SULZER COURT DODGES ISSUE

Motion to Strike Out Three Counts is Postponed.

WILL TAKE EVIDENCE FIRST Governor Files Answer to Eight Articles, Denying Each of Them—Richards Opens for Prosecution.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Final decision on the defense's objections to including the "money articles" of impeachment in the consideration of the Sulzer case will not be given until all testimony has been taken. The court voted, 45 to 7, today to follow this procedure. Those voting were all democrats.

Governor Sulzer's answer to the eight articles of impeachment, filed with the court today, entered a general denial to each and every one of them.

The vote to reserve decision followed the opinion delivered by Presiding Judge Cullen, advising that the merits of the objections of counsel for the governor to the articles be not decided at this time.

Immediately following the roll call, the governor's counsel was called on to enter an answer to the charges. These were read rapidly by Clerk McCabe. In them the governor declares that he had filed his campaign statement in "good faith."

Eugene Lamb Richards of counsel for prosecution then opened the case against the impeached executive.

Richards' Opening for Prosecution.—Governor Sulzer was under getting money then getting votes during his campaign for election, declared Eugene Lamb Richards of counsel for the prosecution, in his address opening the case against the impeached executive.

After outlining the provisions of the election laws relating to this reporting of campaign contributions, the attorney continued:

"With these provisions in force, what did William Sulzer do? He was nominated on October 2, 1912, and almost immediately he began to solicit and obtain large sums of money for campaign purposes. He went at his campaign for money with system, cool deliberation and cunning schemes to conceal what he got.

Secret Campaign Account.—"Five days after he was nominated he made a public announcement he would have no campaign collectors or financial managers, and yet at that moment his private secretary was already running a secret campaign account and he himself had collectors working for him, scouring the city and state for checks and cash.

"He preferred first currency, which has no earmarks, next checks to bearer or cash, and then checks to the order of some one other than himself, and if this were impossible he was willing to take checks in his own order. He had more than one 'bagman,' which I believe is a favored expression of his. He had a bag himself, which was as open to a $10,000 contribution as to a $5 one.

"We shall show this court instances of his requests that checks should be made to the order of some one other than himself; that he preferred cash to checks; and that when some of his collectors came in with checks he asked them in the future to cash the checks and bring the cash.

"He did more than collect and hold these checks. He intended to keep them. He had no thought of returning the surplus to the contributors. For it will clearly appear that he used and intended to use their contributions to buy stocks and to supply margin for stock speculations.

Keeps Several Accounts.—"He had many ways of getting money and he had many ways of disposing of it. "During the period from October to November, 1912, into and out of the campaign bank account of his secretary, Louis Sarskey, went practically $12,000, about $7,000 more than the defendant reported in the post-election statement.

Into Sulzer's cash Farmers' Loan and Trust company account went $15,000 more. To Harris & Fuller, stock brokers, there went $10,000; to Boyer, Griswold & Co., $12,000, and to Fuller & Gray $17,000. Of these amounts over $40,000 was in currency."

"The prosecuting attorney then took up the governor's statement of campaign expenses, which recorded the receipt of only $4,000.

"He reports sixty-eight contributors," Mr. Richards continued, "and, while they are undoubtedly estimable men, there is not to be found among them any man of prominence in the financial world, not a single contributor whose name could carry meaning to such electors as might examine the statement."

"There is no report of any contributions from such financial magnates as Jacob H. Schiff or E. C. Benedict; not from Myers, the banker, nor from Margenthauf or McCombs, nor from wealthy men identified with the brewing and liquor interests whose contributions had been received by the respondent. We shall ask the court to infer that it was not by accident, but by design that the names of wealthy and powerful contributors whose influence might have been felt in his administration are omitted from the list."

Stock Speculation Continues.—"We shall show that the respondent continued to speculate in stocks after he became governor and that while so interested he caused to be introduced in the legislature and advocated the adoption of legislation vitally affecting the rise and fall of securities on said exchange and we shall leave it to the court to say whether his act as governor in fathering such legislation was not influenced by his personal interest in the fluctuations of securities affected by that very legislation."

Storm General in Mountains.—DENVER, Colo., Sept. 24.—Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and parts of New Mexico and Arizona experienced their first touch of winter last night and today. Snow or rain fell generally throughout Colorado and Wyoming, with a considerable rainfall in northern New Mexico and Arizona. Freezing temperatures were reported from parts of Wyoming, Colorado, Arizona and Utah.

COLORED METHODISTS MEET

Annual Conference of Kansas-Nebraska District is Being Held.

BISHOP PARKS IS PRESENT

Delegates Are Entertained by the Local Churches and the Organization of the Same.

In opening the thirty-eighth session of the Kansas-Nebraska annual African Methodist Episcopal church conference yesterday, Bishop H. Blanton Parks of Chicago held up to the members of his race the doctrine of self-help, declaring that it would bring to the race respect. In his opinion the man or race that depended on others to carry its burdens would never make much progress.

