

SUFFRAGE IS SURE TO COME

So Declares Dr. Anna Shaw in Talking Politics.

WILL BE IN PARTY PLATFORMS

Dr. Shaw Will Speak at a Mass Meeting at Brandeis Theater Sunday Afternoon at Three O'clock.

"There is not a particle of doubt but that the democrats will write a woman suffrage plank in their national platform during the next presidential campaign, and I believe the republicans will do it also as the progressives have already done," said Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, in her address to the women of the second Congressional district in the Young Women's Christian association auditorium.

Work is Necessary. About seventy women assembled to hear the national president of the woman suffrage association in her address in the Young Women's Christian association auditorium. Mrs. Draper Smith, president of the state association, presided.

Dr. Shaw urged the women to drop everything for the suffrage cause. "You can afford to drop your club work, your entertainments, your theaters, and your fashions for a while, except that you will have to dress neatly and respectably, or you will do the cause no good."

Local Ice Harvest is About Complete

The local ice harvest is practically over and a normal crop of excellent quality has been stored. The Armour company will not finish before the last of next week and to hurry the cutting along, Sunday the Burlington will haul a special train of 30 men out to Memphis, where they will go to work.

OLD FRACTURE YIELDS AS BOY JUMPS FROM WALL

WHAT'S BECOME OF 'EM

Rev. John A. Henderson, for several years pastor of the Park Avenue United Presbyterian church, is now pastor of a prosperous congregation near Dayton, O.

W. H. "Bully" Brill, the Illinois Central's main passenger man in this field, has a bigger job with the same company in New Orleans, whither he went from his old stamping grounds at St. Louis, to which he was promoted from Omaha.

John O'Hearn, an old Omaha boy, who used to be with Charles Hanley on South Tenth street and later with the Bennett company, is running a large clothing store at Riverton, Wyo.

Frank Putnam is a successful practicing physician in South Dakota.

Claude Robertson, star foot ball player on the '08 high school team and later at the University of Nebraska, has the Indiana state selling agency for several lines of pressed brick.

W. E. Edmiston left The Bee to purchase the Chesapeake Leader, which he built up and sold at a profit. At present he lives in Denver and publishes the Transmissourian Farmer.

TIMELY REAL ESTATE GOSSIP

Very Little "Shop" is Being Talked by Omaha Real Estate Dealers. WAIT FOR BETTER WEATHER. Cold Weather is Putting Crimp in Number of Sales and Buyers. Refuse to Get Out in Cold. Cold weather seems to have had a bad effect upon the real estate market. Since the temperature dropped a month ago the number of real estate transfers has materially decreased and realty dealers and property owners are looking forward to a warmer period for business to return.

but the number of transfers of lots probably is more in evidence. Naturally there is a reason for this and probably there is no better reason than that lots must be shown to prospective buyers and prospective buyers cannot be induced to go out in the cold to look at them.

Llewellyn Sheets of Carson, Ia., has bought for an investment the three nine-room flats at 233-35 Pacific street, and will move to Omaha soon. The purchase was made through the Payne Investment company. D. J. Stafford has bought for an investment a quarter section of farm land in Pottawattamie county. He paid $25,000 for it through the Payne Investment company. Charles W. Martin & Co has had an unusually busy week in small property transactions. A list of deals negotiated includes the following: Ernest F. Gallup, house at 530 Florence boulevard, for a home, $5,000. Glenn P. Pratt, lot on Ogden street, in Newton addition, $750. T. C. Rich, lot in Mile-Crest addition, upon which he will build a home in the spring, $1,500. D. W. Arnold, lot in Mile-Crest addition, on which he will build a home, $1,000. E. G. Davis, bungalow at 234 Sprague street, for a home, $600. F. A. Pratt, lot in Mile-Crest addition, on which he will build a home, $600. B. C. Littlefield, two lots at Twenty-eighth street and Ellison avenue, $1,100. Dwight F. Pratt, lot on Twenty-fourth street and Ellison avenue, $500. S. T. Green, bungalow on Evans street, in Kountze place, $2,800. F. H. Bryant, two lots at Forty-first and Ames avenue, $750. J. O. Steiner, lot on Evans street, in Kountze place, $1,100.

County Board Will Reject Most of the Claims for Extras

Not more than about $5,000 of Caldwell & Drake's $12,000 claim for "extras" in construction of the new county building will be allowed by the Board of County Commissioners. The board spent two hours considering the several items of the claim. While no final action was taken, the board decided that most of the items will be rejected, among them one for $4,000 for damage caused by the dynamiting of the building. Another item scheduled for rejection is one of $800 for extra cement used in foundation mortar, the contractors using twice as much cement as was called for by the specifications.

SALOON KEEPER SUED FOR RUINING HUSBAND

For the alleged ruination of their home by making a drunkard of their husband and father, Mrs. Dick Kimball and Marguerite Kimball have started suit for $15,000 against Otto Kahler, proprietor of a saloon at 64 North Sixteenth street, and the Illinois Surety company, his surety. It is alleged that Kimball, an expressman, was a hard working man, a faithful and loving husband and father until November, 1911, when he began to patronize the saloon; it is alleged that the defendant Kahler continued to sell the man liquor after Mrs. Kimball in writing had ordered him to sell no more liquor to her husband. Kimball now squanders his earnings and his property. It is charged.

RETAILERS WILL DISCUSS BETTER DEPOT FACILITIES

The Retailers of Omaha will meet Thursday evening at the Paxton hotel at 8:30, when the needs of Omaha for better depot facilities will be discussed. The speakers for the evening will be Mayor Dahlgren, Mayor Maloney of Council Bluffs, Victor Rosewater, General E. P. Test, Joseph Polcar and B. R. Hastings.
