Catheters Out of Hospital—Roy Cathers, who has been in one of the Omaha hospitals, where he was operated on and his appendix removed two weeks ago, has returned to his home, but it will be a couple of weeks before he will be able to be out.

Book Much Improved—City Passenger Agent Brock of the Milwaukee, who is in a Council Bluffs hospital, where he underwent an operation two weeks ago, is improving rapidly and expects to be out and able to attend to his duties inside of another week.

New Depot at Salina—The Union Pacific is opening bids for the construction of a new passenger depot at Salina, Kan. The building of a $50,000 depot, modern in every particular, is contemplated. The new depot is to take the place of an old frame structure erected years ago and about the time the road reached the town.

Hotel Room Lacked—The rooms of Ellis Block of the Fomaner hotel were locked Tuesday night, $4 and a Colt revolver being the chief articles which the thieves carried away. The night clerk at the hotel noticed two strange colored men leave the building early in the morning, but did not suspect anything until informed of the robbery.

Frederickson is Some Knacker—H. E. Frederickson is quoted in a Centennial (Wyo.) paper as having killed a half grown bear in the Snowy range mountains of southern Wyoming with a .32 caliber rifle. After killing it and the muscles in the bear's body relaxed, Frederickson is described as becoming frightened and breaking all of his previous marathon records.

High School Band Boys Still Refuse to Resume Playing

Football enthusiasts of the high school are beginning to fear that they will be forced to root for Omaha without the band's music at the football games this season. If the entire matter is not settled in a manner that is agreeable to the boys in the band.

The members of the band met Tuesday and selected three of their number, Earl Ticknor, Hubert Millard and Errol Wilson, to interview Principal Kate A. McHugh and Bandmaster George Green in an endeavor to straighten out the tangle. The boys say they will do what they can to cause an amicable settlement, but maintain that if their demands are not complied with they will not play hereafter.

Superintendent Graff and Principal McHugh take the stand that they will allow the boys to disband rather than make any attempt at drawing a race line. Captain F. G. Stritzinger, commandant of the cadets declares that he will force the band boys to play as usual, with the only alternative of an immediate dishonorable discharge from the regiment.

Bryan Objects to Making Public List of Private Expenses

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Secretary Bryan says he does not mind discussing his sources of income, but he thinks it is going a little too far to ask him to make public a detailed account of his private expenses. A speech by Senator Martine defending the secretary's chautauque lecturing, in which the senator said Mr. Bryan was supporting mission students in Japan, brought many inquiries today.

The secretary issued this statement: "We are not educating any boys in Japan. A Japanese student lived with us for about five years, but returned to Japan in 1904. Senator Martine's remarks probably refer to students whom we have assisted in other parts of Asia, but I do not consider it necessary to discuss the matter. I have discussed the sources of my income, but I am not yet convinced that the public requires me to discuss each contribution which I see fit to make to a worthy cause."

New Steward Comes for the Omaha Club

Another change in the staff of the Omaha club is scheduled for the turn of the month, when the chief steward, H. E. Beauregard is to retire. His successor, who comes from one of the big Chicago clubs and goes by the euphonious name of Mr. Jones, is already here familiarizing himself with the requirements of the position.

APPAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Street Railway Company Threatened with Corporation Tax.

BETTER SERVICE IS DEMANDED

Prospect of Something Doing During Carnival Week Brings Several Gambblers to Magic City to Look Over Field.

South Omaha is taking a page out of the book of Omaha and will use every effort to have the street railway company grant a few things for the benefit of the people who live in the Magic City. It is being hinted that the people of South Omaha will force the street railway company to do some extension work and to live up to their schedules a little better.

Residents of both Albright and the West L section have been asking for car line extensions for some time. When the petition and committees have visited the street railway officials the officials have always promised to do everything in the world for them. Then the agitation dies down and nothing is done.

A prominent member of the city government, one who is able to do things when he starts, said: "I am getting tired of these eternal promises. The street car schedules are not regular, I understand, and the extension needed are not given, although the people have demanded them time and again. I will say this that if the street car company does not think a little more about the welfare of South Omaha patrons they will be fed a corporation tax that will make them sit up."

It is understood that the council will be asked to pass some direct legislation for the street railway company unless something besides promises comes south of the Omaha line.

Looking Up Prospect. Gambblers were in South Omaha yesterday trying to make arrangements for a little business during Ak-Sar-Ben week. It is not known whether they actually approached the members of the fire and police board, but they were in town looking up the fixers. Sometimes they make mistakes in picking on a fixer and then there was embarrassment.

Members of the Fire and Police Board some days ago said gambling would not be permitted in South Omaha during the carnival in Omaha.

