CRAWFORD HITS INJUNCTIONS

South Dakota Senator Scores Present Federal Procedure.

Warns Senate to Take Heed

Says If Present Congress Does Not Act Next One Will, as Public is Exercised at Upholding of Rates by Courts.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(Special Telegram.)—A sharp protest against delay in the senate on the bill to restrict temporary injunctions by federal courts against state statutes and orders of state officials was made by Senator Crawford of South Dakota today. Disclaiming any intention of criticizing the senate judiciary committee, Senator Crawford warned the senate that they would have to recognize the growing public discontent over the situation as to federal injunctions.

He alluded to the message of the governor of South Dakota dealing with this evil, and stated that rate reductions in his state had been blocked by federal injunction. "I say to senators that if this congress refuses to consider a situation of this kind," said Senator Crawford, "you will simply leave it to the next congress, because whether it is a political question or not, I do not believe an American congress will permit this sort of practice." He declared further that extortionate lumber rates to the Black Hills were maintained by federal injunction against orders of the South Dakota railway commission against them, and that the injunctions were frequently communicated by wire so as to block proposed reductions. This, he declared, was a vicious practice demanding serious and immediate consideration.

BROWN SECURES SOME CASH

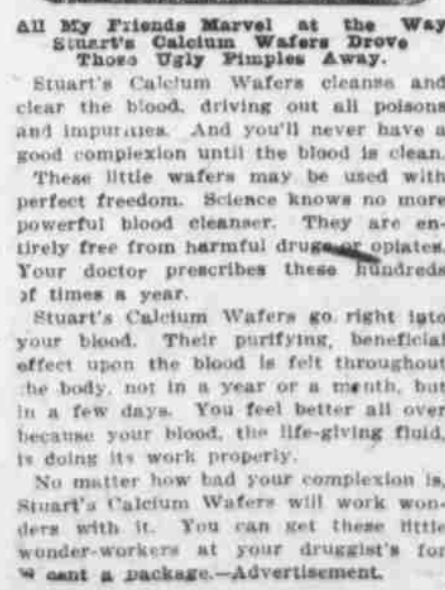

Indian Affairs Committee Favors Genoa Appropriation.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(Special Telegram.)—The senate committee on Indian affairs agreed to report favorably Senator Brown's amendments to the appropriation bill, one for $5,000 for a cottage at the Genoa school and one for $1,500 for the repairs of the Niobrara bridge at the government reservation. Senator Brown called on the president.

SLOAN SCORES MEAT CRITIC

Nebraska Congressman Defends Way Product is Sent Out.

Money for Cholera Fight

Secures Forty-Five Thousand Dollars in Bill to Aid States in Fighting Disease Prevailing Among Swine.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(Special Telegram.)—Representative Sloan made his debut as a full fledged member of the agricultural committee today in a speech bristling with facts and figures having relation to the appropriation to make demonstrations and otherwise aid the states in the eradication of hog cholera. This came in the form of an amendment to the agricultural bill now under consideration, growing out of a bill introduced by Mr. Sloan last August. While the appropriation of $45,000 was not as large as he had hoped for, he felt that it was an excellent beginning. During the program of the debate on the bill, Representative Fowler of Illinois, branded the American meats of commerce as filthy and unhealthy. Mr. Sloan took strong exception to this statement, declaring "American meats as prepared for commerce were generally carefully and scientifically inspected and presented clean and healthful to the consumers at home and abroad; and it came with exceeding bad grace from the gentleman from Illinois to slander the largest and most valuable production of our great agricultural industry, when the means for informing himself were immediately at hand in evidence taken before the committee of expenditures in the agricultural department." The statement brought rounds of applause from both sides of the chamber.

