Duck Shooting Is Fine.—Duck shooting on Carter lake is said by hunters to be better this season than at any other time in the last few years. Detective Eddie Fleming met several friends yesterday returning from a successful trip and was presented with half a dozen fine birds, with which Fleming later entertained some of his friends at Wroth's.
Former Omaha Boy Killed.—Word has been received at the Burlington offices that Frank Worthington, a former Beatrice boy was killed at Billings, Mont., yesterday in an automobile accident. Worthington was an employe of the Burlington several years, working in the offices at Beatrice and later in the freight department at the Omaha headquarters of the road.
Work Starts on Mill Building.—The work of grading and building has been started for the Arthur building that is to be constructed between the Smith and Parnassian streets. It is to be a three-story building. The lower floor is to be used for stores and the upper ones will likely be used as an extension of the Bachelor

Marshall, of the Marshall Paper company is to appear before the municipal affairs committee of the Commercial club Thurson the Fourth of July. He was most active in defeating the ordinance proposed by the club.

Janitor Steals Typewriter.—Ross Robinson, colored, was bound over to the district court with bonds fixed at $1,000. Robinson was arrested for the theft of a typewriter valued at $100, which he took from the L. C. Smith Typewriter company while employed there as janitor.
Robinson sold the machine to Ollie Jackson, a colored politician, for $15, who afterward learned that it had been stolen and reported the theft to the police.

Miss Lang Opens at the American

Etta Lang became an institution in Omaha last night when her appearance at the American theater, her welcome was so cordial that it was with difficulty the play proceeded.
The comedy "In Search of a Sinner" was but a medium on this the opening night in new repertoire. The reception of this popular young actress and her company. The theater was crowded before the orchestra took position and each seat holder, two-thirds of whom were women, joined in the welcoming applause when she entered in so hearty a manner that a stranger here would have deemed her the most popular stage favorite in the United States.
She wore the gown, though to one not versed in textiles, it was a top-up as to which one it was. She wore three.
The demonstration was peculiar to Miss Lang's openings, only a great deal more so. At the close of the second act she was presented with enough flowers to start a hothouse. Pierre Watkins and Frank Dentithone each had to make a little speech to pacify the crowd. Barring the interruptions when the performers were called upon to "say something," no time was lost, and the three-act comedy, "In Search of a Sinner, was presented in the usual capable manner.
The scenery settings and costumes were all that could be asked for. The play itself is a clever work. Each member of the company is well adapted to his part.
The audience was so well pleased, that it insisted upon four curtains in the first act, seven in the second and one in the last.
The official curtain-faller is going around today with the arm in a sling.
The cast was composed of the following:
The Man.....Willard Mase
Walter.....Jack Garrett
The Maid.....James Morton
Tommy Ratican.....Lew Welsh
Bob Bolton.....Jack Marvin

Helen Chadbourne.....Cora Lambert

SCHOOL AND COLLEGE WORK

Marked Decrease in Students at Medical Colleges.

Marked falling off in the number of students in the medical colleges of the United States features the 1913 census of medical students compiled by the Journal of the American Medical Association.
The Journal's compilation shows a total of 17,616 students enrolled during the school year ending last June. This is a decrease of 471 compared with the year 1912, and of 4,511 compared with the year 1910. The number is 31,127 below the registry of 1914, when "high water mark" was reached. Of the total number of students there were 15,000 in attendance at the so-called regular colleges, 260 at the homeopathic, and 256 at the eclectic colleges. The attendance at the regular colleges shows a decrease of 1,226 below that of 1912 and 3,505 below 1911. In the homeopathic colleges there was an increase of twenty-three above the attendance of 1912, but a decrease of forty below the total for 1911. The eclectic colleges show a decrease of fifty-two below 1912 and a decrease of 177 below 1911.
With regard to women physicians the Journal says there has been "a very marked decrease in the number of women in medicine since 1910, when there were 967 women students and 17 graduates, and in 1909, when there were 81 women students and 16 graduates." For 1913 the summary shows there were 640 women students, thirty-nine fewer than in 1912 and forty below the record of 1911. The percentage of women students to the total number of medical students was 3.6, as compared with 3.5 in 1912. There were 54 women graduates this year.
The figures may be accepted as reflecting the rising standards of the American schools of medicine.

