

Disparity in Age

By WINIFRED BLACK

Well, my dear, what do you want me to say, and I'll say it, for really you are after all, aren't you? And why shouldn't

You love the man and he loves you. He is able to take good are of you. You are inhappy away from him and he wants you with him. What is there for you to do but meary him and say no more

Six years older than he? Is that the objection? Not half such an objection as if he were just the right age for you vere disbonest, or if he likes one kind o life and you like another. There is always something, but this matter of a few years difference in age is not one of the really serious objections to marriage. The most miserable woman I know married a man just five years older than she was. She is as pretty as a picture and as good as gold. But the man ic dead in love with an elderly widow, and the wife's heart is broken.

Six years older, are you? In years you mean, of course; but how much older are you in all the things that count? Years are such deceitful things. They mean less than almost anything else

Some women are old at 30 years, some are young at 40 years. Some men are boys at 30 years and some boys are men By MARGARET HUBBARD AYER. at 20 years. What sort of woman are you and what kind is the man you leve? Another woman I know married a man four years younger than herself. He cooked ten years younger, for the woman had much responsibility, much care and When they were married all the men

As a matter of fact, it is turning out to be a much happier marriage than some of the marriages made by the people who criticised it as "unsuitable."

The man and weman who started four years apart are just about even now, for strong, full of life and energy, active and fond of all that living means.

The man is quiet, gentle, fond of routine. He'd rather stay at home every evening of the week than to go to the finest play that ever was acted. The do anything else. They compromised by New York, toing once a week, and the man stave at home and reads in comfort the other six, while the woman entertains herself with her own friends in her own way.

on the wedding day is ten years the sition and tremperament, that's all. She's that a western hotel keeper, who is open- and in their own luck, and that is half young actress the sort that stops growing old at 30 years; he's the sort that stops being young at 35 years. And there they areery comfy, thank you and highly amused at the idea that there could be anything If he knows not the language of flowers, unsuitable about their marriage.

When a man falls in love with a woman he isn't thinking of her age-he's hinking of the woman and of himself. and age hasn't a thing in the world to do with it.

Brains, character, taste, education-

This pathetic letter, unsigned, holds a vorld of unwritten sorrow in its few pages, and a whole sermon is to be read woman who believes herself to be a friend to her sex thinking.

and it should give every ardent suffragist a moment of self-analysis to discover just what her attitude is, or would be, under similar

Here is the letter:

unmarried mother is a social outcast,

whether the cause

was from ignorance or a false lover. Only

"A girl that is an circumstances.

The New American Beauty, Reine Davies, Thinks This the Red-Haired Woman's Year

great year for red-headed girls.

The hair need not be real carroty red just a suggestion will do, but if you want to be a beauty and a mascot, you must pheum Theater in said "He's making a mistake," and all have the tawny gleam and the redder the Brooklyn this the women said. "She'll live to regret it." hair the more the luck and the greater the beauty, this year anyhow.

The last type of beauty was the small running, but the real thing is the redhaired girl.

Miss Reine Davies is the embodiment of the beauty of 1913. She has all the at- meant that if the play was any good at cause it is so changeable. The color of tributes which makes the Titian haired all it would go with a rush. girl particularly lovely, a perfect pink asked Miss Davies.

year, when the red-halred girl seems to umphant tribulations. So it has all turned out for the best, be coming into her own at last," aning an annex to his hotel, has chosen a of the game. No one ever was a mascot | "Red hair grows dark because it lacks | well theatrical man told me that he was al- fortune and adverse circumstances. ways glad when there was plenty of red for 1918, who is at

B. F. Keith's Or-

and rose complexion and a neck that but they haven't necessarily been lucky; changes, too, so to keep luck one ought woman would rather go to the play than artists proclaim the most beautiful in perhaps in 1913 they are turning over a to keep one's hair as red as possible." new leaf. Among the notedly unlucky "Why is it lucky to have red hair" I ones was Mary Queen of Scots, who lost latest thing in shampoo," I interrupted. her head and hair at the same time, and "I never knew it was lucky until this Cleopatra, whose life was full of fil- nothing to do with luck, as it has very young person who looked as if she had red-headed reception committee for the or could bring people good luck who summine and ventilation. People with just come from Russia, by way of Paris, opening festivities, as he says that they didn't absolutely believe in his or her red hair should wear hats as little as posof course. She is still somewhat in the will bring luck to the enterprise. A certain powers to get the better of mis- sible, especially when they notice that

