MADERO IS REPORTED MISSING

One Statement Says He Has Fled to East Coast and Another that He Has Agreed to Resign.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 10. 1913. A. M.—General Angeles, Blanquet and Huerta with a force of government troops almost equal to that of the rebel body commanded by General Diaz, are planning to begin a bombardment of the arsenal in which the rebel leader has entrenched himself, at any moment. The loyal forces of President Madero have three or four cannon.

A force of rebels, followers of General Zapata, today entered Tlaxcala, a suburb seven miles south of the capital. The insurgents are maintaining reasonable order. They say they are subject to the orders of General Felix Diaz.

The night passed quietly in Mexico City and this morning saw no resumption of the fighting that yesterday resulted in the supposed flight of President Madero and the success of General Felix Diaz, the rebel leader.

The general situation remained much as it was last night, when the rebellious army practically seized the city after street fighting before the national palace that resulted in the death of General Bernardo Reyes and some 200 people.

Report of Madero's Flight.

The populace did not know early today whether President Madero had fled from the capital. With a following of loyal troops, said to number 1,000, he took refuge in the national palace yesterday, but it was reported at daylight that under cover of night he had fled toward the eastern coast, taking his family with him. It was also reported that all of the members of his cabinet had resigned.

The report of his flight was given credence, although it was without confirmation. His decision to flee the capital, it was said, was due to General Blanquet's refusal to stand by him. General Blanquet arrived last night with a small portion of his forces, supposedly loyal to Madero, but he refused to fight against General Felix Diaz. Since the arrival of Blanquet's force, the bridges between the capital and Toluca have been burned.

American Embassy Guarded.

The United States embassy was guarded during the night by a force of twenty American soldiers selected by General C. P. Agronome, formerly of the United States army, and commanded by R. M. Houlet, a steamship traffic agent. Others included in the guard were C. W. Fish and W. F. Eaton, United States consuls, and the national guard, respectively, of the National railway.

Reports regarding the advance of the Zapata rebels from the south continued during the night. There was also to more alarming report that the troops in Monterey had revolted, headed by General Trevino. As the telegraph line is in control of the government there is no way of confirming the report.

The killing of General Bernardo Reyes, former minister of war, in yesterday's fighting had a tragic sequel in the suicide of his son Rodolfo. The younger Reyes shot himself through the head because of grief over his father's death.

One American Injured.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Secretary Knox, at the end of today's special cabinet meeting, said it had been decided to hold the cruiser Denver at Acapulco, Mexico, instead of sending her to Salvador, as has been planned. Other naval movements were discussed, the secretary said, but none decided upon.

One American is known to have been injured in yesterday's clash. American Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson at the first sign of trouble took prompt action to safeguard the lives of Americans and other foreigners. As dean of the diplomatic corps in Mexico, he called at all foreign representatives into a conference at the embassy and demanded from the Madero government specific assurance that adequate protection be extended to all foreigners in the capital. Ambassador Wilson made the same demand on Felix Diaz.

At Mr. Wilson's direction, Montgomery Schuyler, secretary of the embassy, made a tour of the city by automobile. Immediately after the conflict between Diaz and Madero forces in front of the national palace, he reported bodies of the dead and dying uncares for on the broad expanse of the plaza.

Ambassador Wilson's telegram confirms the earlier dispatch of the control of the Mexican capital by the Diaz forces and the rapid sequence of events which followed the release of General Diaz and General Reyes from federal prisons.

Assurances from Consul Edwards at Tlaxcala that conditions are quiet in that city.

Clark Scolds House for Slow Work on Appropriation Bills

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Speaker Champ Clark shook his gavel at the members of the house today and told them they must get down to business in the few remaining days of the session.

When the house went into session there were less than a dozen members on the floor.

"The chair does not believe," he said, "that members realize the serious conditions of things in the house. We are near the end of the session and there are still half of the appropriations bills on the hook. The chair does not want to see those bills go over to the extraordinary session and does not believe the members do. The chair does not want to set himself up as boss, but the only way for us to get this work done is for members to stay in their places on the floor of the house."