KEARNEY STATE NORMAL

Attendance at Opening Much Larger Than a Year Ago.

It was thought for a time that the failure of crops would interfere greatly with the fall attendance, but it is pleasing to find that the attendance at the opening is much larger than a year ago.
The enrollment at the close of the first week this year shows 192 students more than at the same time a year ago.
Dr. R. F. Richardson, formerly of the State Normal school at Emporia, Kan., but recently of Clark university, Wor-chester, Mass., has been selected to take the place in the department of education made vacant by the resignation of Dr.
Arthur Cary Fishman, who has accepted a similar position in the State Normal school at West Chester, Penna., at an increased salary. Dr. Richardson has been pursuing post graduate work in Clark university under Dr. C. Stanley Hall, the noted specialist in education.
The Young Men's Christian association gave a watermelon feast at the normal building on Thursday. Nearly 100 men were present at the feast. After filling up on watermelon, the company repaired to one of the large reception rooms, where they were entertained by speeches from leading members.
The joint reception committee of the Christian associations arranged a reception for the students at the normal building Friday. Music was furnished by the Normal orchestra, speeches were made from the representatives from the various school organizations.
President Thomas participated in the dedication of the new high school building at Kansas. He had delivered an address at the laying of the corner stone some months ago.

HASTINGS COLLEGE

Aspicious Beginning of Thirty-Second College Year.

Hastings college began its thirty-second year September 17. The opening address was delivered by Rev. George F. Mc-Dougal, class of 1904, of Bridgeport, Neb.
It was a strong appeal for individual growth and control.
A large number of visitors were present both from the city and from surrounding towns. Among those from outside points were noticed Rev. Mr. Purdy and wife and Mr. Duffin from Gibson; Mr. Chase, Boulder, Colo.; Rev. Mr. Roland and son of Fairfield; Rev. Mr. Kelso and B. M. Coon of Hansen; Mr. Funk and Mrs. C. A. Johnson of Logan.
President Crane announced that the enrollment on the opening morning had surpassed the entire enrollment of last year in every department and that many others would schedule within the next few days. The college department has now 25 per cent more students than it had last year; the physical department of the conservatory has more than doubled.
A large class has been formed also in music history.
Coach Ferguson reports athletic conditions greatly improved and prospects encouraging. Beginning with registration day, there has been a splendid squad out for practice each evening.
The new members of the faculty have already taken hold of their work with vim. These are Mrs. M. I. Logsdon, dean of women and instructor in mathematics; H. M. Cunningham, instructor in French and German; Rev. E. L. Wehrenberg, instructor in Greek and Latin.

WAYNE STATE NORMAL

Plans Adopted for a New Central Building.

At the last meeting of the normal board, held at Lincoln, the plans by Architect J. H. Cook were adopted for a new central building at Wayne. Secretary Tooley was directed to advertise for bids and the contract will be let at the next meeting. Work on the new structure will not begin before March, at which time the old college building will be razed and a new central building erected on the original site at a cost of $60,000.
Miss Elsie Ford Piper and Miss Sara J. Killen returned to Wayne at the opening of the term after spending the summer abroad.
Miss Franc B. Hancock, a graduate of Lewis Institute, Chicago, has been elected teacher of domestic science to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Mary Pettit.
President Conn has received official notice of his election as vice president of the normal department of the National Educational association for the year 1913-14.
Registration of students for the new semester began Monday and the attendance for the first day shows an increase of 25 per cent over that of last year.
The enrollment for the first semester last year was more than 400.

