Transport, Which is Equipped with Doctors and Nurses, Will Sail Under the Red Cross Flag.

JENKINSON WILL TAKE CHARGE He is Special Agent of State Department and Red Cross.

ZAMAONA IS AT HAVANA Financier Denies that He is Representative of Huerta.

BUSINESS IS PURELY PRIVATE Constitutionalists Say He Will Be Hanged Within an Hour if He Comes Within Their Lines.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 8.—The army transport Buford will sail late today to gather up Americans in peril on the west coast of Mexico. The vessel will be in charge of Charles Jenkinson, special representative of the State department. It will fly the red cross flag, as it is believed the ship will be better able to perform its relief work under that banner owing to the present temper of Mexicans, than under the American flag.

Prepared for Everything. "We are going prepared for everything, including epidemics," said Jenkinson today. "Major William F. Lewis of the medical corps, a sergeant and three hospital corps privates and three women nurses of the army nurse corps will be aboard. There also will be Red Cross nurses from the San Francisco chapter, a doctor from the health and marine hospital service and Mrs. Jenkinson, who will assist me in the Red Cross work. Besides being a special representative of the State department, I am also a special American representative of the Red Cross society."

For several years Jenkinson was in Mexico attached to the American embassy. He has recently made two trips to Mexico to bring back refugees, leading one party in Galveston and another in New York.

"President Wilson," he said, "intends that all Americans shall leave Mexico and having warned Americans to leave there is nothing for the government to do but provide transportation for them to their homes in the States."

"Of the 10,000 Americans in Mexico when President Wilson issued his warning, there probably will be less than 1,000 by the time the Buford returns to this port."

Zamacona Not Agent for Huerta. HAVANA, Sept. 8.—Manuel De Zamacona, former Mexican ambassador to the United States, arrived here today on the steamship Eparanza from Vera Cruz. He immediately transferred to the steamer Prince George, bound for Key West.

Senor Zamacona said that the report that he was going to Washington as the special representative of President Huerta was untrue. "I am going to the capital on purely private business," he said. Further than that he declined to talk.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Sept. 8.—That Manuel Zamacona, special envoy to Washington, would be tried by court, martial and hanged within an hour, should he attempt to enter the constitutional lines with any proposition whatever, was the substance of a resolution adopted today at a meeting of the constitutional board of advisers at Piedras Negras.

The resolution denounced what they called the "attempt of the Huerta government to deceive the American people regarding the ability of Manuel Zamacona (Continued on Page Two.)"

Moved House from Lot Without Owner Being Told of It

When a voice over the telephone inquired yesterday of Ellery H. Westerfield, the lawyer, if he knew that a house in South Omaha owned by his brother, John M. Westerfield, was being moved away from its location, he surprised and emphatic "no," was the answer, and an injunction suit against John Devine, South Omaha fire and police commissioner, was the result.

In addition to Devine, a firm of house movers is made defendants. A restraining order signed by Judge English forbids the moving of the house any further pending the hearing, which is set for September 11. Mr. Westerfield also asks the court to compel the defendants to put the house back on its foundation. It has been moved about three blocks. The house movers told Mr. Westerfield they had been hired to move the building to another lot by Devine, who is building an inspector in South Omaha, but was elected fire and police commissioner at the last city election. Under the city's charter the office of building inspector became vacant when Devine accepted an elective office, but no successor to him has been appointed.

TRIAL OF NEW WIRE RATE TO LAST FOR SIX MONTHS

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Sept. 8.—(Special Telegram.)—There will be no compromise in the Stebbins telegraph rate case, notwithstanding Attorney Brogan of that company sounded the railway commission today on the subject, but the company will be given a chance to prove its claim that the new rate is too low for the commission allowing it to put in force the new rate for six months, when at the end of that time another hearing will be had and the company given a chance to show the commission what the rate has done. October 1 will be the time when the trial rate will begin.

