WATER NOW RUNS FREELY
State Engineer Aroused by Government Tactics.
PLENTY TO SPARE IN DROUGHT
Pathfinder Dam, However, Kept Flow Controlled, and Farmers Were Unable to Use It Until Too Late.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Sept. 18.—(Special.)—State Engineer D. D. Price is considerably wrought up over the action of the government in withholding water in the Pathfinder dam during the summer when it was needed and now that the time is passed when it could be a benefit to the state to turn it loose in the river and let it go to waste.

"The same thing will be done next spring," said Mr. Price. This winter the government will store up the water in the reservoir and next spring when there is plenty of excess flow the farmers along the river will not be permitted to get any of it."

In addition to the damage done by not allowing settlers to use the water, the government is now turning it loose down the Platte river and preventing the irrigators from fixing up their head gates and the state from building bridges.

There will be 350,000 acre feet of water turned loose down the Platte river this fall. An acre foot is water a foot deep over the entire area. This means that enough water which has been held back from the settlers during the summer, if allowed to flow where and when needed would have given the farmers along the river all the water needed to have irrigated their lands.

New Department Head.
Prof. Richardson has been elected to the head of the department of education in the Kearney state normal school in place of Prof. Fleishman who resigned to take a higher salaried position at West Chester, Pa.

To Adjust Stanton Case.
Railway Commissioner Ball has returned from Stanton, where he held the complaints there against the Northwestern Railroad company because of inadequate depot and stock yards facilities. He thinks that the matter will be amicably settled by the railroad and the people of Stanton. The stock yards matter will be adjusted by the railroad company arranging more stock pens, while the depot proposition will be also settled.

Johnson Will Pay.
A message to Auditor W. B. Howard this morning from Johnson county states that the Board of Commissioners of that county would shortly send the auditor a draft for $1,000, a portion of the sum due the state for the care of insane patients previous to the change in the law in 1881. They stated that it would be impossible to pay any more because it would require a special levy to raise the amount, and that could not be done until next year. The amount due the state is something over $12,000.

TRIAL OF SULZER BEGINS
Several Thousand Persons Through Capitol and Grounds.

EIGHT ARTICLES IN THE BILL
Governor is Charged with Perjury, Bribery, Larceny, Suppression of Evidence and Corrupt Use of His Office.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 18.—The high court for the trial of the impeachment of William Sulzer, governor of New York state, held its first session today, organization was perfected and adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning in order to draft the procedure for the trial.

As had been expected, counsel for the impeached executive objected to the senators who served on the Frawley committee, which unearthed much of the evidence resulting in the impeachment, sitting in judgment on the governor. They also objected to Senator Wagner, acting lieutenant governor, becoming a member of the court. Notwithstanding these objections the senators were sworn in, Chief Judge Cullen announcing the points raised would be considered later.

It was also determined that Judges Miller, Chase and Hancock, three appointed members of the court of appeals, would be permitted to serve on the high court along with the elected judges and members of the senate.

Governor Sulzer was not in the court room. When he was called to answer the charges preferred by the assembly, Judge D. Cady Herrick, his chief counsel, announced that it was the governor's desire not to appear in person, but to be represented by his attorneys.

Capitol is Thronged.
Although noon was the appointed hour for the convening of the court, several thousand persons thronged the capitol building and grounds before 9 o'clock, all hoping to gain admittance to the senate chamber, the scene of the trial. While there was no indication that any testimony would be taken today, the crowds were eager to witness the solemn opening ceremonies of the court.

Arrived against the governor as counsel for the assembly board of managers today were Alton B. Parker, former chief judge of the court of appeals; John B. Stanchfield, Edgar T. Brackett, Eugene Lamb Richard, Isadore J. Kresel and Hiram C. Todd.

Attorneys for the defense include D. Cady Herrick, Irving G. Vann, former judge of the court of appeals; August G. Fox, Harney D. Hinman, Louis Marshall and Roger P. Clark.

Eight Articles in Bill.
The eight articles of impeachment voted against Governor Sulzer by the assembly are in substance:

That he filed with the secretary of state a false statement of his receipts and other monetary transactions during his gubernatorial campaign.

That he committed perjury in this statement.

That he bribed witnesses to withhold testimony from the legislative committee which investigated his campaign accounts.

That he suppressed evidence by means of threats to keep witnesses from testifying before the investigating committee.

That he dissuaded a particular witness, Frederick L. Colwell, from attending under subpoena the sessions of the investigating committee.

That he committed larceny in speculating in stocks with money and checks contributed for his campaign.

That as governor he threatened to use his office and influence to affect the vote of certain public officers.

That while governor he corruptly used his authority to affect prices of securities on the New York stock exchange, in some of which securities he was at the time interested.

Foreign Birds Are on Increase in Some Sections

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Sept. 18.—(Special.)—The $5,000 flock of foreign birds which were kept by the state for a couple of years for the purpose of increasing the game colonies of Nebraska and for which the last legislature refused to appropriate any money have had a varied experience since they were sent out in different parts of the state.

