'Sop' Dies During Annual Class Fight; Leather Collar Chokes. LAFAYETTE, Ind., Sept. 20.—W. F. Obenchain of South Whittier, Ind., died tonight during the annual "tankcrap" between the freshmen and sophomore classes at Purdue university. Obenchain, a sophomore, and his classmates wore leather collars, reinforced with metal to protect their necks. Obenchain had a goitre of the neck and in the excitement his neck swelled until he was choked to death.

Physicians said Obenchain had been dead fifteen minutes when found. University authorities issued a statement in which it was said Obenchain's death was not due to any injury received in the fight, and it was announced that the historic "tankcrap" would never be held again.

The annual freshman-sophomore fight received the name of "tankcrap" because it has been held near a water tank. The freshmen, victors tonight, were parading their victims about the campus and had lighted bonfires when news of Obenchain's death was announced. The celebration immediately ceased.

SOCIALIST ELECTED TO DUTCH PARLIAMENT. THE HAGUE, Sept. 20.—The filtration with the socialists started by Queen Wilhelmina in July when she attempted to induce a number of socialist leaders to enter the Dutch cabinet, had a sequel today in the province of Priesland, which made a new departure by electing the socialist leader Poels as a member of the upper house of the Dutch Parliament. Poels is president of the diamond workers' union.

DR. LOWE GUEST AT CLUB. Cedar Falls Minister Entertained by Omaha Methodists. BEGAN IN NEWSPAPER FIELD. Served on Pittsburgh Paper and Spent Some Time in Politics Before Becoming Methodist Minister.

Rev. Titus Lowe of Cedar Falls, Ia., who may be assigned by Bishop Frank M. Bristol to take the pastorate of the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city, was given a dinner at University club last night by several members of the church and later an informal reception was held in his honor. Dr. Lowe was returning home from Lincoln, where he delivered an address before the Nebraska Methodist conference on "The Emancipation of Woman in the Orient."

Quite a while before Dr. Lowe became a Methodist preacher he was a newspaper man and a stump political speaker. The doctor is not enthusiastic about his former political opinions, and probably has changed them in these days of lightning transformations, but he declares being a newspaper man was some experience.

"I started by working on the college paper," said Dr. Lowe, "and later worked on the old Pittsburgh Dispatch. Oh, yes, I've had my share of politics. I campaigned one fall and got some good practice filling in for the principal speaker, who didn't want to talk all the time or were late or something."

Dr. Lowe said he didn't report his own speeches during this campaign, contenting himself merely with the practice he received, which, he says, helped fit him for the pulpit.

Dr. Lowe spent four years in India, in charge of the English-speaking church of Calcutta. The Iowa minister was much pleased with Omaha and the members of the congregation enjoyed the evening with him, for he is a genial fellow, and proved himself an entertaining conversationalist. He said he would be delighted to come to Omaha, which he believes from the casual inspection he made of it, is not "a tough town."

Grand Lodge Rejects Proposal of Rebekahs. MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 20.—The attempt of the Rebekah branch of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows to establish a general assembly was voted down by the sovereign grand lodge today. Further consideration of the proposed plan was postponed indefinitely.

The action of the grand lodge puts an end, temporarily at least, to a long-cherished hope of the women's branch of the order. The grand lodge enacted legislation today that hereafter will prevent past grand masters from voting. The resolution adopted will allow the various state jurisdictions to deprive their past grand masters from that privilege.

Trades Baby for Six Hens and a Rooster. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 20.—How a mother traded a year old baby girl for six hens and a rooster because she had been deserted by her husband and could not support her child came to light today through the death of Mrs. Millie Karnes. Mrs. Karnes was fatally burned while making a fire at her home yesterday.

"I started by working on the college paper," said Dr. Lowe, "and later worked on the old Pittsburgh Dispatch. Oh, yes, I've had my share of politics. I campaigned one fall and got some good practice filling in for the principal speaker, who didn't want to talk all the time or were late or something."

Dr. Lowe said he didn't report his own speeches during this campaign, contenting himself merely with the practice he received, which, he says, helped fit him for the pulpit.

FIFTH ATTEMPT ON LIFE. Mrs. Sadie Nichols Fails in Effort to Kill Herself. HUSBAND ABSENT IN WYOMING. Writes Note of Farewell and Lies Down on Bed After Opening Seven Gas Jets in Closed Apartments.

Attempting her life for the fifth time within the year, Mrs. Sadie Nichols, 923 South Twenty-second street failed to die last night by asphyxiation. Because her husband, who left her a month ago to seek employment at Evanston, Wyo., had written her Thursday of his intention to remain another month in the west, Mrs. Nichols barricaded herself in the rooms on the north side of her home, and after fastening the windows turned on seven gas jets. Lying across the bed she awaited the end. Miss Jane Hardwidge and Mrs. Charles Hobbs, who reside in the same house, detected the odor of gas and summoned the police, who after a half hour's work with restoratives saved her life. A note found across her face bade her husband not to be shocked at the news of her death, and informed him that some day he would realize why she had taken her life. Another on a dresser gave instructions to notify her husband and bade her little girl good-by. The child, 12 years of age, is in a convent at Des Moines. About two weeks ago Mrs. Nichols went to the bank of the Missouri river with the purpose of drowning herself, but was stopped by a friend. On two previous occasions she tried to end her life by gas, and once took poison. Upon recovering Mrs. Nichols thanked Dr. Foitts for reviving her and promised that she would not try to end her life again. She expressed her intention of joining her husband at Evanston as soon as possible. Mrs. Nichols is about 2 years of age and since her husband's departure has taken boarders to make a living. Mr. Nichols is employed as a railroad yard foreman at Evanston. About three hours after the affair Mrs. Nichols had recovered sufficiently to come to police headquarters and secure the notes she had written from Captain Dempsey. Zinner was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. The indictment alleges that on April 20, 1913, Hans entered Rose Littlejohn from her home in Logan, Ia., to Omaha for immoral purposes. The girl remained in Omaha two days, it is understood, and then returned to her home in Logan. "The girl alleged that the two stopped at a hotel in Omaha for two nights, but she was unable to give the name of the hotel. BRIDGEPORT, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Hansford Dunnally of Stamford, who did heroic rescue work in the wreck of the Springfield express on the New Haven road at Westport last October, was found guilty in the superior court late today of the theft of jewelry valued at $2,500, taken from one of the wrecked cars. The jewelry was owned by Mrs. Elizabeth S. James of Chicago. Dunnally was sentenced by Judge Reed to not less than one nor more than five years in prison.

KRANICH & BACH PIANOS. Accepted everywhere by critical Americans as representing the highest attainable standard in American piano craft. Conceived by the men whose names appear upon the fall board, made under their personal supervision and the most ideal conditions, these pianos are, in every respect, individual and incomparable creations. For a quarter of a century we have sold this famous piano, both in the grands and uprights, and the musical people of Omaha are always willing to testify to the artistic quality of tone and their wonderful durability. We cordially invite you to inspect these beautiful instruments.