> "Red hair is very interesting; at least, hair among the audience, because that it is to me." Miss Davies went on. "Bethe hair seems to change with the degree "Red-haired people have been famous, of vitality. Yes, probably the luci.

"I am told the 'henna spray' is the "But that is the false red that can have little to do with beauty. Artificially col-"But I think I know why red-haired ored hair never looks right, no matter The woman who wasfour years the older swered the lady of the Titian locks, people are lucky, and I'll tell you. Red- how cleverly it is done. There are other the hair is beginning to darken.

Keith's Colonial

our hair braided down our backs, in the house at all events, for hair needs all the ventilation and airing it can get, cepecially since we have begun to wear on all day. This is what rulns the color of the hair, and the only thing that will bring back the color is sunshine and air, and last, but not least, a careful diet.

"I don't know what the doctors say on this subject," continued Miss Davies, "but I am perfectly certain that the condition of the hair is affected by the conugly because they eat not wisely nor

"I go about as much as I can in the can enjoy country life, I find that my hair grows a brighter and prettler red. and that I have no trouble in handling it. You know," explained the 1913 beauty, 'hair that won't stay 'put' is sickly hair; that means that the person herself is in-bad physical condition. "My advice to the red-headed girl who wants to keep her luck is to avoid heavy millinery, and if she is wearing one of those close fitting fur caps, insist on having ventilation holes in it. Men always don't need them half as much as we do. Then redhend washes her hair at least scap and a little bit of soda, if the hair those tight-fitting hats and keep them is too oily. After the shampoo, when the hair is quite dry, she brushes the hair for at least half an hour, using a considerable amount of brilliantine or olive oil. perfumed to suit your taste.

coloring. Take the sunshine cure instead, sider often gets a better perspective and stay out of doors without a hat just than the man who is close up against "She's been invited to act as mascot for dish hair is a sign of vitality, and people ways of bringing back the natural red dition of the stomach, and that people as soon as the weather allows. And if the game.

Daily Fashions

Advertising

BY ELBERT BUBBARD.

Copyright, DEL Internat'l News Service It was only about 200 years ago when men were still availing themselves in England of "the benefit of the clerg, The word "clergy" means clerque, the ecords. cause they were the only men who were educated—the ante men who could read and

The lirst colleges in America were founded for the sole purpose of ducating cleray. men. It was the tites that a man who could read and write was to ity of intellect, just as in 1876 we said ne one could operate the typewriter who did not have the plane touch

The good writer today must not be very much wiser than the reader. Literature is self-discovery. The things we like are the things we recognize as o own. In order to make a man pleased with you, you have to make him pleased with blowelf.

The post need no longer starve in a unr et, getting his living through quasimendicancy or the uncertain favor of a patron, Advertising has opened up a field for any one who can push a penshake the literary brush-piles and pur salt on the tail of an idea.

Twenty-five years ago the advertising man was unknown. The proprietor open air without any hat at all. Of of a store wrote his own ads. and of course, an open-air life makes one feel necessity inertia prevailed to such a descalthy and vigorous, and whenever I gree that an "ad" once written was run in the paper until the type wore out. The idea of a new advertisement every day was a thing unguessed.

