TALK RECALL OF MR. KING

Lincoln Citizens Dissatisfied with Police Department.

MELICK WILLING TO RUN

Commissioner at Head of Force Falls Under Public Censure Because of Clubbing of Motorcycle Rider by an Officer.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 29.—(Special.)

There is every indication this morning that the recall agitation against Commissioner King in this city, which has been going along quietly for some time and which met with a setback Saturday when Sam Melick refused to be a candidate, will go through with a rush, an incident of yesterday being responsible for Mr. Melick changing his mind, and it is now said that he will accept.

The incident which has aroused the feeling for the pushing of the petitions was the clubbing of a young man by a police officer Sunday afternoon. The young man, Hans Jacobson, was riding down O street on a motorcycle when he was accosted by an officer who, witnesses say, pulled him from his wheel and struck him over the head with his club, cutting a bad gash therein. A large crowd gathered and followed the officer and his prisoner over a mile to the police station and, according to several prominent citizens who saw the occurrence, only lacked a leader to have mobbed the officer.

The young man had not been drinking and it is said did not resist the officer to the extent that clubbing was justified. This is the second episode of the kind which has happened in a month and it has had the effect of arousing resentment against Commissioner King, who is in charge of the police department. Friends of Jacobson say today that he was taken to the office of Chief Malone this morning and advised not to make complaint against the officer. In any event, when he appeared in police court to answer to the charge against him he was returned the money put up by him for appearance and sent away.

FINE EXHIBITS AND GOOD RACES AT KEARNEY FAIR

KEARNEY, Neb., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The Buffalo county fair, which closed here today after a most successful session, has proven to the people of this county that an association, if properly managed, can be made to be a paying investment as well as a great attraction. Exhibits in cattle, hogs, horses and poultry were exceptionally fine, many breeders exhibiting. In vegetables and grain nearly everything grown in this section was shown, and irrigation plants were demonstrated. The three-day race meet proved exceptionally attractive, it being the first in many years.

The races were started one day late on account of a heavy rain, which fell in this locality on Wednesday. Thursday's program was the 1:25 and 2:14 trot for $300 and a running race for $75. Little Druggist, from Lexington, won the running race in a close contest. In the 2:35 trot Trixy took first and in the 2:14 trot Chas. Vorhees took the lead. In the Friday races the 2:35 trot was won by Roy D. Dingham, the free-for-all, Star Junior Mills. In the saddle race Emily Bucking took first, and in the three-eighths dash Little Druggist won out. In the gentlemen's roadster race Diamond took the first.

On Saturday, the big day of the races, the 2:14 trot was won by Chas. Vorhees, time 2:11. The 2:35 pace was taken by A. T. with Bonnie B a close second. In the one-fourth mile special Little Druggist took the lead and in the saddle race, five-eighths dash, Aunt Tasha.

Nebraska Bankers Ask for Revision of Currency Bill

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The Nebraska Bankers' association in convention here adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Nebraska Bankers' association, in its annual convention assembled, recognizes:

1.—The imperative necessity of the enactment by the congress, of a well-considered, comprehensive banking measure, in which shall be incorporated those tested principles which experience has shown to be most effectively meet the requirements of trade and commerce.

2.—The earnest desire of the national administration and the congress to give the country such a law, and

3.—Realizing that the attainments of this laudable purpose with which this association is in full sympathy depends in a large part on the wholehearted and intelligent co-operation of the people, and especially the bankers who are to furnish the entire capital for the new system, and whose experience and judgment must afford the safest guide for action, there can be no reasonable hope for successful operation of the law, respectfully and most earnestly recommended to the congress and to the president, that the measure now pending in congress be revised along the lines of the resolutions, which were unanimously adopted by the conference of bankers, representing the Nebraska association and clearing houses of nearly every state in the union, at their meeting held at Chicago, August 22 and 23, 1913, and especially that such revision be in the following particulars:

1.—Instead of twelve federal reserve banks there should be not exceeding five, and preferably but one such bank with branches as experience may dictate. The reduction in number would correspondingly reduce the danger and confusion resulting from sudden shifting of credit balances and reserves, which must occur with the establishment of reserve centers, accompanied as they must be with the transfer of ownership of such a large proportion of the money and credits of the country.

2.—Membership in federal reserve banks should be optional and not compulsory. The injurious effect of the present system, which can never hope to realize any benefit through the federal reserve bill, to become and remain involuntary contributors to the capital stock as a condition precedent to the carrying of their charters, is so far-reaching, un-American, as to appeal to the good conscience of every fair-minded citizen. The plans should be made so fair and business-like as to attract the necessary capital, in no way can it either deserve, or have success.

3.—While cheerfully conceding to the government the right and power to regulate all business, we submit it is neither wise nor practicable to have the management of the banks out of the hands of the owners and place it entirely, as does the proposed bill, in the hands of political appointees, without responsibility to the owners. Governments may properly regulate, but only the owners should control the management. In no other instance has any government on earth ever assumed to manage and control business. There is no justification for excusing for its undertaking to control and manage the banking business of this country.

Application Withdrawn.

The application made by ex-Governor Aldrich and others to the blue sky department for a permit to establish and do an investment loan business in the state has been withdrawn, as it has been discovered that as the company was formed before the law went into effect a permit to do business in the state is not necessary. The company will accept applications guaranteeing 10 per cent interest if payments are made for ten years and 4 per cent if withdrawn at any time before that time.

Merchant Talks to Conyents.

Governor Morehead went out to the convents Sunday and talked to the penitents at the chapel services. He endeavored to encourage them in believing that better things were in store for the man who tried to do things right while in the custody of the state and continued to look forward to better things. He did not believe that a man should be downcast over his present condition, but on the other hand should live with the determination to be a better citizen when he attained his freedom.

He left yesterday for Topeka, Kan., where the preacher resides.

JACKSON APPEALS HIS CASE

Objects to Damages Secured by Salem Genbo.

GUARD MAY GET IN MOVIES

Buffalo Bill Makes Application to Have Fifty of Them Take Part in Spectacle of Battle of Wounded Knee.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Sept. 29.—(Special.)—George R. Jackson of Holdrege desires the supreme court to set aside a judgment for damages secured by Salem Genbo in the Phelps county district court against him in the amount of $25.

The suit was brought by Mr. Genbo on a claim that he shipped a car of cattle to South Omaha and upon its arrival he was confronted by a teamster sent by Jackson to the officials at South Omaha that the car contained cattle stolen from him and to arrest the consignor. He disclaims any knowledge of cattle in the car belonging to anyone else but himself while Jackson claimed that four cattle which he had bought and had in the stock yards at Holdrege were taken from the pen and shipped with the car sent out by Genbo. The jury thought Genbo had been damaged and gave him a judgment of $25, from which Jackson appeals.

Guardmen for Movies.

Adjutant General Hill has received a letter from Buffalo Bill in which he tells of the government's pictures in the car of the Pine Ridge Indian battle and other important battles and says he would like to have about fifty national guardmen from Nebraska. He thinks the Nebraska guardmen should be represented because the pictures will be exhibited all over the world and it would put the Nebraska guard in the limelight and at the same time be an advertisement for Nebraska. As General Hill understands it the expense of the fifty men would cost the state nothing and he thinks there would be little difficulty in finding plenty of guardmen who would like to get in the "movies."

Application Withdrawn.

The application made by ex-Governor Aldrich and others to the blue sky department for a permit to establish and do an investment loan business in the state has been withdrawn, as it has been discovered that as the company was formed before the law went into effect a permit to do business in the state is not necessary.