Rev. E. F. Watson of Washington, D. C., secretary of the Church Extension Society and who was in the organization of the Kansas-Nebraska conference thirty-eight years ago, conducted the opening services in St. John's African Methodist Episcopal church, and Rev. J. W. Wilson, one of the pioneers, made the opening prayer. Rev. H. H. McAllister of Coffeyville, Kan., preached the annual sermon, using as his theme, "The Christian Church." Bishop Parks, assisted by Rev. E. F. Watson and the presiding elders, administered holy communion.

Following roll call officers were elected, as follows: C. A. Williams, chief secretary; J. W. Williams, assistant secretary; J. T. Smith, statistical secretary; T. H. Reaves, Dawson Self and C. W. Garrett, marshals; E. R. Vaughn, correspondent to the official church papers.

In Missionary Work.—Mrs. H. B. Parks, the wife of the bishop, was given a novation when she was presented to the conference. She is the official head of the missionary work among the women in the district and is visiting the work with her husband. She will address the conference Friday.

Mrs. L. L. McDonald of Kansas City, Mo., representing the Western Christian Recorder; Charles Stewart, negro newspaper correspondent, and the wives of the ministers were introduced to the conference.

The Willing Workers of St. John's church served dinner to the conference in the lecture room of the church. A committee of fourteen young women waited on the tables. Mrs. John Smith, chairman, Miss Eva Hardy secretary.

The afternoon session was taken up with reports of pastors and general routine business. Reports of the pastors showed an increase in collection of money for the general church work and converts added to the churches.

Reception to the Bishop.—The afternoon given by the colored people of Omaha to the bishop, his wife, visiting general officers and members of the conference last night was well attended. The choir of St. John's African Methodist Episcopal church rendered special music under the direction of J. C. Parker, chorister, and Roy Faust, organist. Rev. J. H. Hanson of Kansas City, Kan., made the opening prayer.

Rev. W. T. Bots of the Baptist church delivered an address of welcome in the name of the negro Baptists. While he was a Baptist yet he was a member of the race first and congratulated the Methodists upon their progress. He had just returned from the session of the national Baptist convention in Nashville, Tenn., where 12,000 negro Baptists celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the emancipation of the slaves. He said that the negro Baptists of the United States numbered 3,000,000.

Representing St. John's African Methodist Episcopal church J. C. Parker extended the welcome, turning over to Bishop Parks the keys of the church, and said that they also unlocked the doors of the pocketbooks of the colored people of the city.

Miss R. A. S. Hogan extended a welcome in the name of the Allen Christian Endeavor and the Sunday school, and Mrs. W. T. Osborne in behalf of the women's organizations of the church.

Adenoids Are a Menace to Children.—Babies and young children must be carefully watched for the growth of adenoids, which spoil the mental and physical life of a child. They usually result from a succession of colds and throat irritations, and their presence is so productive of harm that many school boards have an examining physician to detect them. The conditions that cause them may be easily avoided by careful parents. Quickly and thoroughly cure all colds and throat irritations by the use of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and adenoids will not develop. All doctors everywhere.—Advertisement.

Civil Service Examinations.—WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(Special Telegram.)—A civil service examination will be held on November 8 at Hastings for postmaster at Canton and at Louisville for postmaster at South Bend, Neb. The following postoffices will become postal savings depositories on November 11: Col and Durant, Ia.; Oldham and Wahonda, S. D., and Welford, Wyo.

BROKAW MAY HAVE DOUBLE

Man Wanted for Murder in Indianapolis Identified.

FOUR RECOGNIZE PHOTOGRAPH

Man Said to Be Brokaw Under Arrest at San Francisco When the Crime Was Committed.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 24.—Either Joseph Ellis, alias Fred Brokaw, alias W. R. Anderson, alias Fred Boley, wanted here for the murder of Joseph Schlenky, a second-hand dealer, in a room in the Omaha hotel Monday night, has an exact double, or he is not under arrest in San Francisco, as reported last night, according to the local police.

The photograph of Ellis or Brokaw sent broadcast by the Pittsburgh police department was identified positively by four persons here as the man who killed Schlenky.

The operations of Ellis were similar in all cities he visited. Here he called at the Schlenky store, told him he had some clothing at his room in the hotel which he wanted to sell. Schlenky accompanied him to the room and it is supposed he attempted to rob him and was killed. Ellis calmly left the hotel and departed from the city before the alarm was given. In other cities Ellis succeeded in robbing his victims and escaped while they were locked in their room.

Wife Attempts Suicide.—Audra Baker Anderson, who says that she was married to Roy Anderson, believed to be Joseph Ellis, the slayer of Schlenky, at Danville, Ill., attempted to commit suicide here today. The girl, who is 13 years old, told the police after she had shot herself that she had married Anderson July 8 and that he had deserted or a week later.