BISHOP ASSERTS COAL STRIKE DUE TO GREED

Church Dignitary Places Blame for Disturbances in Mining Country on Operators and Men.

WORKERS WANT TO DO NOT BELIEVE Do Not Believe... with Us... ways.

SPEAKS LABOR UNIONS Declares One Reason for Them to Furnish Officials Salaries.

DENIES HE IS AGENT OF BOSSES Prelate, Quoting from Psalms, Says "Rich Man Flaunts His Wealth and Sets the Poor Man on Fire."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Greed of coal operators as well as the miners' strike, J. P. Donahue of the Catholic church told the senate investigating committee was the fundamental cause of the West Virginia strike. Exorbitant prices in company stores, from 15 to 25 per cent above the market, he gave as an instance of the attitude of the operators.

The bishop was on a commission which investigated conditions on Paint and Cabin creeks. He was agreeably surprised by the living conditions of the miners.

"Of course we found no Turkish rugs, but we did find fairly comfortable working men's homes," said the prelate. "Were the men contented?" asked Senator Kenyon. "I can best answer in the words of Witness Griffith, who said the men would not be satisfied until they owned the mines."

Coming to the cause of the strike the bishop quoted a line from the Psalms: "The rich man flaunts his wealth and sets the poor men on fire," and declared it applied to the situation in West Virginia. He added that infidelity had been taught to the miners; that they had been taught that the saying "poor we have with us always" was a farce, and that the miners had just as much a right to automobiles and to live in Kanawha street as the coal operators.

Question by Borah. Senator Borah contended that if laboring men were not ambitious they would become industrial slaves. "Ah, but not so, if property owners are not filled with greed," returned the bishop. "I believe men should hold property, not as their own, but as trustees for others, and that trusteeship should be shown by acts."

Senator Martin asked Bishop Donahue if labor unions were not organized in his opinion for the good of the members. The bishop hesitated until the question was repeated, then said: "That may be one reason, another is to furnish fair salaries to officials."

"Did you ever hear of an official that was worth $20,000?" demanded Attorney Steadman for the United Mine workers. "I did not speak of accumulation; I referred to salaries," returned the bishop calmly.

Attorney Monnett, also for the miners, asked if the bishop thought galling guns, armored cars and bloodhounds were some of the things that set the soul of the miners on fire. The bishop responded that he considered the use of those weapons best governed by the common law, which allowed the use of the guns when user was "backed to the wall."

Not Agent of Operators. The bishop denied having come to Washington at the request of the coal mine operators to protest against former Immigration Commissioner O'Keefe stopping immigrants going to West Virginia mines because the mines were not unionized. The bishop declared he came on his own volition. He said the immigrants were possibly Catholics, but "they were not working at hard."

"Well, they pay up and that is what you want," suggested the attorney. "Oh, no; paying money does not make a man religious. He must go to church and live his religion. Take away a man's religion and you make him little more than an animal. The demand for a horrible ideal of infidelity and doubt and get them worked out of the miners' minds, much as you work out beer at Carlsbad, and nurture a wholesome religious view of life, and conditions will be better."

Bishop denied that either individually or officially he was interested in West Virginia coal land nor mines.

Bishop Proposes Remedy. Senator Martin asked the bishop what he would do to remedy conditions, if he had the power. "First of all, I would require both operators and miners to go to church twice every Sunday," said the bishop. "I would give each a bible as a steering chart and then give them about eight hundred and make them hang two or three in their bedrooms, such as 'Blessed are the poor in spirit, and Blessed are the meek.' These would cause them to forget to use the machine guns."