A. T. Stewart wrote his own advertisements. He wrote them in the impersonal style, simply; "Mr. A. T Stewart begs to inform the people of New York that he has just received a few cases of Irish linens, especially selected for him in Belfast. These will be opened on the sidewalk, in front of the Palace of Business, and offered to the first comers at fully 10 per cent below have these little ventilators, and they the figures which the same goods will bring after they are carried into the

To hire a man just to look after your advertising would have been regarded as rank extravagance at that time. The argument would also have been made that no man could write about things unless he were an expert in handling We did not perceive that a few them. "But don't use henna or any artificial simple rules apply, and that the out-the christening of battleships, and I hear with great vitality believe in themselves gleam to the hair," insisted the beautiful lose their hair or see it grow dark and we keep on having a warm winter like Life consists either in being in and And the man who it outside looking in has a little better view, often, than the man who is inside struggling with details, perplexed, aggravated, worn and wondering whether he will ever get his

> There are now upward of 20,000 men in America preparing advertising copy Some of these men command salaries of princely magnitude, say $1,000 a month. and there are a dozen or so whose figure is just an even hundred dollars

There is no doubt, however, that the genius required in writing advertisements has been more or less overrated, and there is soon to be a swinging back of the pendulum. We must understand the truth that writing is more or less of a

Dean Swift said that a good man could write on any subject and make the thema-interesting. "Then," said Stella, "write me an essay on broomstick." straightway the dean accepted the challenge and wrote an immortal thing in Charles Lamb's essay on "Roast Pigis another example of good writing about nothing in particular.

Both Charles Lamb and Dean Swift, if they lived today, would be writing advertisements for department stores, and they would be making a deal more money than they ever made in literature. America has 5,000 men who can write ust as well as Dean Swift, Charles Lamb, Coleridge, Dick Steele or Dr. John-

Certainly Ends Stomach Misery

"Pape's Diapepsin" Cures Heartburn, Gas, Sourness and Indigestion in Five Minutes.

Sour, gassy, upset stomach, indiges-tion, heartburn, dyspepsia; when the food you eat ferments into gases and stubborn lumps: your head aches and you feel sick and miserable, that's wher you realize the magic in Pape's Disper-

sin. It makes such misery vanist five minutes. If your stomach is in a continuous revolt-if you can't get it regulated. please, for your sake, try Diapepsin, It's so needless to have a bad stomachmake your next meal a favorite food meal, then take a little Diapepsin. There will not be any distress eat without fear. It's because Pape's Dispension 'really does" regulate weak, out-oforder stomachs that gives it its millions of sales annually. Get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. It is the quickest, surest stomach relief and cure known. It acts almost like magic -it is a scientific, harmless and pleasant preparation which truly belongs in

Woe Comes to the Race, Says Dorothy Dix, Because

Women Are Ill-Taught About Love

If he loves not to hear the blast blow.

If he dote not on ruins and towers,

My own Araminta, say no.

the World's Best Work

How goes the old rhyme?

mere matter of a slight difference in age, ence in age that will bring you sorrow.

Nothing about the age limit there, you see-not a syllable. Marry the man you love if only ex years divide you, and if you are not these are far more important than a happy together it will not be the differ-

Ella Wheeler Wilcox Says: Educating Mothers is

catches a glimpse of him. So the young woman is undecided spinsterhood, love, and we are often drawn irresistibly Prince. toward those who are unworthy of our affection.

always seemed to me that there is no sleep for thinking of the adored one, and subject about which women are so ill that every minute away from him will husbands, will frown on a girl who has taught as love, and that not a few of be an almost insupportable anguish. For the woes of the feminine sex may be these are accepted signs of being in love. laid at the doors of those false prophets | Many a girl refuses to marry the man who preach a fallacious doctrine about it. with whom she would spend a happy and some day she will find her Fairy Prince. her system for these indications of love dream, and that he will come riding up to marry without them-to make a disastrous marriage she goes about with her Fairy Prince tendencies.

finds herself stranded in the desert of

Certainly we do not always love satin and lace ruffles, and so she didn't the good and noble, whom we should recognize any one of them as her Fairy

Girls are also taught that when the quote poetry by the yerd, and woo her him the finest fellow she knows, but her in lovely, soulful Booth Tarkington lan- heart is a healthy organ that doesn't guage, and waft her up into the regions skip a beat when she sees him turn the It's too idiotic to be true, but every she has a very good appetite whether girl believes in the Fairy Prince just us he's around to see her eat or not, and unquestioningly at 25 as she believed in she knows perfectly well that if John Santa Claus at 5, and this childlike faith should die she would never even think ends only too often in one of two things, of taking a dose of polson. Therefore, It causes her to be an old maid, or else she concludes that she len't in love with lawer pall. Also, the husband who is John, and she never dreams that what If the girl is of a fanciful turn of mind she lacks is not affection, but hysterical loves even as she is made.

