the use of the telephone.
The funeral of Mrs. Emma Anderson, who was killed in an automobile accident at McClelland Tuesday night, will be held this afternoon from the residence of Gus Peterson in Hardin township. Coroner Cutler has ruled that an inquest is necessary. The services will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Tyler of Neola. Burial will be in the cemetery.

Miss Cora Greiser has returned from a trip to New York City, where she visited her brother, John S. Greiser, at his country home on Long Island. She was also a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Hype, formerly of the Heng company who now enjoy the luxury of a beautiful home on Long Island, just far enough from the city to make pleasant the daily business trips.
The women of Palm Grove council No. 211, Woodmen Circle, will have their annual picnic at Westport, Mo., on Friday afternoon and evening. An attractive program has been arranged. There will be funny races and unique athletic contests beginning at 4 o'clock, with prizes for all winners. A banquet dinner will be served between 4 and 7 o'clock. Women of the World members have been invited and many will join the women and children in the late afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Margery Hawkey, 84 years old, died at Mercy hospital Friday after an illness of several weeks, due to the weakness of old age. She was taken to the hospital from her home, 125 Stutman street, when her condition became serious. Mrs. Hawkey was born in Donegal, Ireland, and came to America when she was 15 years old. She had lived in Council Bluffs for more than forty years. One daughter, Mrs. Southwell, residing at Sacramento, Cal., survives.
William Birbille, owner of several of the Greek candy kitchens in this city, returned yesterday from Clarinda, where he arranged to remove the business that has been located at 406 Broadway. It was one of the places wrecked by the mob, which tore up the town, when the teachers were killed in the attempt to lynch Guidice, the murderer of Howard Jones. The Birbille brothers were the heaviest sufferers. The wrecking, however, had nothing to do with the closing out of the business.
The lease had been surrendered a month before the riot and had been released for a term of ten years by the owner, M. Woolman. The Birbille brothers still have two other centrally located places which will be continued.

Charles R. Kelley, son of Officer Kelley of the police department, has profoundly and pleasantly surprised his parents by making them an unexpected visit and introducing his wife. Although but 20 years old, Mr. Kelley is the private secretary of the general manager of the Western Union Telegraph company at Denver, with assurances that he will soon be placed at the head of a new department that is being created. Mr. and Mrs. Kelley, who was formerly Miss Laura Shank of Denver, were married there on December 2, last, and returned a wedding tour home to announce the news and receive congratulations. No opportunity for the tour was presented until this time, when the young husband was given a vacation of two weeks, which he is spending at the home of his parents, 1903 Avenue G.

NOTICE—The proprietor of the HAMILTON COLLEGE, 16-72 West Broadway, recently learned that certain agents of other schools calling at various points in this city have asserted that this college does not maintain an employment department. This statement is entirely false. We have such an efficient department that young people from other schools should visit us and we have secured positions for them as well as our own graduates. We maintain a high class school in every respect and are so considered by the best judges—the executive committee of the League of the American Business Colleges. Furthermore, we do not send out agents, do not sell scholarships, do not charge excessive rates for tuition and supplies, do not misrepresent, and we guarantee satisfaction. The fall term begins September 1, 1914. Tuition, $7.00 per month.