Fourth Trial of Dr. Hyde Postponed

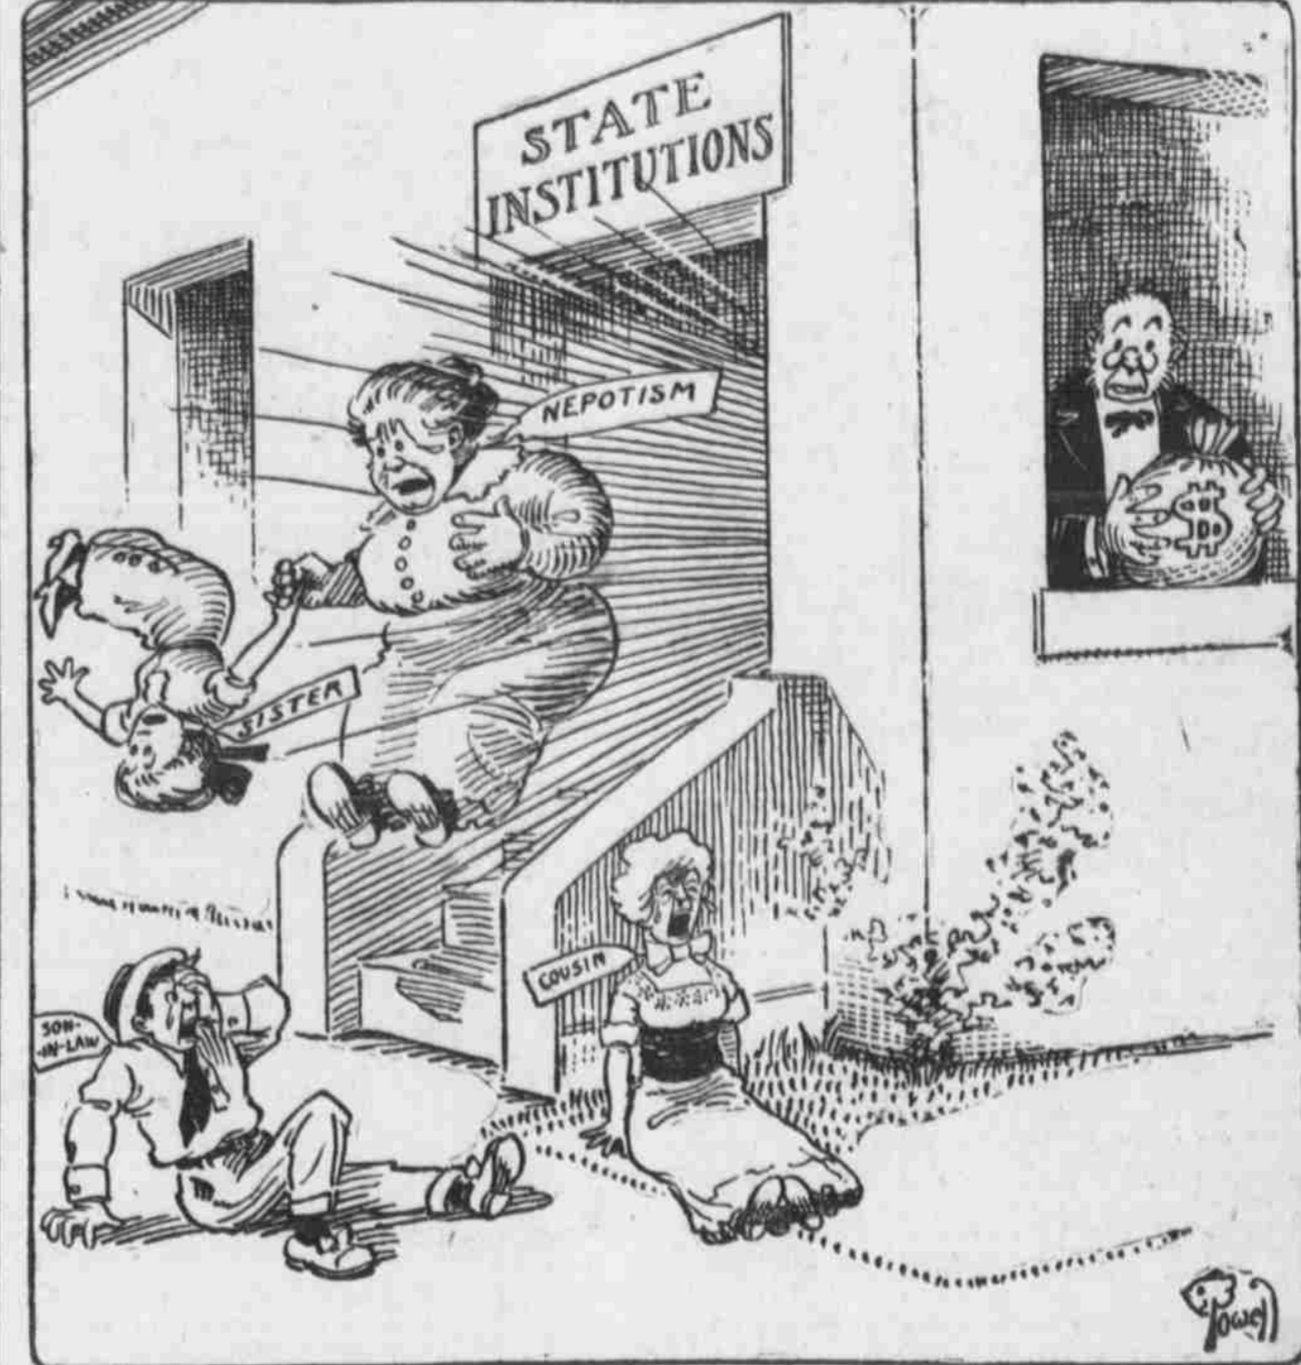

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 8.—The fourth trial of Dr. B. Clarke Hyde for the murder of Colonel Thomas H. Swore was postponed today at the state's request until January 5, 1914. The postponement was asked because of a lack of funds to prosecute and of inability to get witnesses together.

Since the original case began two important witnesses have died. These were Dr. G. E. Wynne, the state's physician, and Miss Lon E. Van Noy, nurse to Colonel Swore. Miss Van Noy was drowned while boating in Iowa three weeks ago.

RAIN FALLS IN SOME PLACES

Some Parts of the State Are Visited by Good Showers.

CORN PROSPECTS ARE BAD Railroads Say that the Condition of the Corn Crop is Daily Growing Worse—Pastures Also Need Rain Badly.

Some rain fell in parts of Nebraska Sunday night, but in no wise was it general, according to the reports to the railroads. At Clay Center, out in Burlington territory, there was an inch of precipitation. Across the country from Stromsburg there was about one-half inch, with the same amount in the vicinity of Edgar and one-fourth inch at Holdrege. A light shower fell in Omaha yesterday morning.

Over the Union Pacific and Northwestern there were light and scattered showers.

Railroad men who study the crop situation say that it is now too late for rain to be of any benefit to corn, but that a heavy downpour would revive the pastures and put the ground in condition for plowing for fall wheat.

With the railroads the Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and western Iowa crop conditions continue to grow worse, instead of improve, so far as corn is concerned. All over the territory in the central west, say the railroad crop experts, last week was hot and dry, destroying all hope of an average corn crop.

Corn Crop a Failure. Superintendent Allen of the Burlington, who has kept in close touch with the condition of the corn crop, sees practically a failure of the crop in Nebraska. In his soil and crop report for last week, just issued, he puts the corn yield in Nebraska the lowest in years. Throughout the Omaha district, which includes the country north of the Platte river, he estimates the yield at 50 per cent of the normal; over the Lincoln division, 30; the Wymore, 20, and the McCook division, 10 per cent.

The weather has seriously affected the potato crop and now the yield is placed at about one-half of the normal. Pastures continue to dry up and in many localities feed for animals is becoming scarce.

Currency Bill Will Be Reported to the House Tuesday

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The administration currency bill probably will be reported tomorrow and be ready for debate Wednesday. The republican report will be filed at the same time.