REGULATION OF POOL HALLS PURPOSE OF NEW BILL

PIERRE, S. D., Feb. 8.—(Special Telegram.)—To place pool halls in the same closing list as saloons is the purpose of house bill 287, which was introduced today, which fixes the hours in which pool halls may be opened for business from 6 o'clock in the morning to 9 o'clock in the evening and also places them under a lot of other restrictive regulations. The house killed the bill for an appropriation for the proposed state experimental farm at Vivian, and in its fight on that bill showed an indication of cutting out any further location of such farms in the state for the present. The bill limiting hours of labor of women and children to ten hours a day, called out another contest, in which strong opposition developed, but the bill went through with just enough votes to give it a majority of the house and none to spare. The senate today passed the senate resolution asking for a constitutional amendment to take the place of three boards now in existence for that purpose.

JOHN JONES "GOES BACK" UPON NOLEN ON STAND

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 8.—(Special Telegram.)—The deposition of Frank Moyer, a prisoner in the county jail at Omaha, was read today in the trial of Ernest Nolen, former Memphis detective, charged with aiding in an attempt to effect his brother's escape from the Omaha jail, and was substantiated on the stand today by John M. Jones, a friend of Nolen, whom the latter charged with "going back on him." Jones told of having seen the saws, pistols and dynamite smuggled into Nolen's cell from a window, where it was drawn up by a string. This work was done by a trusty. He explained a system of signals, when given, meant to stand opposite a jail window, lift their hats three times. That meant everything. "Diggs" Nolen was to reply by lighting a match twice. That meant he had received the saws.

BOARD OF TRADE MEMBERS FACING SERIOUS CHARGES

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Charges involving their business methods and their seats on the Board of Trade have been filed with officials of the board against Frank M. Bunch, former president of the organization, and Mark Bates. The accuser is John Hill, Jr. Officials of the board today refused to reveal the charges further than to admit that they alleged irregular dealings on the board. The filing of the charges caused a sensation in the grain trade because of the prominence of the men involved. Bunch and Bates gave out a signed statement in which they said they would welcome an investigation.

STRAP HANGERS IN CHICAGO NUMBER 100,000 EVERY DAY

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—It was learned today in connection with the introduction of a "no seat, no fare" ordinance, that 25,000,000 persons annually qualify as "strap hangers" in this city. This is at the rate of 100,000 a day. It is calculated the enforcement of such an ordinance would cost the street car company $1,500,000 a year.

WOMEN SELL APPLES TO HIT STORAGE TRUST

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Club women who recently conducted an egg sale went into the apple business today and it was announced tonight that about 30,000 barrels had been disposed of. The sale will continue tomorrow. The apples were on sale in about half the grocery stores of Chicago. No money was invested by the women, but they arranged the buying and selling prices and took orders for apples. All apples were sold at less than the price which has been asked for them by retail dealers in the last few weeks. Many apples are said to be in cold storage awaiting a rise in price and it was this condition which caused the women to start the sales.

Gambler Defends Action

Secretary Fisher at the request of Senator Gamble called the hearing for this afternoon and also at the request, invited Senator Crawford and Representative Burke and Martin to be present. Senator Gamble made a brief opening statement, pointing out upon a map of South Dakota, the location of Carter and saying it would be more convenient to the new land that will be opened to settlement than Gregory, and that Chamberlain had outlived its usefulness as a location for a land office. He denied the imputations against himself contained in the letter of Senator Crawford and said he had not been a candidate for the senate before the legislature. Crawford Renews Charges. Senator Crawford said there was nothing in the letter he desired to retract. He declared the Jackson Bros' whole scheme was a business game, and that Jackson Bros. were in cahoots with the Northwestern road. The movement is a conspiracy, the senator continued, to disregard the rights of the people who will be living there long after the promoters have "folded their tents like the Arabs" and silently stolen away. As to Carter, the senator said it contained a few stragglers, possibly ten people, including half breeds. It is located, he said, seventeen miles across the burning prairie from a railroad. Representative Burke said there was no foundation for the statements contained in Senator Crawford's letter. He knew the Jacksons were high class business men who had done a great deal toward developing the Rosebud country. Martin Not in It. Mr. Martin declared Senator Crawford's mention of his name in connection with this matter had been purely gratuitous. No one had talked with him about this land office. Senator Gamble, following Mr. Martin, said Senator Crawford had made an assertion, but had presented no facts. Senator Crawford retorted that he could furnish some interesting testimony if the secretary desired it. It was then that Secretary Fisher said there was no necessity for this, that even if what he had said in his letter were true, the department would not be deterred from locating a land office as near to the people as possible, regardless of whom it might benefit.