How foolish, then, for the level-headed self-controlled woman to expect to be swept off her feet into some maelstrom of passion that will transform her into another creature! In judging of whether she loves or not she must first take her own nature into consideration. Of course, if a woman is of the excessively temperamental sort, who lives upon her emotions and has to have sentiment served up to her piping hot, she should not marry any man with whom she is not madly enamoured at the moment, because she will grow tired of him soon enough, anyhow. But for the ordinary woman, sincer-liking coupled with respect for a man is a good enough beginning of love to marry upon. The whole tendency of matrimony is to narrow a woman's interests down to a husband and a home and any normal woman will come to love the man she, is married to if he is kind to her.

Therefore, a woman is wise if, in picking out her husband, she goes by her head more than she does by her heart. For romance is as fleeting as the dew of morning, and the most sentimental of fairy princes settles down into just an ordinary mortal once the marrige ceremony is said over him; but a good, comfortable home and a generous shopping ticket are perennial pleasures that more in love with his wife than she is with him is the husband that is always on his god behavior. DOROTHY DIX.

TWO

Where they lock the mistaken in The other is watching the outcast And fearing the system's ban.

But he rises, or else he sinks. So they meet and they pity each other

While they talk of life's sorry plan The one is the fallen woman-

By LA RACONTEUSE. This effective model of afternoon gown for young girls shows in its artistic out-told how human beings were a part of shameful secrets or no hidden discusses mothers are trained to be guides and proto mar their new homes or blight their tectors of their children. We can not brought up by such a mother, came home to live a good life if you can." such mothers as these described above. husbands and fathers afterward. Everything relating to these problems suffragiste can undertake. And nothing in the world can be accomplished to lift the race or to do away hope much from present day mothers. At the age of 22, one night a youth, But we can educate the new generation. Meantime women who claim to be work from his club accompanied by a young ers for humanity and to believe in one One is a woman that wandered girl. To his mother he said: "Mother, standard of morals for both sexes must this poor girl is some fellow's sister; organize some method of helping girls And came to the house of care and some mother's daughter. She has gone who have fallen, through love or through I want you to take her in and help her cial life, and helping them to become useful citizens and possible good wives and There would be no such evil in the land mothers, just as young men who have as white slave traffic, if all women were gone astray in early youth become good

There is so much hysterical talk on this lles in the hands of the women today. subject, and so little actual work done When taking the toll from a fallen soul. To educate mothers is the greatest work by women when they face the situation in real life.

It is a very needed work to be done. (Copyright, 1913, by the Star Co.) The other the rising man Through fields of honey and sin carouse.

The other the rising man The rising man is a bluecost,

And the whole of his manhood shrinks

There is a stamp language, and white your stationer probably has it for sale ! advise you not to waste any time on it A misplaced stamp is an annoyance to the postal clerks, and there are other and more refined ways of telling of the state of one's affections front with a tassel and fringed ends.

Advice to Lovelorn. By BEATRICE FAIRFAX. Ask Your Stationer.

line the tendency toward oriental lines.

The blouse is fastened in front by string buttons of the same material with an original small collar, square in back.

The armhole is rather low and outlined y a small silk braid. The long sleeve.

strictly fitted from the elbow, is finished by a small rever and trimmed with five

The blouse is girded with a sash draped with a scarf bow, sewed rather high in

It is of white silk cashmere,

Small yoke of Brussels net.

stuff buttons.