Mrs. Cleveland and Prof. Preston Are Quietly Married

PRINCETON, Feb. 10.—Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Thomas Joseph Preston, Jr., were married at 10:30 o'clock this morning by President John Grier Hibben of Princeton university, in Prospect, the executive residence of the university. No preliminary announcement had been made and the utmost simplicity was observed in the ceremony.

Because of the recent illness of Mrs. Preston, the wedding was private, and the other guests in addition to the members of the two immediate families being President and Mrs. Hibben, Miss Elizabeth Hibben and Andrew F. West, dean of Princeton's graduate school.

The bride wore a simple white silk gown and carried a bouquet of white hollyhock roses.

The wedding breakfast was served at Prospect immediately after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Preston will spend the remainder of the winter in Florida.

No announcement cards were sent out.

Harvester Combine Divides Itself Into Two Corporations

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 10.—The International Harvester company filed with the secretary of state today a certificate reducing the capital of the company from $10,000,000 to $7,000,000 and changing the name of the corporation to that of the International Harvester company of New Jersey.

The certificate was filed as a result of action taken by the directors of the company in Hoboken today. The reduction of capital of the International Harvester company is part of the plan for the division of the company into two corporations, the International Harvester company of New Jersey, incorporated today, and the International Harvester company, incorporated here January 21 last, with a capital of $7,000,000.

MOB STONES KATSURA IN STREETS OF TOKIO

Violent Demonstration Against Government Follows Resignation of Premier

RIOTING LASTS EN

Street Cars and Police Stations Are Burned.

NEWSPAPER OFFICES ATTACKED

Mob is Repulsed by Gendarmes with Drawn Swords.

MAY DECLARE STATE OF SIEGE

Emperor Sends for Marquis Saito, Leader of Constitutionalists, and Asks Him to Form Ministry.

TOKIO, Feb. 10.—There was serious rioting in the streets here today. The mob wrecked a number of police stations and burned many street cars. The emperor declared that in the event of any further attempts at incendiaryism he would declare a state of siege in Tokio.

The night's rioting came as the sequel of disorders following the resignation of Premier Katsura and his cabinet.

As the premier was returning from his visit to the emperor he was stoned and slightly injured. The mob then turned to assaults on newspaper offices. Several policemen and civilians were badly injured.

Finally, late in the day, one of the mob leaders was killed. The crowd, infuriated by this, raided petroleum stores, soaked bundles of straw in oil, lighted them and threw them into the offices of the newspapers.

The police and gendarmes drew their swords, charged the mob and dispersed it, wounding several people in doing so. Military patrols were placed on duty in the streets.

The mob then scattered over various districts and wrecked several police stations. A mass meeting in Hibuya park, near the Parliament building, ended when the mob burned some street cars.

Marquis Kimochi Saito, former premier and now leader of the constitutional party, was summoned to the palace by his majesty immediately after the receipt of Katsura's resignation.

The cabinet's action is the result of the firm attitude of the constitutionalists and liberals in the Diet, who refused to follow the example of Saito in withdrawal of the recent vote of lack of confidence in the government. The cabinet's only step to meet this opposition was an immediate dissolution of the Diet, but the minister of marine, Admiral Baron Minoro Saito, refused to sign the recommendation for this action and the resignation of the cabinet became imperative.

Darrow's Assistant Says He Talked of Reaching Jurors

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—John R. Harrington, a Chicago attorney associated with Clarence S. Darrow in the defense of the McNamara brothers, was called to stand today to testify against the former chief counsel in the latter's second trial for alleged jury bribery.

Harrington's direct testimony was brief. He said that just before the trial of James B. McNamara was begun he and Darrow had discussed "reaching jurors in the case."

"Darrow produced $10,000," Harrington testified, "and said if he could arrange to reach a couple of jurors James B. McNamara would be convicted."

