President Anxious for Harmony that Will Prevent Possible Disappointment for Administration in the Senate.

(From a Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—Senator Hitchcock made a quiet call at the White House tonight to talk over various matters with the president and incidentally explain his attitude towards the administration's currency bill and other legislation.

President Wilson has been anxious to settle the squabbles between certain members of congress, including senator Hitchcock and Secretary Bryan, in the interest of party harmony, but has not been very successful, especially in the Bryan-Hitchcock row.

Senator Hitchcock has been anxious to ascertain his exact status on the currency issue and no doubt the president gave him some information on the subject tonight.

Caminetti Used Assumed Name at Warrington Home

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 29.—The surprise of the Caminetti trial came this morning when Thomas H. Warrington of Sacramento, father of Marsha Warrington, took the stand in place of his daughter. White haired, clean shaven, kindly faced, he testified that F. Drew Caminetti, the defendant, charged with violating the Mann white slave traffic act, called frequently at his home for his daughter, under the name of Mr. Whitman.

The government was permitted to interrogate the narrative of Marsha Warrington, begun yesterday by introducing her father's testimony, in order that he might not be absent longer than necessary from his business.

There was a return in the cross-examination of Marsha Warrington's father by Marshall Woodworth to the earlier part of the trial. A disposition to attack the girl's character began to show.

M. J. Sullivan, probation officer of Sacramento county, testified that there had been no complaint made to him about either Lola Morris or Marsha Warrington previous to their flight on March 16. On cross-examination Marshall Woodworth began to bring out evidence directly damaging to the character of Caminetti.

Complaints about both Diggs and Caminetti had been brought to Sullivan about a week before the elopement to Reno. Two young girls were involved and one of them was now in St. Catherine's home in this city.

Marsha Warrington concluded her direct testimony before the noon adjournment was taken and the defense began its cross-examination. Her manner was more confident and her answers more incisive and prompt than at the Diggs trial.
