A Protest.

OMAHA, Feb. 28.-To the Editor of The Ree: In all candor and earnestness I wish to enter my solemn protest and vigorous condemnation against the practice that is becoming so prevalent of late among our city, county and state offictals of increasing beyond reason the expenses of their respective offices and using the power given them by the people to advance their own interests and personal welfare at the expense of the taxpayers, who are atready overburdened and weighed down by the unbusinesslike and wanton extravagance of those who have been placed in charge of gublic offices and of whom we have a right to expect a just and economical administration of their offices. The democratic officials of our city were elected to office on the promise that the city would be administered on an economical basis and that no unnecessary expense would be incurred by them. They promised to be 'on the square" with the people and to lighten and keep down taxes and all other expenses to the lowest possible point.
