OMAHA MEN GO TO CHEYENNE

Left Last Night for National Wool Growers' Meeting.

WILL COURT FRIENDLINESS

On Account of Freight Rates Cannot Boost Omaha as Wool Market, but Will Do All They Can to Encourage Good Spirit.

The Omaha and South Omaha delegations to the convention of the National Wool Growers' association to be held at Cheyenne left last night and consist of some fifty men, including railroad officials and others interested in the wool industry.

Sheep raising and the handling of wool will be the topics for discussion and according to the lineup no effort will be made to boost Omaha as a wool market. However, everything possible will be done to court a friendly feeling toward Omaha among the flockmasters of Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Montana and Idaho.

According to Omaha railroad men, this city cannot be made a great wool market until the Interstate Commerce commission permits cities of the Missouri river to become freight rate-basing points on shipments west. As the matter now stands, wool from the west takes a through rate to the Atlantic seaboard and factory towns in Atlantic territory. If wool from the shearing pens of the west is stopped in transit here and put into storage it must pay an additional charge of 25 cents per 100 pounds when shipped out and on to destination to the mills.

The railroads were all willing to allow wool to stop in transit here, go into storage and later on to destination on the through rate, but the Interstate Commerce commission set down on this and ruled that 25 cents was a fair and equitable charge for the privilege.

Generally western wool growers looked upon the Omaha plan as being a just one and were willing to have their wool go into storage here, taking warehouse receipts, which to them was equivalent to cash, but when the commission refused to fix the Missouri river as a rate basing line the entire proposition was knocked out. However, the wool storage warehouse is not dead, as it is now used for other storage purposes and is said to be bringing in a satisfactory revenue.

MADISON, Neb., Jan. 8.—(Special.)—County Treasurer Darlington of Madison county reports that he collected $250,000 taxes during the year, of which sum about $25,000 was state taxes and the balance county, school and other local taxes. The treasurer's fees for making these collections exceeded $5,250, the excess of salaries allowed being $2,150, the largest in the history of the county. There is registered outstanding warrant indebtedness today of $41,000, which exceeds the amount of such indebtedness one year ago by $15,000. The total tax levy for the year 1911 was $298,000 and for 1912 $294,000.

Register of Deeds Hale Taylor reports mortgages filed during the year 1912 $1,247,166, of which sum $34,637 was on city and town property, as against $1,100,288 in 1911. Mortgages released during 1912, $325,902, of which sum $217,711 was against town property.

BUFFALO COUNTY WILL FARM OUT PAUPERS

KEARNEY, Neb., Jan. 8.—(Special.)—This afternoon the county board of supervisors of Buffalo county considered the proposition of renting the county poor farm for a cash basis and to pay for the keeping of the paupers in cash, advertising for bids to be opened at noon, January 16, with offers for the farm and to keep the patients.

In case unsatisfactory bids are not received, they will also consider the old method of hiring a superintendent, who is the lessee of the farm, on the crop sharing plan used heretofore.

Another action that will completely change the tax lists and the records in the county register of deeds' office, if followed out, on all lands adjacent to railroads and canals, was that of giving Judge L. A. Wright of Osceola the benefit of an eight-acre deduction on his quarter section of land through which a canal company's right-of-way runs, and which is assessed against the company. None of the farms of the county through which railway right-of-ways run have any deduction in the taxable acreage which the original survey included before the railways passed through.

A Coffee Cup

Contains

Over 2 1/2 Grains of Caffeine.

Physicians recognize this drug to be of poisonous effect upon stomach, heart and nerves. Scientists employed by the U. S. Government found, in the famous Rabbit Case, that an amount of caffeine equivalent to that contained in two average cups of coffee killed a Rabbit.

What wonder then, if you are a coffee-drinker, that you suffer from indigestion, heart disturbance, headache and biliousness, sleeplessness, or nerve irritation?

Multiply 2 1/2 grains of caffeine by the number of cups of coffee you drink each day and you will determine the amount of poison you give yourself daily.

Eminent physicians are protesting against the present use of coffee. (Your family doctor can vouch for this.)

The aches and ills of your own body also protest when the burden becomes too heavy.

Doesn't your own common sense suggest that you quit coffee now?
