

FRANK BEST IS A PEEVED MAN

His Residence Telephone Number Appears Out of Place.

SOME PRINTER IS TO BLAME

Friends Wishing to Call His Home Phone Number Seem to Be Unable to Locate His Name.

County Commissioner Frank C. Best is "mad" at the Nebraska Telephone company. He declared to friends that the company will have a hard time collecting his next telephone bill. When Best refuses to pay the company probably will get "mad" at the house that made the last telephone directory, the printing house will get "mad" at some foreman, and the foreman will get "mad" at some "make up" man and at some proof reader. Here is what aroused Mr. Best's ire. His residence telephone number in the latest directory appears out of its proper alphabetical place. His office number appears properly, below the name Best and above the name of H. Best. His residence telephone number appears below the name Bertolini. The residence number appears near the foot of one page of the directory and the business number near the top of the succeeding page. There are fifteen names and numbers between Best's two names and numbers. One of these numbers is for an interior private branch exchange, which occupies five lines in the directory. Best says many persons have told him they wanted to telephone to him at his residence, but could not find his residence number in the directory.

Hungewell Wins Waterloo Cup. LIVESTOCK. Feb. 21.—The Waterloo cup, the "Greyhound Derby," was run off today at Altcar and won by Hungewell, a brindle dog, with Hildes, a puppy, second. Neither of them had been considered promising and the favorite was 1,000 to 50 against Hungewell and 2,000 to 30 against Hildes. The Waterloo cup is the annual sporting contest in which sixty-four greyhounds compete for a stake of $500.

WORKING FOR OMAHA ROUTE

Chairman of Central Highway Says He Will Boost for This City.

TWO OTHER ROADS CONSIDERED

Three Condit Highways Are in the Race, but the Central Trail Through Omaha Is Considered Best.

W. F. Coan, joint chairman of the Iowa and Illinois divisions of the Central Transcontinental National highway, while in Omaha yesterday, announced that he will work for the promotion and maintenance of the road which joins coast to coast through Omaha.

H. E. Fredrickson has been appointed division and field secretary west of the Missouri river to work with the officers of the Iowa-Illinois division. W. C. Pollock of Des Moines, Ia., will be field secretary of the division east of the Missouri river. S. E. Bradt of De Kalb, Ill., is the treasurer and D. W. Norris, Jr., of Marshalltown, Ia., publicity manager of the organization.

W. F. Coan says the intention of the organization is to get the state divisions organized and later combine them to compete with the southern transcontinental route and the northern route for the approval of the government board, which will advise the national government on the most feasible cross continent highway.

The central transcontinental highway, he says, will be the most feasible route, following parallel to the New York Central and the Northwestern and the Union Pacific railroads. The organization now forming will work for the establishment of the central highway through the various state divisions that it may be in condition when the government board makes its investigation to merit the board's approval.
