You Can Make Every Meal Feel Squ...

surplus of starch; meals are often depopulated of much of their nutritive quality; the soil is depleted of the amount of vegetable salts it ought to have. We do not obtain the natural ripened fruits and vegetables hence the stomach requires assistance to digest an overabundance of fibrous material and take care of fruit acids that Nature had no chance to convert into grape sugar.

Just try one box and you will never want to be without this wonderful remedy for stomach troubles. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain an ingredient, one grain of which will digest 1,000 grains of food. They are so entirely harmless because they have absolutely no effect on the system one way or another except to do just the one thing—digest food.

HANDS CHAPPED CRACKED OPEN

Every Winter. At Last Used Resinol. Immediate Relief. Trouble Gone.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 24, 1912.—I have been troubled every winter for years with chapped hands. They would crack open at the finger ends, and at the side of the joints on the index fingers. These places were quite painful. I tried every remedy I knew of, but with only temporary success. I commenced using Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment last winter, and after the first application found immediate relief, and continued using them for a month, and was not troubled any more.

THE SOCIETY OF THE BEE-HIVE

By MELLIFLOIA. Tuesday, January 7, 1913.

AND NOW Chicago is to have a brand new golf club, barring women from membership. The Omaha golf clubs originally had rules that women were not to play Saturday afternoons and Sundays, but so few women in this city continued their interest in golf, that the rules were gradually forgotten and the Country club last year put up several trophies for the women to encourage their indulgence in the sport.

The Country club boasts the largest number of feminine players of any of the clubs. And the members are justly proud of Mrs. E. H. Sprague, who is champion of the club and of the state, and has represented Omaha at several tournaments in Chicago and at Palm Beach. Miss Arabella Kimball and Mrs. Jerome Magge are two other Country club players who enter tournaments while spending the winter in the south.

Altogether, the Country club has about twenty women members who play, and about six who "keep up their game." The Field club, which is probably the largest golf club in the state, has about 600 members. Mrs. I. J. Dunn is, no doubt, the only feminine member of the club who plays nearly the year round. About ten or fifteen members play two or three games a year.

At Happy Hollow—well—the women told me that they did not keep their scores as yet, so I think they do not play very often.

CONNECT HOME AND SCHOOL

Dr. Winship Talks Before University Club on Education.

PARENTS FAVOR CO-OPERATION

Says Many of the Criticisms Against the Schools of the Land Are Not Based on Foundation of Facts.

"The whole tendency of education today is to bring together the home and the school in an effort to round out the life of the boy or girl," said Dr. A. H. Winship of Boston, editor of the American Journal of Education, in his address before the University club at the noon luncheon. He took for his subject, "Some Recent Criticisms on Education."

He said there was a great deal of criticism against asking children to study at home in the evening to prepare lessons for the following day, but declared that the criticism was scattered and would have no effect as the vast majority of educators and parents were in favor of this co-operation.

He mentioned some illustrations of unfounded criticisms that have been made against the schools of the land and against conditions. He called attention to the criticism that sometimes is made and gets into the public press, that there are 20,000,000 children of school age in the United States and that only 20,000,000 of them are in school. "The fallacy here," he said, "lies in the misunderstanding of what is meant by school age."

For the purpose of those statistics the school age is taken to be from 5 to 21 years. Now there is no cause for alarm in these figures, for if we find that there are a number of 21 year old boys that are not in the public schools, there is no cause for panic. As a matter of fact, the age of compulsory education is from 5 to 15. Taking then the figures used by these critics, we find that according to their own statement that 20,000,000 are in the schools we have in the public schools 2,000,000 more than those of school age."

Dr. Thwaites Speaks at Palimpsest Club

Dr. Reuben Gold Thwaites, president of the Mississippi Valley Historical association and secretary and superintendent of the Wisconsin State Historical society, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Palimpsest club next Monday night, his theme being "The Mission of Local History."

Dr. Thwaites has been spoken of by Prof. H. Morse Stephens of the University of California as "incontestably the most industrious and accomplished editor of American historical documents, having to his credit the magnificent series of seventy-one volumes of 'The Jesuit Relations,' thirty-one volumes of 'Early Western Travels' and the original journals of Lewis and Clark in eight volumes."

How to Bankrupt the Doctors. A prominent New York physician says, "If it were not for the thin stockings and thin soled shoes worn by women the doctors would probably be bankrupt." When you contract a cold do not wait for it to develop into pneumonia, but treat it at once. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is intended especially for coughs and colds, and has won a wide reputation by its cures of these diseases. It is most effective and is pleasant and safe to take. Parcels Post Users Are Co-Operating With Mail Service

"The problem of handling parcels post matter is going to solve itself largely," says Postmaster Wharton. "Monday a large business firm in Omaha brought a load of fifty-two parcels to be mailed. The firm had weighed and stamped them at the office, and when we went over them we found in the fifty-two packages only one that was not correctly stamped. That is a splendid showing and is an example of the way the matter is going to work out. The larger places that have occasion to mail a great deal of parcels post matter, have already procured a large supply of stamps from the post office. Some of them took hundreds of dollars worth the first day they went on sale. They have their scales at their own shops, the tables of rates, and now they are weighing and stamping their