Game Warden Gust Retenbeck says it has been discovered where the birds were put in natural groves or hills they have done pretty well, but in instances where the parties to whom they were sent kept them shut up so they could admire their beautiful plumage, the birds have died or have refused to increase.

Senator Jack Grace of Harlan county received a few of the birds which he desired to turn loose on his farm, but the plumage of the birds was so beautiful, according to the game warden, that the senator shut them up in cages with his canary birds and tried to have the canaries teach them to sing.

On the other hand a Chinese pheasant rooster and two hens were sent out to Stapher and turned loose in some timber and notwithstanding one of the hens is missing there have been two broods of chicks hatched and the birds are doing well. Another pair turned loose on an island in the Platte has done well and seem to be on the increase.

MAN WHO SHOT WOMAN IN CHARAVARI IS HELD

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Sept. 18.—(Special.)—The coroner's jury sitting in the case of the killing of Mrs. Carolus Yarga, the mother of nine children, who was shot by Charles Weir in Lincoln, Tuesday night, brought in a verdict of manslaughter and Weir will be held to the district court under bond.

The killing was the result of a charivari party for a son of Mrs. Yarga and his bride who were supposed to be in the house. The party were armed with shot guns, but Weir had a thirty-eight calibre revolver which he began shooting wildly, one of the bullets striking Mrs. Yarga, who was sitting in a rocking chair on the porch. She died on the operating table of a local hospital while the surgeons were dressing the wound.

There seems to be little feeling in the matter against Weir except condemnation for his carelessness, the husband of Mrs. Yarga, after the inquest praising the hand of Weir with bowed head as he passed him with the Sheriff on his way to jail.

ST. PAUL, Neb., Sept. 18.—(Special.)—At a special election held here yesterday the sewer bond proposition carried by a majority of sixty-six votes. St. Paul has a natural "rainage over most of the city and it will be a comparatively easy matter to lay the pipe. Work on the outlet will begin at once. The first sewer district already has been organized and it is expected that other will be organized soon.

Hoagland Favors Commission Form of State Law Making

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Sept. 18.—(Special.)—Reconstruction of the laws of the state relative to the legislature should be had as the solution of the present methods of making laws in the opinion of Senator Walter V. Hoagland of North Platte.

The senator thinks both branches of the legislature should be merged into one branch with possibly about fifteen members. These men should be required to be in session the year around, or the greater share of it and should be paid a sufficient salary that would keep them from attending to any other business but the making of laws for the state.

Insurance Cases to Be Heard in One Suit

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Sept. 18.—(Special.)—On the motion for a rehearing before the supreme court made by Auditor W. B. Howard which was argued Tuesday morning on an application by the auditor for a chance to present his side of the case in the peremptory writ of mandamus case compelling him to turn over the insurance department under his charge to the new board of insurance, the supreme court this morning decided to hold its opinion until the case brought by the auditor to test the constitutionality of the new insurance law is heard.

The two cases practically cover the same point and involve the constitutionality of the code insurance law passed by the last legislature.

The Old Line Bankers Life Insurance Co., Lincoln, Neb.

Gentlemen:

I am very glad to acknowledge receipt of your draft handed me by Jo H. Fowler, Agent of your Company, for $857.10, being in settlement of my policy No. 11696 on the ten payment Life plan, which is just matured. I took out this policy at the age of 51 years, and have enjoyed the protection of $1,000.00 insurance during the ten years, and now, at the advanced years of my life, I can say that nothing in the history of modern times records an instance more impressive than this sum of money coming to me at my declining years, which affords some conception of the untold amount of good being accomplished by the Old Line Bankers Life of Nebraska.

Being at this time 61 years old, this little investment looks mighty good to me, and should show to anyone how little an effort it is to take care of old age by laying aside a few dollars for a few years in a well managed Company.

Thanking you for courtesies extended and assuring you of our very best wishes for the Old Line Bankers Life Insurance Company.

Very truly yours,
JOSEPH T. PHILLIPS.

Harmless "fruit laxative" cleanses the stomach, liver and bowels without any griping.

A delicious cure for constipation, biliousness, sick headache, sour stomach, indigestion, coated tongue, salivaceous "California Syrup of Figs." For the cause of all this distress lies in the basement of the high school building caught fire. The lower grades were given a recess and the coal was shoveled out, little damage being done. Mrs. Alta Allen Singleton of Cripple Creek, Colo., is very ill at her father's home in Geneva. Her condition is very serious.

Please don't think of "California Syrup of Figs" as a physic. Don't think you are drugging yourself or your children, because this delicious fruit laxative can not cause injury. Even a delicate child can take it as safely as a robust man. It is the most harmless, effective stomach, liver and bowel regulator and tonic ever devised.

Your only difficulty may be in getting the genuine; so ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs." See to your druggist. It is only that made by the California Fig Syrup Company. This city has many counterfeit "fig syrups," so watch out.