Dear Miss Fairfax: A young lady Dear Miss Fairfax: A young land friend of mine sends me cards etc. on which the stamp is out of its natural position; that is, it is falling to the left. Some one suggested that it means had luck, a careless person, etc. Another that it means love. Is there a stamp language? If so, is it printed and for sule? WILLIAM C.

every home.-Advertisement.

Sloan's Liniment is excellent for sprains and bruises. It stops the pain at once and reduces the swelling very quickly.

is penetrating and antiseptic. Mr. S. L. RAINEY, of 307 Codar St., Chat-tanooga, Tenn., says:—"I sprained my an-kle, it pained me very much and was badly swollen. After a few applications of Sloan's Liniment my ankie was relieved, and is now entirely well." ars. Petes 16c., 06c. & $1.00. Dr. Earl S. Sloan - Boston, Mass.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX. | the members may not openly deny ad- for a man ever turn into love. mission, but they freeze her out by being so unsocial.

"Every human being needs living associates and friends. If a girl who has between its lines. It should set every erred confesses her error, and does not try to hide her past, it seems better to me, because it saves her from being found out later; yet when she does confess, then she meets with much cruelty. Women that are married and are having shameful affairs with other men, even bearing children by men not their made a misstep and is trying to be de-

"Girls that are immoral, but have not become mothers, will turn their backs on the unfortunate unwedded mother who has made only one misstep; and will in and that he will be as beautiful as a she doesn't find them, and she is afraid every way try to hinder her from being received by respectable people. "So what is left for her but to go on down T 'The writer of the letter adds a p'ex, that the matter should be a subject for of romance. discussion and says "I believe boys girl living a virtuous life. If she ap- would be helped if it were written about. They need help, too."

Yes, "boys need help, too," and mothers are the ones who should be awakened to this need of boys to know more of the great facts which underlie life and Two boys reared by wise and sensible mothers were instructed at the age of to years in matters of sex. They were God's wonderful systems of worlds; and how, like the seed planted in the earth, they grew and flowered. They were told how they must never refer to the subject save to their mothers, who would expiain gradually the marvels of life as their minds unfoided.

They were told that all women were once pure and good; and that each girl wrong, and she accosted me on the street, ignorance; helping them to wholesome soand woman should be regard as some boy's mother or sister; and just as a boy would want to see his sister and mother respected and treated with clean, high honor by all men, so they must treat all women. Both of these boys at Il years of age were magnificent specimens of young manhood; both were strong, capable, high-minded fellows, popular with their own sex and admired by women; and both marriel good girls and carried no with the sex evils and the social sin until

A girl of 26 who has reached the age halo, fitting it on every man she meets. It's a pity that women can't resilize when a woman begins to feel as if she and she's just as apt to slip it around that we love according to our natures and would like to settle down and have a hus- the head of the first good-looking scoun- general temperament. The neurotic band and a home of her own is in a drel she meets as anybody else. If, on woman, who goes off at a tangent about dilemma. She has a suitor who comes the other hand, a girl is short on imagin- everything, loves crazily and jealously up to her ideal, but doesn't fire her ation, she keeps waiting and waiting for The placid woman loves calmly. The fancy. He is everything of which her somebody that has the earmarks of a fickle woman loves lightly and intermithead approves, but he doesn't give her Fairy Prince to come along, until she tently. The violent woman loves violently palpitation of the heart every time she lets her marriageable years slip by and and the sensible, well-poised woman whether she should marry him or not. Any number of good men, men who and she wants to know if affection can could have given her an honest affection be cultivated, and if liking and respect and the comforts of life, have asked her to marry, them, but they didn't come on Of course, Cupid is a tricksy imp, and milk white steeds. They arrived by there is no accounting for his yagaries, trolley; they talked plain everyday lan-Nor can anyhody prophesy what he will were tweed instead of coats of mail or right man comes along they will pal-So much may be conceded to the general pitable and thrill, and have cold rigors, contrariness of human nature, but it has and that they will not be able to eat or

Every girl, for instance, is taught that contented life because when she searches on a milk white steed, and that he will She's very fond of John and thinks corner. She enjoys John's society, but

By WILLIAM P. KIRK.