Hoctor's Charter Committee Calls Mass Meeting.

TO PROMULGATE AMENDMENTS

Propose to Give Out Changes the Officials Destre and Seck Commendation for their Own Mee

Mayor Thomas Hocto- and his charter committee have issued another single in viting the public to meet at the eit; council chamber next Monday night when the committee "will mone known to the citizens such amundments at it deems advisable and necessary

It appeared from the remarks of one member of the committee that a "massmeeting" was not deemed advisable not necessary for the committee, but some of the papers have made such a "hulfer" that "we had to do a methins."

It was understood that the committee decided upon four amendments to the efty charter yesterday behind the closed doors of the mayor's private office. One affects the tinion labor clause, which is to be expurgated so that the paving contractors may get to work. With the paying men doing nothing the mayor and council have had hard sledding. Another amendment is that the committee and the mayor want more money for the maintenance of the lighting department. Some months ago many lights were taken out and the citizens complained. They were arsured that the lights would be put back without delay after the new levy. Now it would seem that the need of more lights is to be made a reason for getting more monly and incidentally increasing the city taxes. In order to get around the interpretation of District Judge Kennedy upon material designated by the city council where abutting property owners have failed to agree, an amendment will be made, by which the council will have the power to designate the material and the contractor. Another amendment agreed upon will involve the increase of the city's bonded indebtedness approximately $10,000. The money is to be spent in the repair or building of fire ball No. 2.

passed that all friends of the administration were expected to be present at the meeting next Monday night. How the average taxpayer regards the situation was voiced yesterday noon by John Raiston, one of the heavy business men of South Omaha, who declared that under the circumstances it was useless to attend such a meeting as the one proposed next Sunday night. Raiston is a business man and not a politician. "Some day the common taxpayers will get a chance "Magic City Bowling League."

Assistant City Attorney Samuel L. Win ters, who is a member of the charter com mittee, indicated that if the people ex pected to have things changed they mus attend the meeting next Morday night.

"After all," Faid Winters, "It does n de any good for people to how! 363 day out of the year if they do not exercis their right of howling effectively with ballot. changes in the charter, but he will be in the minority if he endeavors to effect any radical measures.

The following is ukase No. 2:

To the Citizens of South Omaha—The committee appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the council on December if for the purpose of drafting needed amentments to our charter and receiving suggestions from our citizens for that purpose will meet at the council chamber in the city hall Monday avening. January 6, at 8 o'clock, and will then and there make known to our citizens such amendments as they deem advisable and necessary. Each and all of our citizens are invited by the committee and myself to be present at that meeting discuss the amendments proposed by the committee and offer any suggestions they have in mind for the charter.

FORMS OF NEW BILLS ARE FOUND TO BE DEFECTIVE

Many of those who have been drafting bills which they hope to introduce in the legislature this winter have neglected one little technicality that, unless remedied, will be the means of throwing their bill out of the legislature until it is styled in accordance with the requirement made in a constitutional amend. ment adopted last fall. The style of all bills under the new amendment must be "Be it enacted by the people of the state of Nebraska." Many not being famil'ar with this new provision, have headed their tentative bills in accordance with the old provision. "Be it enacted by the legislature of the State of Nebruska." Within the last few days Robert C. Druesedow, member elect of the lower house from Dauglas county, has been busy calling the attention of members to this point, and during these same few days there has been some scratching of the enacting clause of tentative bills that were being drawn in Omaha. The provision appears in the constitutional amendment which provides for the initiative and referendum

WOOD FOR ARMY CANTEEN

Chief of Staff Says Its Restoration Would Improve Efficiency.

WANTS PROMOTIONS BY MERIT

Major General Demands Legislation for Elimination from Army of Unfit Officers in His Annual Report.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.- The restorntion of the army canteen and enactment of legiclation for the elimination from the 3 United States army of until officers are amous the principal recommendations of Maker General Wood, offer of staff, in his amount report made public today. General Wood likewise recommends the comment at on, of the army on strategic lines and in areas where it can be more scenemically maintained, and would transfer all the personnel of the staff corps, excepting engineers, medical officers and campiains, to the line, increasing accordingly the number of the general officers and line officers in the different graden.

The transfer of the personnel of the staff corps to the line, in General Wood's opinion. "would terminate the constant struggle between I no and staff, a struggle which is as old as the army and one which promises to continue. There would no interference with promotion, nor would the members of the present staff corps lose any of their present advantager. There would be more co-operation and greater efficiency."

Discussing means for the climination of nion officers, the chief of sixff mays: "The full efficiency of an organization of men cannot be secured without a systen by which the merits of the individuals shall have some effect upon their ad-

"The army has long suffered from the lack of such a system." the general continues. "Up to the grade of colonel promotion is entirely by seniority in each branch, and there is no way under the Commercial Club Committee Names law by which an officer, no matter what his merit, can be advanced a single number except by making him a general of-

> No Danger of Favoritism. "Conservative opposition is most to be ooked for in the army, where there is jealous fear of the effects of favoritism, but this would disappear under the influence of a proposition of law to place the selections where they belong, in the hands of the service itself, which surely is worthy of the trust, by lodging it with boards of officers so chosen as not to be personally affected by their decisions and sworn to act in accordance with the best interests of the service.

"The great majority of the officers of the army," said General Wood, discussing the canteen question, "are of the opinion that the re-establishment of the canteen under proper supervision would tend to improve the health, discipline and efficiency of the service by lessening intemperance and immorality. I concur in this opinion."

General Wood encounters an old difficulty in trying to solve the question of the fluctuation in the number of desertions from year to year. Last year the desertions numbered 3.401, an increase of | 897 over the year preceding. "It is probable," he observes, "that many young men enlisted last year with an expectation of field service, which was not grat-

Shortage of Artillery. For the first time Major General Wood amort is able to present to co a detailed plan of the organization of field artillery in connection with the general army reorganization. This general plan provides that the first increment the skeleton field army shall be two regiments of infantry, six battalions of field artillery, one field company of signal troops, five field hospitals and five ambulance companies. By this standard there is at present a vast shortage of field artillery, not only for the army, but for the militia. The proper proportion of field guns is 3.16 per 1,000 cavalry and infantry, and on this basis there is at present a deficit of 213 guns or the material for these regiments in the regular army while the militia is short 517 guns.

Moreover, there is no provision for el fective service of ammunition, and many of the guns would in a single day's fight use all the ammunition which can now be carried for them. Therefore, General Wood, referring to the military maxim that superiority of fire is needed before troops can advance over the field, adds that if we do not have this additional artillery the armies are destined to uitimate defeat. He also calls attention to the fact that many states refuse to include proper proportion of field artillery and cavalry in their militia because of the expense, and he suggests that pere-Eagles installed their officers after congress definitely appropriate money which can only be used by the states for the organistion of these arms.
