STATE SECRETARIES HERE

Commissioners of Commercial Clubs Are Now in Session.

TO ELECT OFFICERS FRIDAY

Whitten Misses Train Because of Street Car Accident at Lincoln—Visitors to Inspect Business Houses.

A dozen men enrolled yesterday morning for the organization of the first annual meeting of the Nebraska Commercial Secretaries at the Paxton hotel.

Those who enrolled in the morning are: Fred H. Barclay, Pawnee City; W. D. Fisher, Havelock; James Henderson, Central City; O. C. Turner, Nebraska State Automobile association; F. B. Ferguson, Winlow; R. G. Riley, Fairbury; H. B. Howell, Hastings; Herbert Lond, Winfield; A. M. Conners, Grand Island; C. R. Stazanka, Campbell; E. W. Ressler, Walthill; F. L. Ringer, Lincoln; Penn F. Fedora, Nebraska Manufacturers' association; Ward O. Gifford, Omaha; J. M. Guild, Omaha.

Mayor Dahlman delivered the address of welcome. He called attention to the necessity of organization among the commercial clubs of the state in order to bring the interests of the various parts of the state closer together.

W. E. Whitten, secretary of the Lincoln Commercial club, who was to respond, was unable to catch the morning train, on account of a street car accident in Lincoln which delayed his reaching the depot.

J. M. Guild, commissioner of the Commercial club of Omaha, spoke on the "Benefits of a State Organization."

A dozen of the large business and manufacturing houses of the city have extended invitations to the secretaries to visit and inspect their plants during their stay in Omaha.

Gas Company Asks the Right to Put Its Bills in Mail Boxes

Attorneys for the gas company will ask the city commission to amend an ordinance recently passed and now in effect, making it a misdemeanor for any person or corporation to place in mail boxes, on porches or behind the screens of houses any bill or paper or communication not stamped an addressed, with the exception of newspapers.

There is some question as to the constitutionality of the ordinance, as it extends its jurisdiction over the private property of a resident in a manner that some consider very personal and trivial.

It is probable the amendment will be submitted at the meeting of the committee of the whole Monday evening.

Complications in Making School Board Fit Election Scheme

How to make the school board fit into a scheme of biennial elections constitutes a puzzle upon which considerable thought is now being devoted by those affected.

Another complication is presented by the fact that school board membership rests upon ward representation, whereas for all other purposes the ward has been put out of business, and for that matter was never within school board control.

LICENSE QUESTION GOES OVER UNTIL TUESDAY

Action on granting a license to Rudolph Gerber to operate a saloon at 912 Dodge street, the Wick & Blaine location, was postponed by the city commission at a special meeting yesterday until Tuesday at the regular session of the commission.

One of the commissioners said this morning that he would hesitate about voting for the license now because the evidence had brought out that two licenses had been held in Gerber's name last year and one of them was refused this year for good and sufficient reasons.