CRAWFORD AGAINST COLLEAGUE

Hearing in Secretary Fisher's Office Nearly Culminates in Free-for-All Flat Fight Over Charges Made.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(Special Telegram.)—A sensational hearing that came near to ending in a fist fight was held today in the office of Walter L. Fisher, secretary of the interior, Senator C. I. Crawford of South Dakota and his colleagues, Senator R. J. Gamble and Representatives Eben W. Martin and Charles H. Burke were the participants. Mr. Crawford made charges against Messrs. Gamble, Burke and Martin that aroused bitter feeling, and Secretary Fisher had a great deal of trouble in preventing the combatants from coming to blows. Ostensibly the row was provoked over a recommendation made by Senator Gamble that the Chamberlain and Gregory land districts be consolidated, and that the headquarters of the new district be located at Carter, S. D. Mr. Crawford charged that Senator Gamble was acting in the interests of the Northwestern railroad. The fight between Mr. Crawford on the one hand and Messrs. Gamble, Burke and Martin on the other grows out of the recent election of Dean Sterling as successor to Senator Gamble. Crawford charged that his colleagues attempted to defeat Sterling despite the fact that Sterling was the choice in the primary. Crawford in Fighting Mood. The scene in Secretary Fisher's office was almost riotous. Crawford denounced his colleagues in unmeasured terms, employing language at times that prompted Secretary Fisher to call for order. At that point Crawford halted at courtship. Secretary Fisher said he had been through these controversies before and was not altogether without experience in considering them; he understood how politics enters into them, and he said that about all he could say for the case before him was that it had lent interest to what otherwise might have been a very dull afternoon. As to acting in the name of the secretary said he first would find out definitely what the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company proposed to do in the way of extending its line to Carter. He did not think it would be wise to anticipate the building of the extension. He will learn definitely from the president of the road. Secretary Fisher said the more fact that some interest or some individual would be benefited by the location of the land office at a certain point Crawford halted at courtship. He said that at that point it was proper place for it. The hearing was the result of a letter written January 29 by Senator Crawford to Secretary Fisher in which the senator said he understood that the proposed location of the land office at Carter was a reward to the sons of Frank D. Jackson, former governor of Iowa, for an alleged attempt to defeat Dean Sterling for the United States senate, and that Senator Gamble and Representatives Burke and Martin would use in an effort to bring this about. Senator Crawford sent a copy of this letter to President Taft, saying, "I think you ought to know what the real influences are back of a scheme of this kind." In his communication to Secretary Fisher, Senator Crawford said he had received information regarding the proposed establishment of a new land office at Carter, and he considered it his duty to protest against the making of such an order. This was in view, he said, of the kind of influences which have been brought to bear in the matter. The interest of a few townsiepe boomers and the interest of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company have in this particular case been coupled with the political interest of my colleague, Mr. Gamble, a candidate for re-election to the senate. These interests have been united so closely in the matter as to put upon it a character which the department cannot afford to recognize and sanction."