Three Murderers Die in Electric Chair

OSHSING, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Three murderers were put to death in the electric chair in Sing Sing prison this morning. Each, as he passed from the cell house to the death chamber, called back a cheerful farewell to those who remained awaiting their end.

The first man to die was Joseph Garfalo, a huge Italian, who killed his wife because she threatened to divorce him. George Bishop, a negro, small and frail, was the second to take the chair. His crime was the murder of a white woman, Mrs. Margaret Bell, in Brooklyn. Donato Cardillo, the last to die, was convicted of killing Stephen H. Dickson, whose body was found in a brook near Sing Sing prison.

Glover Says He Was Misquoted

LEAD, S. D., Feb. 10.—When told today that his attorneys were surprised that he "had repudiated his agreement to end the litigation" in the famous contest over the will of his late mother, Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, George W. Glover, of this city appeared to have a change of heart. He denied that he said he would continue the suit at all hazards and said today:

"I was not sure and was waiting for word from the east. If the case is satisfactorily settled, I shall do no more. I have instructed my attorneys that it is entirely in their hands. I was misquoted."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Senator Crawford of South Dakota today introduced a bill to restrict the issuance of injunctions which suspend the enforcement of a statute of a state.

According to the Crawford bill no injunction of that nature could be issued by any court of the United States or by any judge or justice until the application for the injunction is presented to a justice of the supreme court of the United States or to a circuit or district judge.

The application for the injunction will be heard and determined upon by a commission of three justices, one of whom will be a justice of the supreme court. A majority would decide.

Temporary restraining orders could be issued, according to the bill, when it had been shown by an applicant for an injunction that he would suffer irreparable loss by the enforcement of a state's law.

WELLS MAKES STATEMENT

Denies that She Has Business Connection with Hornby.

SAYS HEMISUED HER LETTER

Did Not Intend that It Should Be Presented as a Recommendation for His Alleged Cancer Cure.

Dr. Myra A. Wells denies that she has, or had, at any time, any business connection, whatever, with "Doctor" Hornby.

"I have my own office," she says, "occupied exclusively by myself, and have no business connection with anyone. Surgical patients have been sent to me by Dr. Hornby and others, and I have performed operations upon these patients—in almost every instance successful and a benefit to the patient."

The letter published in The Bee was obtained from me by Dr. Hornby, upon the representations that he wished to use it only for the purpose of assuring his patients that he had a competent surgeon to perform the operation, if one was required. He obtained this letter with the distinct understanding that it was to be used for no other purpose.

The first knowledge I had that the letter had been used for publication, was when the matter was called to my attention by the article in The Bee. I simply performed surgical operations upon patients that were referred to me by others, as well as Dr. Hornby, and in the same legitimate manner that all other reputable Omaha surgeons do. I make my own charge for all operations performed by me, and retain the entire amount received by me in all cases."

GUNBOAT VICKSBURG RAMMED BY NAVAL TUG

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 10.—The gunboat Vicksburg, lying at the navy yard, was rammed today by the naval tug Fortune, which was towing a water barge. The steel prow of the tug cut a gash in the starboard quarter of the Vicksburg, which began to fill and was beached to keep it from going down. The Vicksburg, an old boat, was recently ordered turned over to the naval militia.

FIGHT MORTGAGE TAX REPEAL

Many Interested in Money Matters Appear Before Legislature to Oppose Action Contemplated—Senate Does Some Work.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 10.—(Special.)—Now that some of the members of the legislature, at least, realize that it will be impossible carefully to consider all of the more than 1,300 bills now pending unless the session is at least well into the summer, several propositions are being considered to get rid of the bulk of the trouble.

Some one has suggested that each member select his most important bills, or the ones he is most interested in, up to four or five, and then agree that the others be indefinitely postponed. If each member would select five favorites for consideration this would still leave 600 bills in the house and 185 in the senate, which would require some time for consideration.

