FRIDAY—Mrs. W. F. Baxter, Amateur Musical club; hop at Fort Crook; students' musicale at University of Omaha.

A number of interesting visitors were in Omaha for the holiday season. Miss May Egan of Kansas City arrived Tuesday to be the guest of Miss Carmelita Chase Wednesday. Miss Egan is the daughter of J. M. Egan, president of the Metropolitan street railway system of Kansas City and was a schoolmate of Miss Chase at Bryn Mawr college. Miss Egan returns to her home today.

Miss Elizabeth Fleming of Burlington, Ia., was the guest of Miss Burkley and assisted at the debut reception given by Mr. Burkley for his daughter. Several affairs were given in honor of Miss Fleming before her departure Friday.

Miss Helen Hayden of Washington, D. C., formerly of Omaha, has arrived to visit relatives and friends and in her honor many affairs are being given. Misses Melanie and Elizabeth Joyner of Cambridge, Mass., who are spending the holidays with Misses Alice and Ruth Carter, will return east the latter part of the week.

Mr. Henry R. Wilson of New York spent New Year's as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Sears Poppleton. Another prominent guest was Mr. Rupert Henry Whitcomb, a member of the faculty of St. Luke's school at Wayne, near Philadelphia, Pa. Mr. Whitcomb is well known in the musical and literary world and has recently entered the field of musical composers. Mr. Whitcomb was the guest of Miss Mary Munchoff, whom he met last summer in Europe. While in Omaha Mr. Whitcomb was entertained by a number of friends and former pupils. He was also entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Joslyn and enjoyed playing on the fine pipe organ in the Joslyn home.

cert at the Boyd theater on the evening of January 1 will be the most important social event of the student year, and all of the undergraduates are looking forward to the event. It is the one occasion during the year when all the students of all the departments congregate, and with one accord give themselves over to an evening of pure enjoyment in an entertainment.

The social side of the affair is by no means confined to the student body is evidenced by the interest taken by the alumni. Many box and theater parties are planned. The patronesses are:

- Mesdames—C. C. Allison, King C. Barton, Charles D. Beaton, A. M. Berglund, H. Burkley, W. M. Bushman, T. C. Byrne, W. H. Coffman, William Collins, R. W. Connell, L. P. Crawford, T. B. Cuming, R. S. Curtiss, J. M. Daugherty, F. T. Hamilton, F. P. Hamilton, C. W. Hamilton.

- Misses—Mary Burkley, Esther Byrne, Rose Coffman, Edna Crighton, Mary Duffy, Mary Furry, Stella Hamilton, Ophelia Hayden, Blanche Kinsler, Ruth Latenser.

Off for California. California seems to be the mecca for a larger number of Omahans this winter than usual. Mr. Edward Updike and family will leave January 8 to spend the winter with Mr. P. H. Updike and family at Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wattle and Misses Margaret and Mary Wattle will leave about the first of February to spend two or three months at their beautiful winter home, "Jualita," at Hollywood, near Los Angeles, Cal.

Mrs. Stewart of Canada, who has been the guest of her brother, Mr. Franklin Boulter, and his wife, leaves for California.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Moreman and their niece, Miss Harper, leave for Coronado Beach, Cal., where they always spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burgess have given up their house for the winter and are at the Colonial until their departure for California.

Mr. Fred Krig and family leave the middle of the week for Los Angeles, where they will remain during the balance of the winter. They will go by way of St. Louis, where they will visit friends a few days.

glee club of the university and will rival the annual gala day in interest. Those who will take part in the entertainment Friday will be:

- Harry S. Diebrow, baritone. Jean G. Jones, accompanist. Beatrice Banghart, reader. Edwin Reils, pianist.

With the exception of Mr. Jones all participating are connected with the school. Mr. Diebrow is a member of the freshman class. Miss Banghart is director of the department of oratory at the university. Mr. Reils is a member of the freshman class and played on the commencement program of the last graduating class of the Omaha High school.

The following patronesses have been chosen:

- Mesdames—M. O. Maul, D. E. Jenkins, I. W. Merrow, A. R. Wells, Hugh Myers, W. R. Gibbs, Howard Kennedy, W. T. Graham, F. D. Wead, A. W. Carpenter, C. S. Hayward, F. W. Kuhns, E. R. Curry, J. E. Orent, J. E. Orent, C. A. Alden, Miss Ruth A. Ganson.

For Church Society. Miss Ferris Claggett entertained the Young People's society of the Henderson Memorial church at her home on Forty-eighth and Pierce streets Friday. The evening was spent with games. Those present were:

- Mesdames—Gurtha Long, Evelyn Roenig, Emma Wessenberg, George Jennings, John Black, Byron Ganta, Floyd Hensman, Albert Claggett, Paul Davis.

Informal Musicals. An informal party was given Thursday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Kieth Wilson by Mrs. Harry A. Wilson and Mrs. Grant Parsons at the home of the latter. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were recently married.

Home Coming Tea. Miss Isabel Lowden will celebrate her return to Omaha with an informal tea Monday afternoon at her studio, at which it is expected many of her old friends and patrons will be present. Miss Lowden was unavoidably detained in Chicago much longer than she expected owing to complications in connection with the production of her play, "The Princess Snow White," but will now take up her work here with renewed energy. Miss Lowden will be assisted Monday by Misses Violet Joslyn, Pauline Bourke, Ruth Latenser, Katherine McClanahan, Todd and Mildred