The girl said that she had recognized her husband from the description of the Schlenky slayer and that photographs sent out by the Pittsburgh police department were those of the man who had married her. The girl registered at a hotel here as Anderson.

In her room were found letters to her mother, in which the girl said she was going to kill herself because her husband had murdered a man. Enclosed were newspaper accounts of Schlenky's death.

The police are investigating the assertions made by the girl. At the hospital

Good Time Now for Blood Health

Blood Disorders Gains to Stay. A few doses of that wonderful blood purifier, E. E. S., will start activities in the cellular tissues of the body and soon show decided changes in the skin. This skin is but a fine network of tiny blood vessels, and the specific action of E. E. S. is declared to be a pronounced stimulation of the activity of these cells. Certain it is that in a surprisingly short time any skin eruption shows a most remarkable change; it begins to dry up; the skin scales off in tiny flakes, and soon a layer of clear, healthy and fine skin results.

The reason for this is in the peculiar stimulation of E. E. S., which enables the cells in the skin to select from the blood the nutriment it requires for regeneration.

You can obtain E. E. S. at any well stocked drug store, if you insist upon it, but be sure you are not talked into something "just as good."

E. E. S. is prepared by the Swift-Speidel Co., 116 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Write for their illustrated book on skin diseases.

Requestion for 'Frisco Man.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 24.—Requestion papers for Fred Brokaw, alias Fred Boley, alias R. White, under arrest in San Francisco and supposed to be the man wanted here for robbery and assault, were sent to Governor Tener at Harrisburg today by the police department. A city detective will start for California tomorrow morning and the papers when signed by Governor Tener will be forwarded to the governor of the coast state.

'Frisco Man Admits Identity.—SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—The man arrested here Monday in answer to a circular sent out by the Pittsburgh police, not only corresponds perfectly to the photograph reproduced in the circular and to the verbal description, but he admits that he is Fred Brokaw, alias Fred Boley, alias R. White, and says he was arrested in Pittsburgh in 1910.

The picture in the circular is the photograph taken then, he says. Further than that he would not talk.

In running down the man's movements here, though, the police have uncovered a remarkable identity between the working methods of the Brokaw here and the Ellis of Indianapolis. When arrested Brokaw had in his pocketbook a list of names of prominent men. He already had looked up a pawnbroker, whom he had asked to come to his room in a hotel to look at some jewelry and clothing he wanted to sell. Before the visit was made Brokaw was arrested.

From the extraordinary correspondence in the habits and appearance of the prisoners, the detective bureau here is led to believe that Ellis and Brokaw are different men, who profited by their peculiar likeness to establish alibis for each other, while working the same game in different cities.

Brokaw Has 'Alibi.—TUCUMCA, Wash., Sept. 24.—H. A. Brokaw, father of Fred Brokaw, told the police today that an absolute alibi could be offered in defense of the young Tucumca man whose name is strangely connected with a murder in Indianapolis and a robbery in Pittsburgh. Mr. Brokaw said Fred was in Tucumca September 1 and left shortly after for San Francisco, writing from Portland and San Francisco in a manner that showed conclusively his movements. Mr. Brokaw admitted, however, that the photograph in the police circular is that of his son.

"It is the height of ridiculousness to connect Fred with these crimes," said Mr. Brokaw. "Evidently some of his companions have taken Fred's photograph and name and have worked a game on him. I have received stories of this before."

Gaynor Estate of Two Million Goes to Wife and Children

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The will of William J. GAYNOR, late mayor of New York, filed today, leaves to the widow his Brooklyn residence and 100 shares of Royal Baking Powder company stock. The remainder with the exception of minor bequests of the estate is divided two-sevenths to each of two sons and one-seventh to each of three unmarried daughters. The value of the estate is estimated at $2,000,000.

LOWDEN ADDRESSES FARMERS' CONVENTION

PLANO, Ill., Sept. 24.—Former Congressman Frank O. Lowden of Ohio county, spoke today at the Farmers' National convention on "The Farmer as a Factor in Our National Government." This was Plano's day at the congress. William Deering Steward, president of the Independent Harvester company, the big institution of the town, ordered the shops closed and the employees were given a holiday.

"The Rural Problem" was discussed by F. E. Mumford of the Missouri experiment station and Marshall K. Holt of San Francisco, Cal.

Actress Tells Secret

A Well Known Actress Tells How She Darkened Her Gray Hair and Promoted its Growth With a Simple Home Made Mixture. Miss Blanche Ross, a well known actress, who darkened her gray hair with a simple preparation which she mixed at home. In a recent interview at Chicago, Ill., made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray hair and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbe Compound, and 3 oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the required shade. This will make a gray haired person look 10 years younger. It is also fine to promote the growth of hair, relieve itching and scaly humors and is excellent for dandruff and falling hair."