FIRST MAIL FORTY YEARS AGO

Omaha Postoffice Celebrates Anniversary of Free Delivery Today.

More Men Have Been Added From Time to Time, Until There Are Now Four Hundred and Four Employees.
Forty years ago today the free delivery system in the Omaha postoffice was begun with six carriers. Ten years later there were thirteen carriers on the force and six clerks. Forty years ago there were 2,000 boxes at the postoffice, all but a few of which were useless after the free delivery was commenced.
Prior to September 22, forty years ago, the residents of Omaha came to the postoffice, which was then located at Fifteenth and Dodge streets, and asked for their mail as is done now in the small towns throughout the country. When the free delivery system was installed six carriers were appointed to deliver mail to 2,000 families in the city.
Today, forty years later, on the same date, September 22, there is a total of 404 employees in the postoffice. And in addition there are 720 boxes. There are 167 routes, as compared with the six of forty years ago. Today there are 138 carriers and thirty substitutes. There are 130 regular clerks today and four substitutes. In addition to these there are thirteen laborers and nine special delivery carriers.
In no one year since the free delivery system was made a part of the Omaha postoffice has there been more than twelve carriers appointed. The largest number of new carriers put on at one time was six. During the four years Benjamin Thomas was postmaster there were but six additional carriers appointed.
The first year Postmaster Wharton held that office there were twelve added to the force and two more but a few days later. This it can be seen that the Omaha postoffice has made wonderful strides in the last forty years.

Omaha Bids Higher Than Chicago for Western Grain

With farmers inclined to hold back their grain in anticipation of higher prices, grain receipts of the Omaha market have fallen slightly below those of the corresponding week of last year, though the shipments have been heavier, due to the fact probably that the elevators are well filled. The idea is prevalent that prices are going to be higher and the dealers are sharing an opinion similar to that of the farmers, Carload receipts and shipments during the last week were as follows: Receipts—Wheat, 23, corn, 22; oats, 12.
Shipments—Wheat, 26; corn, 42; oats, 23.
During the last week St. Louis has been in the market for practically all the Nebraska wheat and corn moving out of the elevators. From there the wheat is going to the mills in the south and the corn and oats to the cereal mills and plantations. St. Louis has secured the grain simply because the houses there have made an average of 1 cent over Chicago, thus enabling Omaha to duplicate all Chicago bids and in some instances bid higher.
Minneapolis has been put out of the running and during the week not to exceed a dozen cars went to that market.
All week Minneapolis prices have been below Omaha and there was no indication to send grain to the north.
From now on Omaha dealers generally expect to see most of the Nebraska grain go to the south and some of them go so far as to say that Chicago will be unable to enter into competition with Omaha for Nebraska and western Iowa grain. They all concede that with the opening of the canal the bulk of the grain is going south and that with its rail connection and comparatively the same distance all grain from this section, sold for export, will naturally take the southern route.

Happy Hollow Club Elects Officers for the Coming Year

Robert Dempster, George F. Gilmore and C. C. Belden were elected directors of the Happy Hollow club at the annual meeting held last night to succeed Joseph Polster and W. L. Selby. At a subsequent meeting to be announced later new officers will be elected by the board of directors and committees will be appointed for the ensuing year.
It is thought that a dance committee will be appointed at that time. No mention of the subject was made last night.
Some discussion has arisen of late as to permitting the late dances, as the tango was the one stop on the floor, but the stockholders evaded the question last night, although scores of couples were going through the gyrations on the floor at the time. It is thought that the board will do nothing until next year when it is possible the fad will have lost its attraction.

Corset Stops Bullet in Bar Annex Row

Resenting an accusation of another woman, Mrs. Lou Jennings, a widow living at 1815 Chicago street, became engaged in an altercation early this morning in the annex of the California hotel bar at Sixteenth and California streets.
Later, when with Fred Hurst, her brother, who was with her, she went to leave the place, the woman who made the accusation drew a revolver and fired one shot.
The bullet struck Mrs. Jennings' corset and inflicted only a bad bruise.
Police are now seeking the woman who did the shooting and the owners of the California bar were brought to police headquarters for maintaining a disorderly place.

