

CASTRO FREE; GOES TO BED

Writ of Habeas Corpus Granted by Federal Court.

TAKES LUXURIOUS HOTEL SUITE

Government Compelled to Show Legal Cause Why Castro Should Not Be Admitted Into the United States.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The right to go and come, a free man, through the streets of New York, was the possession of General Cipriano Castro last night, but instead of exercising the privilege he went to bed. Released under $500 bail pending argument on a writ of habeas corpus after his month of confinement at Ellis island, Castro made for an uptown hotel, engaged a luxurious suite of rooms and shot himself in. He sent out word that he was "having some lemonade" and intended to retire immediately.

The little general whose announced purpose in coming to this country was to "see the sights" scarcely looked out of the window of the taxicab which drove him to his hotel. The only object of interest he noticed was the Washington arch.

"May George Washington's mantle descend on us," said Castro in Spanish as he sat "waxed" under the arch.

General Castro's writ of freedom was granted by Judge Holt after it had been agreed to postpone argument on the writ until February 5. The document compels the government to show legal cause why Castro, who was ordered deported yesterday by Secretary Nagel of the Department of Commerce and Labor, should not be admitted.

"Justice has prevailed," said Castro when he was told that Judge Holt would release him on bail. "I was looking for a real judge who would give me justice and at last I found one."

Castro himself would say nothing of the killing of Paredes, for which he is held responsible by the Immigration authorities, but Antonio Sanchez, formerly his secretary, said that Castro was in a "dying condition" when the order was given that Paredes be put to death and "could have known nothing of it."

DAKOTANS PROPOSE TO PAY STATE OFFICERS MORE CASH

PIERRE, S. D., Feb. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—The adverse committee report on the bill to require county commissioners to be elected by the vote of the people of the whole county instead of by districts started a little mixup in the house today when Scott attempted to secure an overturning of the report and set the bill out as a special order, but he failed and the bill is gone for this session.

Morris today presented his resolution for a constitutional amendment which will put the officers of this state on the same plane with other states in the matter of salaries if accepted. It proposes to make the salary for the governor and supreme court judges $5,000 per year, of circuit court judges $4,000 and of all other state officers $3,000, which will be a material increase in all of them.

The federal judge issue was up again in a memorial to congress asking for legislation providing fixed terms of four or six years for federal and circuit judges instead of the present life tenure.

The sum of $300 for state bookkeepers was appropriated after extended political argument.

STERILIZATION MEASURE IS VETOED BY GOVERNOR

MONTPELIER, Vt., Feb. 1.—Governor Fletcher vetoed today the legislative bill providing for the sterilization of defective criminals.

The veto was based on an opinion by Attorney General Brown, who declared the bill to be unfair, unjust, unwarranted and wholly unnecessary and a discrimination which ought not to be permitted and could not be tolerated under the constitution of Vermont.

The senate passed the measure this afternoon over the governor's veto by a vote of 12 to 10, a majority only being necessary.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Business Expansion Maintained First Month of Year.

SOME UNFAVORABLE FACTORS

Steel Trade So Active that Only Inability of Mills to Make Prompt Deliveries Prevents Further Growth.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Dun's Review of Trade today says:

The business expansion which began in 1912 was maintained steadily throughout the first month of the new year and is but a continuation of the general activity of the year. Weather conditions affected distribution adversely in certain industries and tariff uncertainty is responsible for conservative buying in some lines. Labor troubles have interfered with the demand for materials used in the manufacture of clothing, but the general effect on the dry goods trade is comparatively slight.

BRADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW

Irregularities Manifested, Though Conditions Are Favorable.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Bradstreet's today says: Though trends are running in a favorable direction, there is enough irregularity to divert the attention of uniformity. Over and beyond all is the fact that the larger centers of distribution continue to do remarkably well, this being most patent in cereal-producing regions that were favored by heavy crops. Comparatively few places can boast of good seasonal retail trade.

Money is easy, funds are returning from the interior in volume and western banks are liberal buyers of commercial paper. The stock market appears to have been heavily overbid, but most of the activity has been contributed by a few stocks.

Business failures for the week ending January 30 were 26, which compares with 12 in the like week of 1912. There were 26 failures in Canada.

Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending January 30 aggregate 5,376,934 bushels, against 2,157,490 bushels this week last year.

The jurors will make no report on the case before tomorrow morning.

M. Etienne, the present minister of war, wound up the debate by declaring that he would punish De Clam for repeating, in letters to the press, charges against his chiefs in the army immediately after the exceptional favor of reinstatement had been accorded him.

We herewith submit a broadside picture of the body of one of our wagons. Forty new wagons are being constructed to replace those recently destroyed by fire. Desirous of painting the new wagons in the most pleasing and distinctive manner we are at a loss to know what style to adopt and are offering these prizes to secure the idea of the public.

CONDITIONS You are to pay no heed to the design here shown—it is simply to show you the proportions and panels of the wagon box. Below will be found a list of Alamito products. It is hardly possible to paint all these names on the wagons and have it look well. However, some one may know a way and may win the $10.00 cash for submitting it. In sending your suggestion, use a clean sheet of paper upon which sketch your conception of the proper looking wagon for this concern to use. Tell us what words you would have painted upon the wagon—show any good trade mark idea you think would be well to carry out. Tell the color of paint you would have us use, and, last but not least, you must tell us your reason for thinking your design is the proper one to use. In short, just put yourself in our place and order these forty wagons painted as you think they should be. We want original ideas different from our present design.

As we explained, these products are merely listed here for your information. Use them or not in painting your wagon. Make the wagon pleasing in appearance and attractive, yet effective in stamping one's mind with remembrance of it after seeing it upon the street.