Blaze Causes Scare, Little Damage Done; Escape for Fireman

Fire in fourth floor of the Omaha Fruit company's building at 414 South Twelfth street yesterday caused several hundred dollars of damage and threw the wholesale district into a flurry of excitement. The origin of the blaze was not determined. When discovered it had a good start and Chief Sailer sent in two alarms, bringing all of the downtown companies. It was controlled in half an hour.

While helping with a line of hose and standing on a ladder, the base of which rested on a tin shed, Paddy Dora, of Hesse Company No. 2 nearly lost his life when the ladder slipped and fell. As he fell it falling, he retained his presence of mind and caught the ledge of a fourth floor window and hung there until comrades rescued him. Then he went about his business as unconcerned as if nothing had happened.

A truck belonging to Company Fifteen at Twenty-second and Ames avenue was "moving in" to a closer station when it crossed Twenty-fourth and Lake streets and was struck by a Dodge street car. The firemen changed the hose loudly, but the street car motorman, according to bystanders, kept his car going. No one was hurt, but two valuable fire horses were badly injured, and the apparatus was broken.

MADAME LYRA CORSETS

"Corsets that will be the least of your troubles." A perfect figure nowadays is largely a matter of a perfect corset.

Choosing a corset is probably the most serious problem of dress. There is the subject of lines to consider, as well as comfort and cost. One should seek style and comfort before cost, of course, for any corset which has style without sacrifice of ease, is economical whatever its cost may be. You can feel confident that when you are fitted to a Madame Lyra you get the best, for this season's models reflect the highest efficiency in corsetry. Just now there is much talk of the corsetless figure. We have both the rubber and tricot corset in the Madame Lyra line. The real corsetless figure must be well corseted. It is a real pleasure to show the new fall models of Madame Lyra corsets. Special appointments for fitting can be made by telephone.

BUSINESS MAN ON SQUARE

J. A. Sunderland Says Politicians Stir Up Strife. Mr. Sunderland was toastmaster of the evening. Over 100 secretaries and guests attended the banquet. Will L. Finch of New York City talked on "Town Development." He urged the commercial clubs to take care of their city first and see that it was right, on the theory that if the city is desirable the industries will flow into it. "Take care of your city," he said, "and the factories will come of themselves." He said that until recently the business men had been too busy to recognize the value of co-operative effort. "They used to leave the handling of the important matters of the city to the politicians who made money out of it," he said. "It is not so any longer." Paul T. Cherrington of the graduate school of business administration of Harvard university, told what the university is trying to do in the way of giving young men a business training to fit them for commercial secretarial work. "A generation ago," he said, "you could go to school to learn law—you go into a law office. They don't say that any more. They used to think it was not proper to go to school to learn medicine and surgery, they thought doctors were born. Now we want the doctor and surgeon that is born and then has the advantage of the best training, who has read all there is to learn about appendicitis when we want him to operate for appendicitis." He contended that so it is with the commercial secretary of the future. Hubert F. Miller, business manager of the Chicago Association of Commerce, in his talk on publicity yesterday morning at the association session at the Rome hotel emphasized the value of newspaper publicity in the city to give the people the facts about what the club is doing and what it is accomplishing. He touched the subject from the standpoint of the big commercial club, and laid great stress on the necessity of taking the newspapers of the city into the confidence of the club and giving local publicity to all its activities. At the noon luncheon in the Commercial club dining room, E. V. Parrish, manager of the publicity bureau of Omaha, led the discussion on the value of conventions. JUDGE TROUP CALLED TO MOTHER'S BEDSIDE IN KANSAS. Judge A. C. Troup of the district court has gone to Concordia, Kan., in answer to a telegram saying that his mother is critically ill. Judge Engle, the other equity judge, is in Chicago and Judge Day consequently is hearing equity matters. Efforts to Prevent Strike in Colorado Make Little Progress. DENVER, Sept. 24.—With Elbert Stewart, representative of the federal Department of Labor, in Denver investigating the coal strike situation, looking toward proposing a peace agreement, and with the activity of the state limited to preventing disorder in the coal camps, efforts to stop the United Mine Workers' walkout in Colorado are making little progress tonight. Governor Ammons said late today that he had received reports from all parts of the state, and that from those reports he was convinced that less than 5 per cent of the miners obeyed the strike order. Key to the Situation—See Advertising.

TRY TO MAKE WORKERS RESTIVE

Business of Commercial Secretary in Future Will Be to Dissip This Idea and Bring About Better Feeling. "There is now a feeling of resentment abroad against the business men, and it is largely due to the politicians," said J. A. Sunderland of Omaha in his address at the banquet of the Central Association of Commercial Secretaries at the Commercial club rooms last night. He had touched on the idea that business men are out simply for selfish gain and to despoil their employees. "This agit-