Before taking up the currency bill, however, the house will complete its consideration of the urgent deficiency bill, on which it continued today.

The senate banking committee resumed hearings today, with W. H. Allen of Brooklyn the only witness. Prof. O. M. W. Sprague of Harvard will be again questioned tomorrow.

Chairman Henry of the house rules committee called at the White House today, he said, to assure President Wilson that his committee was ready to introduce a special rule if necessary to expedite the bill through the house. He predicted that the bill would be passed by the house after a week's debate.

Democratic senate leaders decided today to move no further toward an agreement on the administration bill until it has passed the house. After a conference with colleagues on the banking committee, Chairman Owen today secured President Wilson's tentative approval of the plan.

The hearings begun last week and resumed early today will be suspended for about two weeks and when the tariff bill is out of the way many senators will leave Washington for a short rest.

It is predicted today that consideration of the bill in committee will continue until the middle of October before it will be possible to estimate what support it can command in the senate.

High School Boy Murders Girl and Commits Suicide

SALEM, O., Sept. 8.—The body of Ida Lee, 15 years old, a high school girl, was found in a grove north of here today with a bullet hole through her head. She had been missing since Saturday, when she went mushroom hunting with Oscar Gray, also 15 years old. Gray is missing.

The body of Oscar Gray was found on the farm adjoining that of Mrs. Allen. Frank Frantz, owner of the farm, found the body. The boy had shot himself through the head. Gray was a high school student and a leading athlete.

When the two did not return home Saturday evening an alarm was suspected. Then Jesse Gray, the boy's father, missed his revolver. Alarmed, he notified the parents of the girl, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee, and a search was begun.

Proposes to Prevent Slaughter of Calves

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The conservation of calves as a means of lowering the high cost of living is a plan formulated by Representative Britten of Illinois, who has been investigating the scarcity of beef cattle and the consequent high cost of meat. Representative Britten today introduced a bill designed to prevent the killing of calves and to insure an increase in the meat supply. The measure would make a misdemeanor the shipment in interstate commerce of beef cattle killed under two years of age.

WIFE OF WARDEN REPORTS

Mrs. J. C. Sanders Tells Iowa Board of Convicts' Escape. BOARD TO INVESTIGATE CASE

Governor Clarke Heads Iowa Delegation Going to Lincoln September 20 for Permanent Bank Organization.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Sept. 8.—(Special Telegram.)—Mrs. J. C. Sanders, wife of the warden at Fort Madison prison, today told state officials the history of the escapes from the prison the last week.

A full report had been mailed by the warden, but he was busy making efforts to recapture McCloud and Scanlon and sent his wife to the state house to make a personal report. Completeness of the guards is suspected and one of them has been discharged because of the escapes. The Board of Control will probe the whole affair.

Governor George W. Clarke will head the Iowa delegation which will go to Lincoln on September 20 for a permanent organization of the coast to coast highway, which had its initial get together meeting in Des Moines on August 14. The governor will urge the state highway commission to attend.

Light Showers in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 8.—Light showers at scattered points brought decided relief from extreme heat over Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma today, but in no instance were they heavy enough to break the long drought, according to reports reaching the United States weather station here.

Temperatures over the states today were from ten to fifteen degrees lower than those that prevailed last week. The heaviest rainfall reported from Missouri was .15 of an inch at Lamar.

Pittsburgh, Kan., received .25 of an inch, the first rain of any kind since August 17, and the heaviest since May. At Oklahoma City and other Oklahoma points good showers fell.

The Kansas river at Topeka, usually a lively stream, is the lowest on record. Between Topeka and Lawrence the river is only one foot deep.

Several trainloads of water are carried each day by the railroad from Independence to other cities, where it is turned into railway ponds and shared with the townspeople. Some farmers in Jackson county haul water twelve miles both for their families and their live stock.

MOVEMENT FOR UNION CHURCH AT ISABEL, S. D.