Reno Quick Divorce is Doomed by Action of State Assembly

CARBON CITY, Nev., Feb. 8.—A bill to discourage divorce seekers from coming to Nevada, by extending the period of residence from six months to one year passed the assembly today by a vote of 27 to 24, one being absent. It is made effective January 1, 1914. It must go to the senate now and that body is said to favor its passage. An amendment to make the law effective December 31, 1914, was beaten, one vote including the speaker's ballot, being 28 to 25, one absent. Assemblyman Juan J. Shoor of Elko county was carried into the chamber from a sickbed to save the bill. The act passed by the assembly provides that jurisdiction will arise in a divorce case where both parties are bona fide residents of the state for six months, and if only one party, plaintiff or defendant, shall be a resident he must reside as a bona fide resident for one year. No change was made in the various grounds for divorce.

Chorus Girl Finds Rich Youth Stingy

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Ethel Lorraine Belmont, a chorus girl bride, filed suit here today asking a separation from her young husband, Raymond, son of August Belmont. She charges him with desertion and failure to provide for her maintenance. Fifty dollars given her during the honeymoon, she says, was all the provision he had made for her support. Young Mrs. Belmont says she married the millionaire's son in Jersey City, November 1, 1912. Her husband is now, she believes, on a hunting trip in Hampton, S. C.

Rogers Withdraws From Darrow Case

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—Earl Rogers, counsel for Clarence S. Darrow, the Chicago attorney, in his trial for jury fixing, withdrew from the case tonight after being confined to his bed all afternoon. He probably will go to a sanitarium. Rogers was warned by physicians that he must withdraw from the case on peril of his life, but he insisted on appearing in court today. His condition at noon recess amounted to collapse and Darrow insisted that he withdraw. Darrow still has two lawyers defending him.

Telephone Wires Cut in Suffragettes' Campaign

TAMMANY NAMED IN GRAFT

Rosenthal's Former Partner Tells More About Protection. PURCELL TAKES UP NARRATIVE. Fifteen Thousand Dollars Paid by Him in Seventeen Years—Payments Are Made to Murphy's Brother-in-Law. NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Herman Rosenthal's one-time partner in gambling picked up the broken threads of Rosenthal's story today and told the aldermanic committee investigating graft a tale of money paid for police protection culminating that of Jack Rose, Charles Becker's collector. For seventeen years, James Purcell said, he had paid for the privilege of running a gambling house, making a hand book or conducting a pool room. In all he gave the police more than $50,000, he declared, in this period. Former Sheriff Harvey of Queens county, Police Inspector McLaughlin, half a dozen police captains, including a brother-in-law of Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, and scores of ward heelers and policemen, some now on the force, others off, were among the men who got the money, he said. Once, he said, orders came "indirectly" from Murphy himself to close up. Charles Becker, now in the death house at Sing Sing for the murder of Rosenthal, got $50 from him for "fixing" the evidence against him and five others taken in a raid Becker made on his gambling house, Purcell declared. Becker was then head of the "strong arm" squad for the suppression of gambling. One Honest Police Officer. "I have paid money to every squad that was ever detailed from headquarters to suppress gambling, except one," Purcell testified. "They all took it, except closed up at once."

Dr. Arnold Lorand

Physician to the Baths, Carlsbad, Austria, In his recently published book, "Health Through Rational Diet," from the press of the F. A. Davis Co., Philadelphia, says: As a breakfast food another variety of the healthful cereals which are much used in America would be advantageous. Grape-Nuts, in which the floury substance has been dexternized by long baking and thus rendered digestible and easy of assimilation, is eaten with cream and would be a useful addition to our usual breakfast. The recommendation of this eminent European authority to the wealthiest health seekers in the world (those who frequent the famous baths of Carlsbad) is especially interesting to Americans.

Grape-Nuts

is sold at grocers almost everywhere in America for 15c the pkg. While Grape-Nuts may be a "health luxury" in Europe, this sturdy health-giving food is within the reach of practically every American at trifling cost. In thousands of families Grape-Nuts and cream is the regular breakfast dish of wide-awake, go-ahead people. Rich in the brain-making, body-building elements of prime wheat and malted barley, this food has won for itself at home and abroad the title of "The King of Breakfast Foods."