This talk among the members is of some importance at this time because many are beginning to worry over the final day of adjournment. Several have their fill of being statesmen already.

The only definite action so far taken by the claims committee is the approval of the claims for publishing the proposed constitutional amendments voted last November. This morning this committee received another claim for $2,070, filed by Herman Holtz of Fremont. Mr. Holtz says in his statement that he had sixty-four blooded hogs treated with hog cholera serum sent out by the state. Of the number treated on orders of the state veterinarian, thirty died and thirty-four have not yet recovered. Twenty-nine other blooded hogs on his farm were not treated and are still well and strong. He charges, and says the deputy veterinarian agrees with him, that the serum was defective and poisonous and caused his loss. He wants the state to reimburse him.

OPPOSE MORTGAGE TAX REPEAL

Measure to Kill Smith Act Meets Many Objections.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Feb. 10.—(Special Telegram.)—That the bill introduced in the house to repeal the Smith mortgage tax law is meeting with considerable opposition was evidenced today when at their monthly lunch of the Tax Reform club of Lincoln that and other measures before the legislature touching upon taxation was discussed.

Among the men who were present were Representative Mackay of Lancaster county, Representatives Hatfield and Zimmer of the same county, Walter Locke and A. L. Bixby of the State Journal, Judge Corrish of the district court, Frank Odell of the rural life commission, R. L. Metcalfe of the Commoner and several university professors.

The bill to repeal the present mortgage tax law took up most of the time of the discussion and was opposed by nearly all present. Mr. Hatfield said that since the Smith law had been in effect the percentage of local money loaned in Lancaster county had increased over that of foreign capital, about 84 per cent now being placed on Lancaster county farms being Nebraska money.

A bill repealing the law was killed in committee of the whole in the senate by practically a unanimous vote, but over in the house it met with more favorable consideration and has been engrossed for third reading.

SENATE GRINDER AT WORK

Forty Per Cent of Measures There Disposed of.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Feb. 10.—(Special.)—Of the 467 bills which passed into the senate hopper in the twenty days allotted for introduction of measures supposedly beneficial to the state, 49 per cent have already been disposed of either by passage or indefinite postponement. Of these twenty-nine have successfully gone the route and now await action by the house and governor. Nine were killed by the committees to which they were referred and two met an untimely death in committee of the whole.

Ninety-three bills have been reported from the committees, forty-nine have successfully stood the scrutiny of the same committees and twenty-nine have been passed to third reading.

Three house rolls have gone through the senate like greased lightning, these being two appropriation bills and the other the report of the committee appointed to recodify the statutes.

FORMER NEWSPAPER MAN IS DEAD AT BOONE

BOONE, Ia., Feb. 10.—(Special.)—The body of Robert Keighton, a former well known Iowa newspaper man, who died in this city two days ago, was buried yesterday and his funeral was simple and unostentatious. Keighton never had much use for show and display and shortly before his death told his aunt, Mrs. Henry Kelly, that he wanted no flowers, no music and no sermon. "You can have a minister pray and read a scripture passage, but that is all," he told her. And his wishes were carried out to the letter. His death, while caused by tuberculosis, was hurried by an attack by a negro thug, three months ago. Keighton was learning to check cars at the Northwestern yards in the eastern part of the city, and was en route to his work one morning about 6 o'clock when a negro jumped and grabbed him by the throat and nearly choked him to death. From then on his decline was rapid.

His mother is a wealthy woman of Binghamton, N. Y.

Does Not Want State Job at Hands of Governor.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Feb. 9.—(Special.)—Colonel M. A. Bates of Plattsmouth was here today to pay his respects to the governor, who, however, was out of town.

"I am the only democrat so far as I know who has not asked the governor for an office, or in the least interfered with him. For fifty years I have been in the newspaper business and never have I asked for an appointment until right now. I do want to be postmaster at my home town."

Colonel Bates has letters from Senator Hitchcock and Congressman Maguire.