ISABEL, S. D., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—A movement is under way in Isabel for a union of the various Protestant churches in the town, with one pastor at the head of the united church. The promoters argue that by combining the churches and engaging a pastor at a much more liberal salary than could be paid by any one denomination if each of the several churches continue under existing circumstances, a much more efficient man could be procured, who, as the Isabel News, in advocating the proposition, states "could devote his whole time to the business of saving souls and the uplifting of the community morals where they need a boost."

JEROME ACQUITTED OF GAMING CHARGE COURT APOLOGIZES

Special Assistant Attorney General of New York State is Found Not Guilty.

CASE VERY BADLY MIXED UP Country Lawyer and 80-Year-Old Justice Get Affair in Tangle.

CROWD STAMPS AND HISSEL Counsel Ar' Angered and Harl Accusations of Crooked Work.

JUDGE REFUSES TO PRESIDE District Magistrate Henry Mulvena, Come from Sherbrooke to Act in Case, Declines to Go on Bench.

COTACOOK, Quebec, Sept. 8.—William Travers Jerome, was acquitted tonight of the charge of having gambled on the Thursday last on the station property of the Grand Trunk railway, while waiting for the immigration authorities to pass on the case of Harry K. Thaw. In discharging him the court apologized for the humiliation to which he had been subjected.

A county lawyer, Joseph Beaulne by name, and an 80-year-old justice of the peace, James McKee, so mixed up the hearing in the case against Jerome this afternoon that District Magistrate Henry Mulvena, who had come here from Sherbrooke by automobile, twenty-three miles for the purpose, refused to preside and adjournment was taken until tonight. For forty-five minutes' counsel were angered and hurled suggestions of crooked work. Jerome smiled, the crowd in the court room alternately stamped and hissed and Magistrate Mulvena declared he had been brought under false pretenses.

Jerome, charged with playing poker with some newspaper men near the railroad station last Thursday, had come to Cotacook from Montreal on an understanding that his case, set for hearing on Thursday, September 11, had been advanced to today and that Justice of the Peace McKee, who signed the original complaint, had agreed that Magistrate Mulvena should preside.

Accompanying Jerome was Samuel Jacobs, one of the most eminent lawyers of the dominion, who has been retained by the state of New York in the Thaw case. When the crowd jammed its way into the little court room about 4:30 o'clock, neither side was able to produce any formal statement from Justice McKee, who had authorized Magistrate Mulvena to sit, the complainant, Milford Aldrich, the mill hand could not be found, and John Andrews, the constable, who arrested Jerome was missing.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 8.—Dominion officials here foresee a delay of possibly two years before final decision of the Thaw case. The litigation in their opinion undoubtedly will end in the court of the dominion courts to the privy council in England, where the final verdict will be written. Until this verdict is given, the immigration officials believe the court will not permit the deportation of Thaw and he will remain on Canadian soil. The journey of the action through the courts to the privy council is a long one.

At Montreal the judge attended the meeting of the chief justices of all the states and territories, held in conjunction with the American Bar association.

Judge Letton is expected the last of the week having arrived in New York from Scotland last week.

Speaking to a Nation.

When some widely important event occurs it is flashed throughout the length and breadth of this land in a miraculously short space of time, such as a whole nation reads through the daily press what is going on.

Millions of human beings are awayed daily by the press of North America. It is the all powerful medium of information.

We arise in the morning and demand our newspaper, or we take it home with us in the evening—frequently both. Things are happening and we want to know.

Men who are well informed on advertising recognize this tremendous force exerted by newspapers.

In an incredibly short space of time it is possible for a national advertisement to have a sound and meritorious proposition to inform the whole nation, or such selected parts of it as he may choose, and to create an actual and a universal demand simultaneously.

Newspapers like THE BEE offer national advertisers the quickest and best possible results.

Merchants and manufacturers with advertising problems on their hands are invited to write to the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York.
