Prices of Future Corn.

OMAHA, Sept. 1, 1913. Dry weather prevailed over practically all of the corn belt during the last three days and this was the principal influ-one which forced prices to new high lev-levels on the crop yesterday. Scorching hot weather worked havoc over the belt and need only shriveled up the already dam-need only shriveled up the already dam-need only shriveled up the already dam-had previously suffered from long through the the dist and insufficient molisture. The leading authority gave the condi-tion of corn as 65.9 per cent, against the sovernment estimate of the condition of figuring a crop of 2,355,000,000 bushels. This authority stated that since August this crop reports have averaged a de-the cash demand for corn from the few shippers offering the grain over the holdars and these asking safely higher prices. Actual sales, neverthelese, footed u to 155,000 bushels. Cash corn was 4,6500 means. up and make an appointment. PAYNE INVESTMENT COMPANY, Ware Block. Doug. 1131.