PERU STATE NORMAL

Increased Enrollment Fills Some Classes to Overflowing.

A greater number of students were enrolled at the beginning of the semester than a year ago, and they are still coming in.
The industrial courses are filled to overflowing. Recently the Board of Education had another building fitted for manual training, and it is now filled.
Dean House was recently offered a position in Wisconsin. The Board of Education immediately met and raised his salary to $4,000 for 1913-14, and for the year 1914-15 to $4,500. While he did not accept the Wisconsin offer, nevertheless he has decided to stay and there is rejoicing at the normal. Prof. Gregg and Miss Ferguson have also been offered more lucrative positions, but have declined them.

Nebraska Wesleyan Notes

The enrollment of students is larger than ever before. The authorities of the university thought the drought might cause the attendance to fall off, but it seems to be working the other way. There is a large number from other states, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Dakota and Nebraska.
Prof. McCreery of the conservatory appeared at chapel Wednesday morning with several very pleasing numbers. He was accompanied by Mrs. McCreery.
reception was held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Johnson Saturday afternoon.
The conference now in session at Grace church visited the university Friday. That day was devoted mostly to the interests of Wesleyan. In the evening a banquet was given to the visitors by the officials of the university, assisted by the Young Men's Christian association and the Young Women's Christian association. Covers were laid for 600. After the banquet Dr.
Nicholson gave an address in the church.
Repairs are progressing on the heating plant. The force of men now at work will probably be able to put it in good shape before cold weather arrives.

Educational Notes

New York City proposes to end the part time system in overcrowded schools by dividing the children into two shifts, to shift to give four hours of school work each day.
Miss Margaret Judson of Vassar college has accepted the position of superintendent of the college women at Denison university at Granville, O. The new president of Denison, Dr. Clark W. Chamberlain, was also a member of Vassar faculty.
Miss Hewitt, superintendent of the schools in Alameda, Cal., has introduced a course of housekeeping into the high schools from the state of California.
Girls will be taught how to buy vegetables and other table necessities and also how to buy babies' toilet, and anything else that a housekeeper may have to purchase.
Several schools in Indianapolis are to have an assistant principal this fall, whose duties will correspond to those of the dean of women in a college. The idea originated with Mrs. H. W. Nicholson of that city, who said that for years she had been trying to think of some plan of the kind. Many are real helpmates in many instances, who said, about 2,000 girls in the public high schools reading the right sort of a womanly text, with the idea of authority, to look out for their interests.
The week of registration at Yankton college closed Saturday night with 25 different classes about 275 department schedules. The showing in attendance is very gratifying. The total enrollment for the fall is not less than below that of 1912-13. The last week was "get-together" week in society and associational work. The normal association reception—the Young Men's Christian association "sing" for men at the gymnasium and the girls' reception at Dakin hall—were successful and both were made occasions for a general good time of the informal kind. On Monday night the joint session of the two associations, more formal in character, was held in the gymnasium. Brief speeches were made by Mr. Tack, president of the Young Men's Christian association, Miss Kingsbury for the Young Women's Christian association, Prof. Mc-Creery, the college, and by Coach Kerr, the new director of athletics. It was an occasion greatly enjoyed by all present.

Declare War on Colds.

A crusade of education which aims "that common colds may become unknown within the next generation" has been begun by the formative New York physicians. Here is a list of the "do's" which the doctors say will prevent the annual visitation of the cold:
"Don't sit in a draughty car."
"Don't sleep in hot rooms."
"Don't avoid the fresh air."
"Don't stuff yourself at meal time." Overeating reduces your resistance.
To which we would add—when you take a cold get rid of it as quick as possible.
To accomplish that you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most excellent.
