OCIETY people who sit in the first rows at the Orpheum are greatly assisting the actors at the performance this week by contributing "Trink geld" each evening to Mr. Mann, the eccentric orchestra leader, who incidentally forgets to return the 5-cent piece. To hip the general purpose of the "spiel," Gerald Wharton, who is a egular attendant at the shows, fortuitously contributed the necessary coin Monday evening. Similarly, J. A. C. Kennedy last night played the same role, and each night for the rest of the week some other one in the audience will be called upon.

Another amusing feature is the generosity of Mr. Mann, who ha unlimited supply of peppermint lozenges. These he graciously shared with Mrs. J. T. Stewart 2d, Mr. Charles Kountze, Mrs. J. A. C. Kennedy, Mr. Frank Kennedy, Hal Brady and others sitting in the first rows.

One of the Orpheum parties Monday evening included Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Kountze, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Summers, Mrs. Penick of Louisville, Ky.: Mrs. F. S. Cowgill, Mrs. John T. Stewart 2d, Charles T. Stewart of Council Bluffs.

In another party were Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Poppleton and Mr. and Mrs. Hoxle Clarke.

Tuesday evening one of the parties included Miss Helen Davis, Miss Elizabeth Davis, Mr. Walter Roberts and Mr. Robert Burns.

The fifth and last dance of the student Josephine Daughear was given Tuesday evening at Chamera' dancing academy by the Creighton Sental college students. The affair was bential college students. The arrair was by far the most pretentious of any nop given by the same departments, and elaborate preparations were in evidence. The Creighton University Glee club quartet was present, and during intermission entertained the dancers with a number of selections. The decorations were claborate. The entire hall was a mass of the pillar and the property of the pillar and the property of the pillar and the property of the pillar and the pillar a bius and white, beginning with the piliars and Kreppner, supporting the balcony and ascending to the celling lights. Cosey corners were Renricta Wadsthe celling lights. Comey corners were fitted up with varsity foot ball blankets, while the large 'Booster club' banner was suspended from the balcony at the north end of the room.

All of the dental dances during this school year have been successful, but last night's hop drew the largest and but walter Hronek, but last night's hop drew the largest and fullert Millard.
