CRONIN LOSES LAST CASE

Supreme Court Allows Him Original Judgment in Suit.

THOUSAND FOR THE TAX LIST

Decision that Edward Gunnerson Has No Right to Possession of Children Placed by Children's Society.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Sept. 26.—(Special.)—Opinions by the supreme court were handed down this afternoon and among them was the case of Dennis H. Cronin, proprietor of the O'Neil frontier, who sued Holt county for publishing the scavenger tax law. The jury awarded him $1,011.64 for publishing the law, but Cronin appealed on the grounds of insufficiency of the judgment. The case has been before the supreme court four times. This time the court dismissed the appeal of Cronin for a larger amount and allowed him the first amount given of $1,011.64.

Cannot Secure Children. A case wherein is involved the rights of Edward Gunnerson to have possession of his two children, Elton and Olga came in an appeal from Madison county. Gunnerson had by writing assigned the custody of the children to the Nebraska Children's Home society at Omaha. Later they were placed in homes in Franklin county and soon after Gunnerson married again and sought to regain possession of the children. The supreme court holds that Gunnerson cannot recover possession of the children.

Thorp Not Sustained. In the Cumby county case wherein John F. Thorp was accused of over testifying in a case, the case was taken to the higher court as a test of the cream testing section of the law. The court holds that the decision of the lower court sustaining Thorp is not well taken and reverses the case.

News from Fairbury. FAIRBURY, Neb., Sept. 26.—(Special.)—During the last week county judge C. G. Taylor issued marriage licenses to the following parties: Harry Pearson and Gertrude Bassett, A. J. Hunt and Flora Hardy, David Theissen and Elsie Harms, Walter Greenwood and Mignon Hale. Miss Carrie Yontz, deputy county clerk, writes from Chattanooga, Tenn., that her father is slowly recuperating from the effects of an operation. Mr. Yontz went to Chattanooga to attend a reunion of the civil war veterans. Fred C. Chase, who has been running the Rock Island switch engine in the Lincoln yards, has arrived in Fairbury and commenced work as fireman on the fast passenger train from Fairbury to Phillipsburg. Mr. Chase was involved in the reduction of locomotive engineers this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Brock and son departed for Spokane, Wash., to spend several weeks visiting with Mrs. Brock's sister, Miss Lois Smart. Mr. Brock may conclude to locate in Spokane.

Notes from Madison. MADISON, Neb., Sept. 26.—(Special.)—Andrew J. Sweet and Miss Minnie Beck, both of Norfolk, were married here Wednesday afternoon. The body of Mrs. Lucinda Mack, wife of Dr. Mack of Omaha, was brought to Madison yesterday. Funeral services took place this morning at the Presbyterian church. Dr. Farmer preached the sermon. Mrs. Mack spent her girlhood days at Madison.

Madame Earl Fichter and William Martin entertained the members of the Woman's club of this city at the home of Mrs. Fichter, near Enola, yesterday afternoon. A dainty luncheon was served. Twenty-one women were present.

House Marking Crew at McCook. MCCOOK, Neb., Sept. 26.—(Special.)—The Goodrich Tire company marking crew arrived in McCook Wednesday evening on its way from Denver to Omaha marking the O-L-D section of the transcontinental route. It has just completed this work in Colorado and is now working east. Laying a large amount of supplies, markers, signs, etc., at this place it left yesterday morning for the east.

Famous Dairy Cow Draws Record Crowd

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Sept. 26.—(Special Telegram.)—Katie Gerben drew the largest crowd of spectators in this city that has yet gathered here on her way around the circle. Katie Gerben is the famous milk-producing cow of the Nebraska state agricultural farm at Lincoln and the stellar attraction of the state dairy train now making the state over the Burlington lines. Several thousand people were at the depot when the train pulled in here, and the dairy farm attracted most attentively to the lectures given.

BIXBY AS A PHILANTHROPIST

Millionaire Takes Witness Stand and Denies All Charges.

EXPLAINS GIFTS MADE TO GIRLS

Bought One Two Rooming House and Gave Another Money to Visit Her Mother in Michigan.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 26.—George H. Bixby, the Long Beach millionaire, on trial for alleged offenses against girls, took the witness stand in his own behalf today, and making a general denial of all accusations against him, asserted that his acquaintance with inmates of the Jonquil, a notorious resort, had been gained entirely through philanthropy. Bixby said he first met Emma J. Goodman, proprietress of the Jonquil, now serving a year in the county jail, in the autumn of 1907. She was introduced to him as Mrs. Jessie Rosenberg. "I had received from Randaburg, Cal., a request to aid an inmate of Mrs. Rosenberg's establishment," he explained. "It was a girl named Marion, who was ill. I became interested in her and gave her $100 so that she might go home to her mother. Later I gave Mrs. Rosenberg $500 more to give to the girl. Marion is now married and living a respectable life.

Might Be Talked About. "Mrs. Rosenberg suggested that I might be talked about if I were known at her place by my true name, so I used the first one which came into my mind—King."

An attorney interrupted to ask if Bixby had not previously given another girl $100. The witness said he had, as he had been sorry for her. Bixby said that Mrs. Rosenberg moved to a new neighborhood and for four years he knew nothing concerning her. "One day," he continued, "she telephoned to me that there was in her place a girl who was the mother of a child and needed help. I called at the house and found the girl who testified against me here under the name of Helen Nicolas.

"Mrs. Rosenberg said the girl wanted to buy a rooming house, so I gave her $500. Later I gave her $100 more. Then I went on a vacation and when I returned Mrs. Rosenberg told me she had invested the money foolishly in a poor place. I then gave $2,000 more with which to buy another rooming house. I gave her $4,000 in all.

Met Barker Girl. "I met Cleo Helen Barker at the Jonquil last January when I called there to learn how the Nicolas girl was progressing. She told me her mother lived in Grand Rapids, Mich., and that she wanted to see her. I gave her $50. Mrs. Rosenberg told me the Barker girl wanted to marry a young man who was working in a shooting gallery. I went back with $500 more the same day. Two weeks later I saw the girl again. She said that she had foster parents living at Jaramont, Cal., and wanted to provide for them. I gave her $300 more. "I never saw the girl again until she testified against me in the court room."

Adelaide Awa a Remorse to Children. Babies and young children must be carefully watched for the growth of adenoids, which spoil the mental and physical life of a child. They usually result from a suppression of colds and throat irritations, and their presence is so productive of harm that many school boards have an examining physician to detect them. The conditions that cause them may be easily avoided by careful parents. Quickly and thoroughly cure all colds and throat irritations by the use of Fuley's Honey and Tar Compound, and adenoids will not develop. All dealers everywhere.—Advertisement

The actual Paris plays are made veritable hailstorms of color by the glowing materials and scientific trimmings of the costumes. In "L'Exilée" at the Theater des Champs Elysees, Mme. Darcourt wears an evening gown which is a marvel of simplicity and color. Over a foundation of blue green liberty is disposed a gold embroidered net, almost plain, which gives a deep decolletage in "V," edged with a white pleated net and finished in front by two small revers. The small sleeves is laid "a chair" over the arm, a band of black silk muslin drapes the left side of the bodice from the shoulder, blouses over a draped girde of black velvet and languishes over the hip, giving an effect of evening dress. A long tulle of gold embroidered net, falling from the waist, widening on each side to give on each side a panier effect. The skirt is finished by a long, square train. This gown would perfectly suit middle-aged women.
