PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—President Rea of the Pennsylvania railroad announced today that the board of directors of the company had decided to sell its security holdings in the anthracite coal companies which have been attached to its system for nearly forty years. The Susquehanna Coal company is the principal operating company and selling agency for these companies.

The Pennsylvania railroad, through the Susquehanna Coal company and affiliated companies, produces and ships approximately 10 per cent of the hard coal mined. The company owned or controlled about 17,000 acres of anthracite coal land. A report spread that the Pennsylvania railroad was getting rid of its hard coal holdings to avoid conflict with the Hepburn railroad act, prohibiting a railroad from transporting in interstate commerce any article or commodity manufactured or mined by it or under its authority. No one at the company's general offices would discuss the report.

Also Owns Steel Stock.

The Pennsylvania railroad also owns a controlling interest in the Cambria Steel company, amounting to about $2,000,000. There has been a report current that the company is about to sell this stock. The officers of the company are silent on the subject.

According to the last annual report, the Pennsylvania railroad owned the stock of the Lykens Valley Railroad and Coal company, Mineral Railroad and Mining company, Summit Branch Mining company and the Susquehanna Coal company, having a total capital stock of the par value of $2,365,000. In addition to this stock the Pennsylvania owned $9,000,000 of the bonds of the Susquehanna company. The production of hard coal exceeds 8,000,000 tons a year.

Eighteen Naval Officers Enter Columbia University

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The Department of Justice has on hand an active campaign to disassociate the so-called hard coal railroads from their coal properties. Suits already are pending against the Reading and the Lackawanna under the anti-trust law. The application of the commodities clause of the interstate commerce act to the Erie and the Lehigh Valley has been under consideration. So far there has been no movement against the Pennsylvania, but officials here regard President Rea's announcement as the beginning of an effort on the part of the railroad to put itself in harmony with the law as interpreted by the Department of Justice. As compared with the other anthracite roads the Pennsylvania's holdings are regarded as small.
